TAFT'S BIG STICK HITS THE TARIFF; MUST CUT RATES.

First Statement from White House Is a Blow to the Pleaders for Privilege.

PROMISES SHALL BE KEPT.

Tells Republicans He Is President of Whole People and Demands Revision Downward.

FOR FREE OIL, ORE, AND HIDES.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., July 16.—[Special.]—President Taft clarified the tariff situation today by issuing his first formal statement on the subject.

It will gratify the people to know that the president has heard their call. He is emphatically in favor of the principle of a downward revision, which he says he promised during the campaign. While not committed to the principle of free raw materials generally, he must be shown why iron ore, oil, coal, and hides should not be placed upon the free list.

The president was moved to make his statement by the need which has arisen for dispelling all doubt as to his attitude. He had been told that the conferees could not concede the numerous reductions he had demanded because of threats made by members of the senate and the house that they never would vote for a bill which failed to protect interests involving the livelihood of thousands of their constituents.

As Mr. Taft said, he, as leader of the Republican party and president of all the people, naturally has a broader view of the situation in the whole country than has any single member of congress. It is his hope that as a result of the explanation of his attitude he will remove opposition and enable all the Republicans to support the kind of a bill he seeks.

Statement from White House.

The statement of the president, made after a conference with twenty-two Republican and one Democratic representative who demanded a high protective tariff, follows:

"Mr. Young of Michigan opposed free ore, Mr. Mondell opposed free coal or reciprocity with Canada and free hides, each on the ground that the policy would injure the interests in his state, and a discussion was participated in by other representatives, who urged that the doctrine of free raw materials was not a Republican doctrine.

"The president replied that he was not committed to the principle of free raw material, but that he was committed to the principle of a downward revision of the tariff, which he had promised, and that he was obliged to look at the matter not from the standpoint of any particular district but from the standpoint of the whole country and also from the standpoint of responsibility for the entire Republican party.

"He said the question in each case was a question of fact, to be determined by evidence, as to whether the present duty was needed for protection or whether the rate was excessive so that a downward revision, or putting the article on the free list, would not injure the industry.

Taft Defines the Issues.

"The president repeated the platform of the Republican party and said that he always had understood that it meant a downward revision in many instances, although, perhaps, in some few instances an increase might be needed; that he reached this construction of the platform on what he understood to be the principle of protection and its justification—namely: that after an industry was protected by a duty equal to the difference between the cost of production abroad and the cost of production in this country, including a fair profit to the manufacturer, the energy and enterprise of American business men and capitalists, the effectiveness of American labor, and the ingenuity of American inventors under the impulse of competition behind the tariff wall would reduce the cost of production, and that, with the reduction of the cost of production, the tariff rate would become unnecessarily high and ought to be reduced.

Normal Operation of Tariff.

"This was the normal operation of the tariff as claimed by the defenders of the protective system—not in every case but as a general rule—that of course a revision of the tariff would not be perfect, must have de-

COL. SNELL INSANE; SON WINS WEALTH

Grandniece's Salacious Letters Prove Failure; One Woman Used Daughter as Bait.

Clinton, Ill., July 16.—[Special.]—The third contest over the will of Col. Thomas Snell, the eccentric old man who died leaving an estate of $2,000,000 and cutting his only son off with an annuity of $50, was ended today when a jury decided that Col. Snell was insane at the time he made the will.

This decision sets aside the bequest of several thousand dollars to Mabelle Snell McNamara, the aged colonel's affinity.

The jury was out a little more than an hour and took but one ballot, which resulted eleven to one for the contesting son, Richard Snell. The dissenting juror changed his vote without the formality of a second ballot.

The first trial of the contest resulted in a verdict that Col. Snell was insane, but a higher court set aside the verdict and remanded the case for another trial.

Heirs Allowed $5,000 a Year.

If the will had stood the legal heirs would have received, all told, annuities aggregating $5,000, and not exceeding $1,000 in any single case, while the residue of the fortune would have been held in a weird trust agreement for heirs yet unborn.

On the date set for a final distribution, in the terms of the will, the estate would have grown probably to $100,000,000.

Just before 6 o'clock this evening the instructions were given to the jury. The proponents had thirty and the contestants eleven. Two special interrogatives were given the jury, and on these being answered affirmatively the contestants based their hopes.

Horrible Depravity Exposed.

The Snell will case will go down in American court annals as furnishing one of the most amazing instances of the depths to which women have descended to gain money.

The most sensational feature of all three hearings of the case was the introduction of letters from nearly a score of women, young and old, all of whom professed to love the aged millionaire madly.

To cater to a degenerate tendency which appeared to be one of Col. Snell's senile vagaries, the women interlarded their letters with unprintable obscenities. The more vulgar the tone of the letters the better pleased the old man appeared to be, and it was found when the letters were exposed that he had formed the habit of marking them with his impressions.

Women All Greedy for Gold.

Scarcely a letter was written to the doting old man by any of the women which did not demand gifts and money.

One of the most pitiful instances of the respect-destroying glamour which Col. Snell's wealth seemed to shed over women who thought they might separate him from some of it was furnished by a pastor named John A. Hamilton, who connived with his wife to use their 15 year old daughter, Eelna Hamilton, as a bait to lure gold from the aged millionaire.

Col. Snell had been a friend of the Hamilton family from Eelna's babyhood, and she was a well grown girl when her parents noticed the change that had come over the old man and his insane fondness for the adulation of women and young girls.

Use Schoolgirl as "Bait"

Mrs. Hamilton then made open love to him, apparently with the knowledge and approval of her husband. The latter would write friendly letters to the aged colonel and on the backs of these missives his wife would write burning massages of love, urging him to visit them and promising that she and Eelna would "show him a good time."

Later Eelna's parents had the girl write the old man loving, girlish letters, which appeared to have been dictated by an older head than hers. As a result of this playing on Col. Snell's susceptibilities the Hamiltons succeeded in getting from him several thousand dollars, $1,000 of which was to have been used as the first payment of a home the minister wished to buy.

After the exposure of their angling for part of the Snell millions the Hamiltons fled from Illinois and took refuge in Biloxi, Miss., where they were located and persuaded to admit Eelna's part in the quest for gold.

MORMON'S TRICK CLUB WOMEN; PRESIDENT'S SPEECH ANGERS.

Joseph Smith, Husband of Five Wives, Addresses Visiting Delegation and Gentile Contingent Is Up in Arms.

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 16.—[Special.]—Because Joseph F. Smith, president of the Mormon church and husband of five wives, was invited to address the visiting Club Women of the World, returning from their meeting at Toronto, many Salt Lake club women who had taken a big part in the preparations for their entertainment refused to attend the banquet tonight at the Saltair beach. The affair was given prominence in an afternoon paper and has created a sensation, as the gentile women announced they could not afford to sit at a table with the leader of polygamy and would stay away to show the world that the Christian women of Utah do not countenance this "social ulcer."

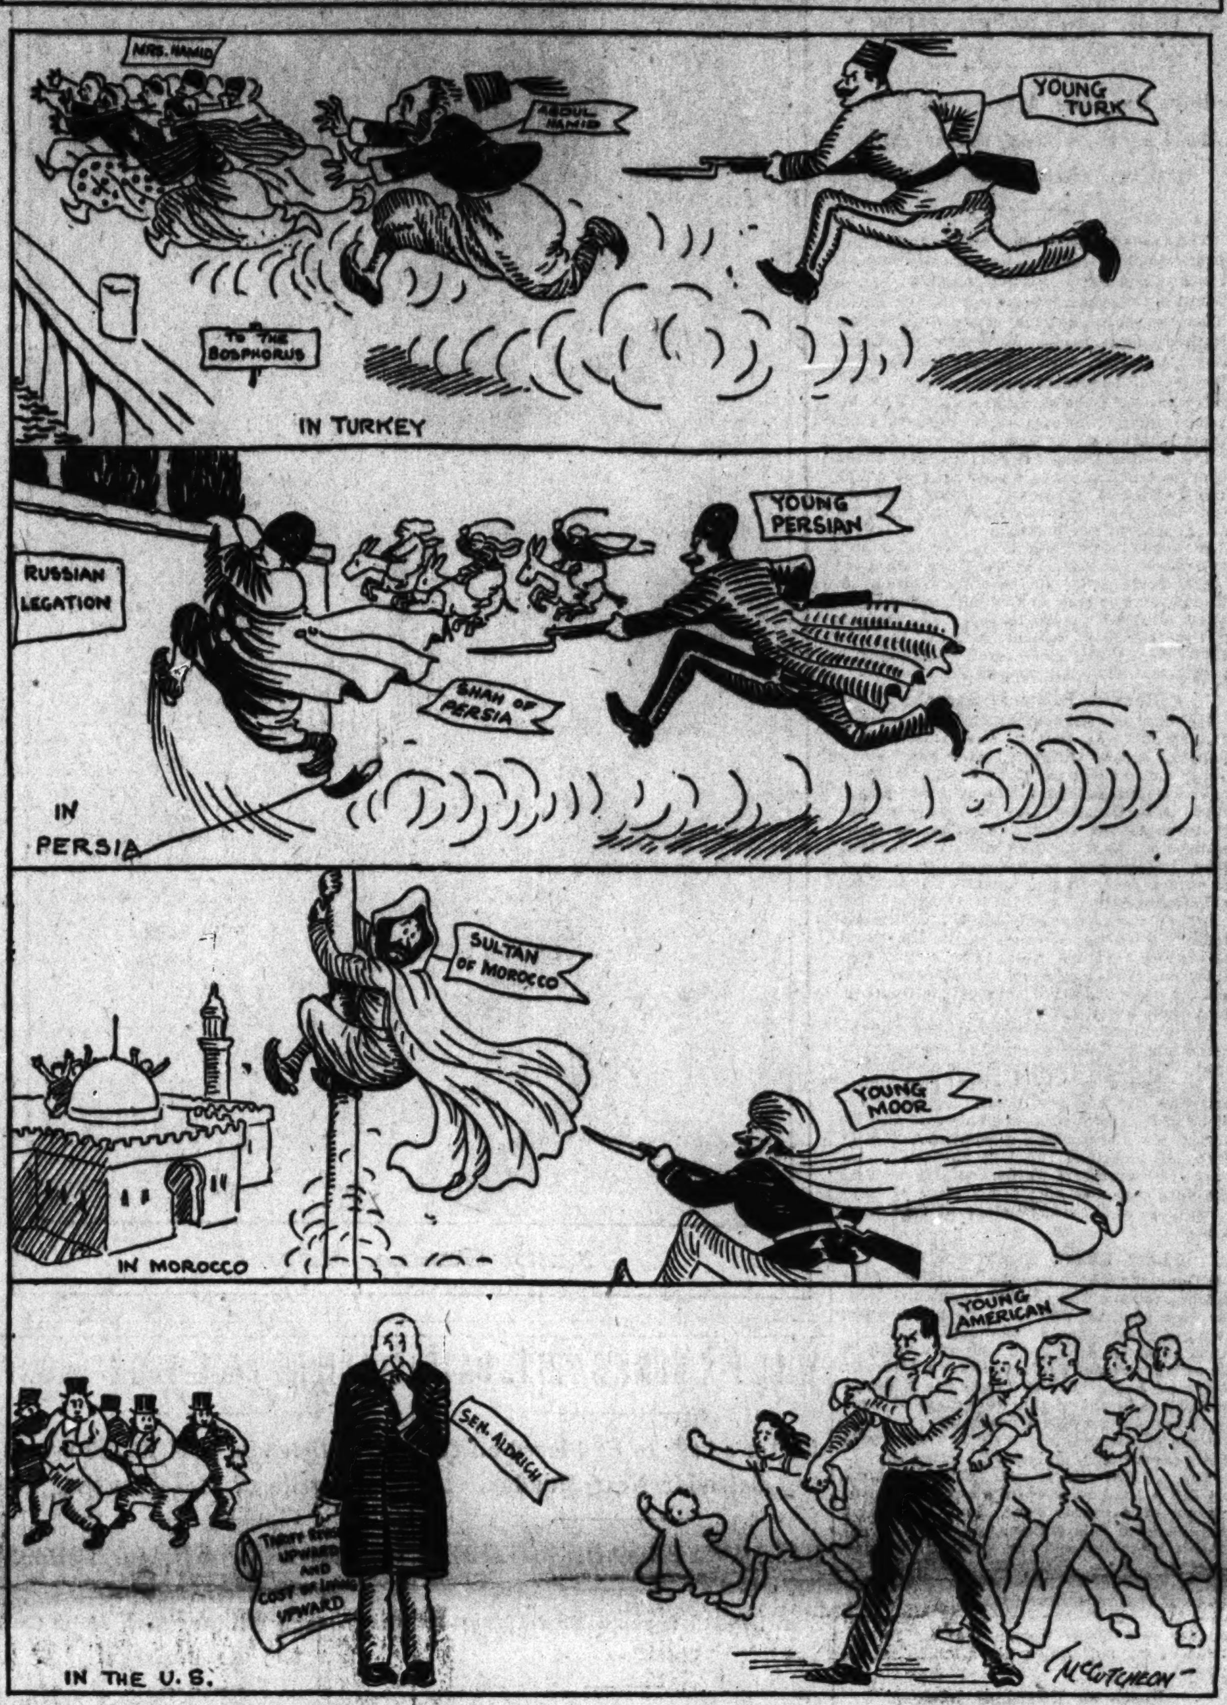
Donovan has been sick and walked from the window in his sleep. Policeman Turk expected to find the man dead, but he did not lose consciousness and will leave the hospital today.

THE DECLINE OF AUTOCRACY.



GIRL, AGE 7, IS WANDERER

LIKE BUSTER BROWN CASE.

For three days Police Inspector John Wheeler and Chief Matron Mrs. Murphy have been trying to find the home or parents of a 7 year old girl who is being cared for at the Harrison street annex.

In some respects the case resembles that of "Buster Brown," the 4 year old boy who a year ago was kept at the annex more than a week before his identity was established. The lad had been abandoned by his mother, who was unable to care for him, and through the publicity given the matter little "Buster" was adopted by a family living in Elgin.

The child in the present case says her name is Paulina Slavinski. Although she asserts that she is only 7 years old, Matron Murphy is of the opinion that she is at least 10. No amount of cross questioning, however, can make her say anything but "7 years old."

Where her parents reside is a mystery. She says her mother is dead and that her father is sick with a sore leg.

The girl was found by a policeman on Tuesday night at State and Harrison streets. She was placed in the annex and the next day, no inquiry being made for a girl of her description, a "missing" message was sent to all stations.

Little Girl's Strange Story.

The girl does not articulate distinctly, and it is hard to understand her, as she speaks with a Polish accent. When questioned by Mrs. Murphy she told the following story:

"My name is Paulina Slavinski, and my mamma is dead. My father's name is Alex. I have two big brothers, and they are married. My big sister is married, too.

"I live with my father and the baby—my little sister. The baby is 3 years old. My father used to work in a shop at Indiana Harbor, but his leg got hurt and he has to stay at home.

"When I left home I had 5 cents. I paid my fare on the railroad train. A woman met me on the train and gave me a nickel. Last night I slept in a police station. In the morning I went away. I don't know what police station it was.

"I like it here [meaning the annex], and if you will let me stay I will wash the dishes and scrub the floor."

Matron Doubts Story.

Mrs. Murphy says the girl is almost as great an enigma as was "Buster Brown," her guest of a year ago.

"The child is not telling the truth when she says she slept in a police station and was turned adrift in the morning," said Matron Murphy. "That's an impossibility. I also doubt the statement that she is only 7 years old. Evidently she is a runaway from home or some institution. She will be kept at the annex a few days longer, and if her parents are not found she will be taken into the Juvenile court."

WOMEN TRY TO KEEP CHICKENS IN HOFFMAN HOUSE BEDROOM.

Hear in New York Village That Fresh Eggs Are Not to Be Had in Metropolis—Bring Supply Along.

New York, July 16.—[Special.]—Because some one in Greensburg, N. Y., told Mrs. Elizabeth Walker and her sister, Elizabeth Pallen, that it was impossible to get fresh eggs in New York, the management of the Hoffman house came dangerously near incurring the enmity of the board of health today.

The two young women registered at the hotel early in the day. They carried much baggage, but appeared to be most interested in a large wicker basket which they caused the porter to bring close to the desk.

Eventually he found for her a room he believed would please her, after which she started upstairs, admonishing the porter to send up the wicker basket at once. Nobles, being curious, stuck his finger into the basket. A huge rooster nipped at it. Nevertheless, he permitted the rooster to go up with the other contents of the basket. Ten minutes later he, too, ascended to the apartment and there found four hens and the rooster roaming about. He asked Mrs. Walker the meaning of it.

"My sister must have fresh eggs every day," she answered. "We understood they couldn't be had here, so we brought the—er, source of supply along."

MAN RESCUES HIS FIANCEE WHEN YACHT IS CAPSIZED.

Thomas P. Hamm Jr. and Miss Marion Garnett Have Thrilling Experience Four Miles from Shore.

Two young people whose engagement recently was announced had a thrilling experience in a capsized yacht off the South Shore Country club on Thursday afternoon. Their boat was about four miles out when a gust of wind blew the craft over, the mainsail touching the water and throwing out the two occupants.

Thomas P. Hamm Jr., 4512 Grand boulevard, the man, who is an excellent swimmer, managed to get his fiancée, Miss Marion Garnett, daughter of William J. Garnett, 4450 Vincennes avenue, up on the side of the boat and after a time hailed the tug Chicago, which took the girl ashore.

Hamm remained on the side of the boat until the tug returned and then with the help of the tug's crew managed to get the yacht back to the club's harbor.

Mr. Hamm formerly was a student in the University of Chicago and is a member of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity. Miss Garnett was a student in the Starrett school.

The conductor on a Wentworth avenue through route car pushed Francis Farrell, 9 years old, 8265 Wentworth avenue, from the step last night at Thirty-seventh street. The boy's head struck the pavement, fracturing his skull. He was taken to the Lakeside hospital and may die. The car did not stop.

FLEES HOSPITAL; HITS NURSE

Woman Wearing Many Jewels Fights Her Captors.

CREATES SCENE ON STREET.

Patient, It Is Said, Has Wealthy Relatives in Chicago.

Residents in the neighborhood of the Henrotin Memorial hospital and the Chicago avenue police station were provided with a surfeit of excitement last evening by the actions of a well dressed woman, wearing many jewels, who escaped from the hospital and fought against being returned to that institution.

At the police station it was said that the woman is Mrs. Adele Carothers, owner of a shoe factory at Pontiac, Ill., and, according to Miss Stewart, superintendent of nurses at the hospital, Mrs. Carothers is related to several wealthy families in this city.

It was six o'clock when the woman patient made her escape from the hospital. She had been there several days. How she escaped from the place the officers declined to say. She was first seen hurrying toward Clark street. The woman was dressed in black with a diamond pin containing six large stones, at her throat and she wore several rings containing large diamonds.

Doctor and Nurse Pursue Her.

Just as she reached Clark street the authorities at the hospital apparently learned of her escape, and a young doctor, Miss Stewart, and a nurse by the name of Jardine ran in pursuit. They caught the patient as she was entering a south bound Clark street car.

The woman tore the hair of the nurse and struck her with an umbrella, crying at the top of her voice that she would not go back to the hospital. She fought with the nurse and doctor until a crowd began to gather. Then the entire party boarded the car and the conductor was asked to stop at Chicago avenue and send for a policeman.

Patrolmen Wells and Maher were sent to the car while it waited, and they conducted the woman to the police station. She immediately installed herself at the sergeant's desk, where she began writing telegrams and summoning messenger boys. Then she sent for a cab and said she was willing to go to a hotel, but would not go back to the hospital.

Refuses to Go Into Cell.

Miss Stewart assured the police that the patient was temporarily distracted, and an effort was made to coax her into a cell. She refused to go, demanding that the nurses leave her.

After waiting two hours to hear from the woman's relatives Inspector Healy decided that she must go back to the hospital. It required the efforts of four policemen to get her into a cab. She screamed all the way to the hospital, attracting the attention of hundreds of persons upon the streets.

As soon as she was free she started for a window and another struggle followed, the authorities at the hospital making arrangements at once to have the window barred.

Officials at the hospital declined to give any information when asked about the escape.

Miss Stewart said: "The patient is related to some of the most wealthy families in Chicago. I have nothing to say about her escape. She just walked out. She is not in her right mind."

BARON A SUICIDE FOR CHICAGO GIRL

TRAGIC LOVE AT SIGHT.

Young Nobleman's Act Follows Courtship Here, Then Father's Stern Order to Break Troth.

It was not love for a poor unknown Viennese maiden that caused Baron Oskar Rothschild, the youngest son of Baron Albert Rothschild of Vienna, to send a bullet crashing through his brain last Monday evening. It was because he had been thwarted by his family in his dearest wish to marry a young, beautiful, and talented Chicago girl, Olga Menn, daughter of Dr. Rudolph Menn, 15 Lincoln avenue. This information came to THE TRIBUNE yesterday in a cablegram, saying:

The story of the romance reads like a page from Mrs. Humphry Ward and is full of theatrical situations, love at first sight, a hasty courtship, parental blessings on the girl, cablegrams, pleading with Baron Oskar's father, opposition on the part of Capt. Switzer, the baron's traveling companion, a hasty trip to Europe, followed by the bride elect and her mother, stern opposition on the part of the Rothschild family, a final scene of parting in Hamburg, and the tragedy.

No trained romancer could have concocted a story stranger than was enacted during the brief sojourn of Baron Rothschild and his entourage in Chicago and on the other side of the Atlantic.

Seem to Meet Through Fate.

The story really begins with the landing of Baron Rothschild and his traveling companions in San Francisco about six weeks ago on their way home from a trip around the world. One of the baron's companions, who himself is a scion of one of the wealthiest and noblest of the Austrian houses, had been taken ill upon the trip, and the party hurried across the country without a stop until they arrived in Chicago.

Here it was found the young man would be unable to continue his journey and after a consultation with some of his local friends Baron Rothschild placed his friend in the German hospital at 754 Hamilton court.

There he visited him every day, and came to know Dr. Menn, the attending physician at the hospital. Dr. Menn is a graduate from the University of Vienna, and naturally great friendship sprang up between the physician and the young baron.

It was not many days before Dr. Menn, wishing to honor the son of the greatest of the Austrian houses, arranged a little dinner, to which the baron and his suite were invited to meet the members of Dr. Menn's family.

Love at First Sight.

The romance between the young people began at the moment of the introduction. The heart of Baron Rothschild was pierced by Cupid's arrow the moment he gazed into the eyes of the beautiful Olga Menn.

Nor was the young woman entirely unresponsive to his marked attentions at the dinner, and as the evening grew old these two young people looked into each other's eyes, and each knew that mutual love had sprung up between them. It was beyond a doubt love at first sight.

The courtship progressed with the utmost celerity. Baron Rothschild did not lose a single opportunity of being with the girl with whom he was so obviously enamored. His friends remonstrated with him, but their protests fell on deaf ears and were without avail. In less than a week, the young baron had declared his love, and in honorable manner had sought the hand of Miss Menn from her father and mother.

The young woman, besides being possessed of great beauty, was talented and accomplished. Her voice has been well trained by foreign masters, and it was not many months ago that she appeared in the title rôle in the comic opera, "Mamselle Nitouche," at a charitable performance, which was given at the Auditorium to aid the German Old People's home. At this performance, Miss Menn sang to the accompaniment of the Theodore Thomas orchestra, and won unstinted applause from a large audience.

Begs Baron Albert's Consent.

After the first meeting Baron Rothschild was a constant visitor at the house of Dr. Menn. It was quite natural for him to call at the physician's house after visiting his friend at the German hospital, which is only a few blocks away, and it was all the more a natural thing to do because both Dr. and Mrs. Menn looked with kindly eyes upon the young man.

Having plighted their troth, the young baron could not rest until he had secured the consent to an immediate marriage from his father. His friends counseled him to wait until he returned home before seeking the parental blessing, but the young baron was impatient. In a long cablegram to his father, Baron Albert, the young man explained that he had fallen in love with the beautiful American girl and had asked her hand in marriage. He begged his father to give his consent for an early marriage.

The elder baron, not having seen the girl, and perhaps knowing his son's impetuosity, was not quite so enthusiastic as his son could wish, but while he did not cable back the blessing that was so much desired, he replied that he first must have a chance to talk with his son, and advised him that on account of his youth and high position he must wait for some time before he could think of marrying.

Wished to Defy His Father.

Somewhat chagrined at the reply which the senior baron had sent, Baron Oskar showed the cablegram to Dr. Menn and consulted with him about the matter. It is reported he was for marrying without the parental permission, trusting to the charms of the young woman to win his father over when he should take her home, but the physician would not listen to such a proposition and advised acquiescence to the senior baron's wishes.

In order that Baron Albert's mind might be set at rest regarding his son, Dr. Menn sent him a cablegram, saying he appreciated the position taken by Baron Oskar's father, that his own daughter was young, and telling him that he too had counseled them not to be in haste about marrying.

But the prospect of waiting irked the love impassioned soul of the young man. He knew that he loved Olga Menn as he could love no other woman, and he also knew that she loved him. Why wait then? He was persistent and his persistence was rewarded, for finally two or three days after the cablegrams had been exchanged, the young man made preparations to sail for home on the next steamer, having obtained the promise of Mrs. Menn that she and her daughter would follow immediately.

Pleads, but Parent Is Adamant.

The baron hastened to New York, leaving his companions in Chicago, for they had little sympathy with his impetuosity. The scene was thus transferred to the other side of the Atlantic. The young baron arrived home in hot haste, and proceeded to seek in person that which he had been denied by cable—namely: his father's permission to the marriage.

It is reported, however, that he met with a rebuff much more certain than the one which had been sent to him over the cable, and that Baron Albert absolutely and unconditionally refused to listen to his son's plea or to give his consent to his marriage with Miss Menn, now or at any other time. He insisted that the young man must break his troth, and break it immediately. In vain did Baron Oskar exhibit the picture of his fiancée, which he had taken in Chicago with himself at her side. In vain did he describe her beauty and talents, his father was adamant.

Baron Breaks Engagement.

In the meantime Miss Menn and her daughter were awaiting the verdict at Hamburg. Last Friday the young man, crestfallen and heartbroken, went to Hamburg to formally break the ties that had been so blithely contracted in Chicago. He was accompanied by two male relatives. He told the girl that his father had refused absolutely to consent to the marriage and that as customs and family ties were different in Austria than in America, there was nothing left for him to do but accept the decree, and he asked her to release him.

The young baron took his departure from Hamburg, and Mrs. Menn sent a cablegram to her husband advising him that the engagement had been broken on account of Baron Albert's stern refusal to grant his son permission to marry their daughter.

Almost simultaneously with the cablegram from his wife came the news that Baron Oskar had ended his life.

But the dispatches did not say that, simply announcing that Baron Rothschild had met with a sudden death; that it was reported he had committed suicide on account of the refusal of his family to consent to his marriage with a poor Viennese girl with whom he was enamored.

Dr. Menn refused to discuss the matter last night, and the courtship had progressed with such velocity that Miss Menn's young friends did not even know of her engagement, although some of them expressed surprise at her sudden and unexpected journey to Europe.

EIGHT CHURCHES TAKE PART IN ENGLEWOOD'S 'DRY' RALLY.

The attendance at the Englewood temperance rally last night was affected by the Rock Island elevator fire at Sixty-fourth and La Salle streets, only 200 persons participating in the parade and meeting at the Covenant Baptist church, Sixtieth place and Normal avenue.

Representatives from eight churches attended the rally, which was held under the auspices of the Young People's Christian Temperance union.

The churches represented were Covenant Baptist, Englewood Swedish Baptist, Swedish Mission, Union Avenue Swedish Methodist, Garfield Boulevard Presbyterian, Garfield Boulevard Methodist, Simpson Methodist, and Englewood Swedish Lutheran.

The Rev. Elmer L. Williams delivered the address and made an attack upon the police, saying they easily could stop the throwing of bombs if they tried. He urged the temperance people to rally for a parade this summer which will astonish the world.

"Parades are getting so popular that the United Societies have decided to try to outdo us," he said. "With the record we made last summer I would like to compare their parade with ours. I expect to see the liquor traffic wiped out in our generation."

The rally was the second of a series which are to be conducted in various parts of the city for two weeks. Plans for the big parade are discussed at each of the local meetings.

BROOCH OWNER FEARS TRIAL? HER IDENTITY ASCERTAINED.

Woman Robbed of Jewels by Two Men in Chicago Hotel Said to Be Mrs. Belle Ridgley of Assumption, Ill.

The police will make every effort to bring to Chicago the wealthy woman who was robbed of a $1,200 brooch and $200 in cash by two men at the Morrison hotel Sunday night. At the same time the police fear the woman will stay away to avoid the notoriety of a trial. The identity of the woman appeared to be cleared up last night by reports from Decatur.

She is believed to be Mrs. Belle Ridgley, daughter of James Downs, a wealthy resident of Assumption, Ill., and the former wife of W. S. Ridgley of Taylorville, also well to do. Ridgley is superintendent of a coal mine. He has been divorced from Mrs. Ridgley for several years, but the two have remained on friendly terms, he managing her property, which is considerable, including a valuable 400 acre farm.

The separation of the Ridgleys, it is said, was due to the wife's high temper and her fondness for traveling around the country bedecked with jewels. Last winter, it is reported, she created a scene in a Denver hotel by causing the arrest of a Dr. Barnes, whose attentions she alleged annoyed her. Barnes left the hotel and the matter was not pushed.

As Mrs. Ridgley's relatives are persons of some consequence, the local police think it natural they should try to keep her from coming to Chicago to assist in prosecuting the suspects, Amos B. Moore and W. H. Drecher. Capt. O'Brien telegraphed her, telling her the brooch was recovered, and asking that she hasten to Chicago.

Defense Closes Arguments, but Judge Grants Jury's Request for Holiday.

STATE STILL TO REPLY.

Short Prepares Answer to O'Donnell's Plea for Girl, Who Smiles While Others Weep.

The case of Ella Gingles will go to the jury next Monday, following an arraignment of the girl and her counsel which is being prepared by Assistant State's Attorney Short. This, the second and last of Mr. Short's closing arguments, may require more than half a day to deliver, with a probability that the verdict will be read in court by night. Judge Brentano set aside today as a holiday for the jurors upon a unanimous expression from them in favor of an interval of rest.

The final address of the defense side of the case was concluded late yesterday by Attorney Patrick H. O'Donnell. It was a vehement display of forensics based largely upon an appeal to sentiment.

It caused Juror Thomas Mackey, 862 Flournoy street, a stationary engineer, to shed tears, while other jurors were moist eyed. The courtroom was packed with women who have followed the fortunes of the Gingles girl in the rôle of sympathizers and many of these wept. The girl herself remained impassive and smiled at the end.

Recalls Political Speech.

Mr. Short's comment on the peroration of the speech was that it was taken from a political speech O'Donnell used about seven years ago, except for the fact that in place of the Republican party the attorney substituted Ella Gingles. It dealt with an experience of the attorney's father after he arrived at New Orleans as an immigrant from Ireland, and awoke from the delirium of yellow fever to find a white haired slave bending over him.

"That black face is bending over his son today," cried the attorney in his final burst of oratory. "I am ready to make that sacrifice for humanity when humanity calls for aid. I have answered that call, my father, I have answered it."

The attorney almost ignored many of the essentials of the case, the most important with which he dealt being a claim set up by himself to the effect that Miss Agnes Barrette did not specifically identify each piece of lace offered in evidence and give its value. Mr. Short stated afterward that Miss Barrette identified the lace absolutely and gave the number of yards and the value by the yard and also specified a piece of Limerick lace and another piece of rare Irish lace.

Last Effort to Save Girl.

O'Donnell's speech was the final effort of the defense to save Ella Gingles from conviction for lace stealing and in it he painted her as a girl whose chastity of thought might inspire an artist or a poet. He said much in his own praise and declared State's Attorney Wayman had a chance "to be the Moses to lead Chicago out of the wilderness of vice, as Heney did for San Francisco."

"One of the sweetest of God's creatures is this peasant girl of Ireland," cried the attorney. "Her life is out. Nothing is left her but a fond memory of a sweet girlhood. I come of a sturdy race, but I learned courage from Ella Gingles.

"God bless her and the country that produces such girls. When given the alternative of starving or going wrong, she chose the path that meant inevitable death, unless some one went to her rescue. It makes me shudder how these women planned to sell a girl of my nationality like a bullock at an auction.

Poses as Shield of Law.

"No one knows better than Mr. Short that the shield of the law rests in the lawyer for the defense. So by innuendo he questioned the relations of this girl and myself. Strike me down and you will expose this poor girl to the battering element of the law. That was the purpose of the attack upon me.

"Baby ribbon was substituted for the heavy cords that bound Ella Gingles. Where are the heavy ropes? I can't answer that. The police may be able to.

"They charged by innuendo that I surcharged my client with this horrible story. No human mind could have concocted that story. It was lived by Ella. Even if what these Canadian witnesses say is true, is that any reason that she should be butchered in a public bathroom? I say that Mr. Thornton lied about many things.

"Do you believe Capt. O'Brien? Do you believe he turned over to me a confessed thief to defend? If he did it is time to change the head of Chicago's detective force.

"Capt. O'Brien said he quit investigation right after the girl was held to the grand jury. Yes, he quit working on the case, and why? Because he had to turn turtle on Ella or send Agnes Barrette to the penitentiary, and he chose to prosecute the little girl."

Short Challenges Defense.

Before the defense began its plea, Mr. Short closed his first address.

"I defy Pat O'Donnell now to tell you in his closing address anything that he knows about me," he said. "Let him tell you and I won't object. He can't and he won't.

"Not only did he slander everybody here, but he slandered his own client. He compelled us to bring these Canadian witnesses to show her up. This case could have been submitted to the court and the honor of even his own client could have been shielded. If we had not brought these witnesses Pat O'Donnell would be storming up and down here and crying out 'Where is Dr. Gibson, Mr. Thornton, and Mr. McCormick? Why were they not brought here if they had any evidence against Ella?' That was the reason they were brought here."

O'Donnell followed his colleague in the case, John P. O'Shaughnessy, who had been interrupted in an attack on Tom Taggart's French Lick resort by a statement by Judge Brentano to the effect that respectable people go there.

WHEN IS A DECAYED EGG? QUESTION UP TO UNCLE SAM.

South Dakota Man Sends Ancient Sample with Complaint to the Department of Justice at Washington.

Washington, D. C., July 16.—"Why and when is a decayed egg?" is the issue formally laid before the department of justice today with a view to government prosecution in the northwest.

While Attorney General Wickersham was engrossed with the details of the corporation tax amendment a messenger rushed into the building with a telegram from G. A. Neuendorf of Clark, S. D., reading:

"I this day have sent a package by express for examination."

That was all and the officials speculated. Today the package came. Within, carefully sealed, according to invoice, was an egg of uncertain age, and with it was this complaint:

"I this day send you a boiled egg which I believe is decayed. I have had them served several times. Therefore I send this sample to you for a test. I am not acquainted with the federal inspectors."

The offending café was named.

The egg, still unexposed, with the formal complaint, was referred to Assistant Attorney General Fowler who has charge of the legal phase of the pure food crusade. It is docketed "No. 147,563; subject: transmits a boiled egg which he believes is decayed. It seems so. File."

Each official in the course of its reference through the department made a notation, one inditing this on the brief:

"It is unfortunate the department did not receive the sample at its best. Don't blame the hen."

WILL FIX KEMP'S TRIAL DATE

HIS LAWYERS ARE NOTIFIED

State Says Clergyman Must Appear in Chicago Court.

The case of the Rev. Robert Morris Kemp, former rector of St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church, accused of criminal conduct with former choir boys of the church and bellboys of the Annex, is to be put on the trial calendar next Monday. Following the receipt of a story from New York that a man said to be the Kemp under indictment in Chicago had been found intoxicated in a friend's house, Chief Assistant State's Attorney Short caused inquiries to be made of the New York authorities as to the condition and whereabouts of the defendant.

It is said that the Rev. Mr. Kemp has made frequent visits to New York in the last few weeks and has been seen in an intoxicated condition.

Kemp Blames Women's Gossip.

"Have you ever been pastor of a fashionable Episcopal church?" he asked. "I want to tell you it is h—l. I am a victim of circumstances. I can only blame malicious gossip of women for my present situation. Women were parishioners of mine in Chicago, and because I knew certain things and for other reasons they spread scandal that resulted in my indictment in Chicago.

"The charges against me there absolutely are false, as I shall show when my trial comes up, but I ask you is it strange that a man who has been what I have, who has never hurt a living soul or done any man harm knowingly, save myself, should feel the awfulness of his predicament?

"What can I do? There is no hope for a clergyman whose reputation once is blasted. I might as well be dead—better, in fact. Mind you, I am no saint, but I am not the sinner I am made out to be. It is monstrous that people can make such charges and live."

Alleged Theft of a Ring.

A telegram from New York stated that the court there had discharged the prisoner on the grounds that because he was drunk in a private house it was not a public offense. The man said to be Kemp declined to accuse William Detschel, in whose house he was visiting at the time of the disturbance, of taking his ring, and Detschel also was discharged.

Mr. Short notified Attorneys Henry Russell Platt and S. S. Gregory, representing the Rev. Mr. Kemp, to produce their client for trial as soon as the Gingles case is concluded, which will be next Monday or Tuesday. Mr. Short said he would not ask for forfeiture of the clergyman's bonds of $30,000 on Monday if he does not appear, but that he would ask that the bonds be forfeited if the defendant is not present on the date which is to be set on Monday.

Prosecution Seeks Information.

"I am without direct information as to whether Kemp was arrested in New York, but if he is well enough to be carousing, he is well enough to stand trial," said Mr. Short.

Henry Russell Platt, commenting on the case, said:

"To my best knowledge Dr. Kemp is in a sanitarium about 150 miles from New York."

It has been rumored that when Kemp comes to trial in Chicago the defense will be insanity.

SAYS DETECTIVE INJURED HER.

Woman Testifies She Was Dragged Down Three Flight of Stairs—Accused Man Denies Charge.

Charges that she was dragged down three flights of stairs by Detective Clifton Wooldridge of the Cottage Grove avenue station were made yesterday by Mrs. Winifred H. Johnson, 2829 Calumet avenue, when she was arraigned before Municipal Judge Fake in the Harrison street court, accused of disorderly conduct. She also said the detective injured her wrists with handcuffs. Two women testified that they had witnessed the alleged brutal treatment. Detective Wooldridge denied the charge, and asked a continuance until today, which was granted.

SOLDIERS BACK FROM FRONT

First Brigade, I. N. G., Survives Battle of Plato Center.

STARTS FOR CHICAGO TODAY.

Cavalry and Infantry Both Claim Victory in Maneuvers.

The First brigade, Illinois National Guard, breaks camp at Camp Deneen, near Elgin, at 6 o'clock this morning. Before noon the streets of Chicago will be resounding with the tramp of returning troops, fresh from the terrific but bloodless battle which was fought yesterday at Plato Center. Both sides—the "Illinois army" and the "Iowa invader"—claimed victory, but the regular army umpires, in accordance with custom, handed down no official decision.

The Seventh infantry will be the first of the foot soldiery to get away from camp, followed immediately by the First and the Second. Seven special trains will bring the national guardsmen back to Chicago.

As the Chicago regiments are departing from Camp Deneen, the Third brigade will be marching into the Elgin grounds. Brig. Gen. Edward Kittilsen of Moline, with his staff, arrived last night and in the morning will take command of the spreading acres.

The incoming brigade embraces the Third infantry, under command of Col. Richings J. Shand of Rockford; the Sixth infantry, under command of Col. Will T. Channon of Rock Island, and the artillery battalion, commanded by Maj. Oscar P. Yeager of Danville.

The two regiments and the artillery battalion are made up of men from most of the cities of importance in northern Illinois. Popularly termed the "country regiments," they are considered by officers of the National Guard as ranking with the most efficient organizations in the state.

Victory Doubtful in Battle.

The battle of Plato Center goes on the books as one of the most desperate and least bloody martial contests in recent times. Every soldier in Camp Deneen was out scrapping. Each of them shot twenty rounds of blank ammunition and the machine guns banged away as though the state of Illinois were tottering upon her foundations.

The maneuver, which was the climax of the work of the week, extended over six square miles of territory, and when all was said and done, the First cavalry, representing the rear guard of the "Dubuque" army, which had been "defeated" in the battle of Elgin on July 15, and Gen. Foster's first brigade, supposedly pressing the defeated enemy to the limit, claimed victory.

The average citizen in Chicago who wishes to discuss the outcome of the action with the returning heroes will get the exact truth of the situation by discussing the matter with the "dough boys," as the cavalrymen dub the infantry outfit, or they may get an opposite angle by judicious talk with the "yellow legs," whom Col. Foreman led into action.

Deneen Hikes with Troops.

Gov. Deneen was one of the most interested of the participants in the all morning battle which was fought over the ridges and valleys of Kane county during the day. He donned an army hat, tied a white handkerchief around his arm to class up with the noncombatants, and, accompanied by Col. Brown and Col. Green, of the division staff, hiked to the front with the rest of the troops.

The executive first went out with the column of infantry commanded by Col. Sanborn and consisting of the First and Second regiments. After a line a mile long had developed he hurried over to the second line of attack, commanded by Col. Moriarty, and slipped through the lines then to the headquarters of Col. Foreman and the cavalry.

Army officers declare the technical work performed by the Illinois men was above criticism and reserved judgment as to the outcome. There was no real work for the hospital corps and no official list of the dead and wounded.

Governor Watches Parade.

At evening parade the Second infantry had the post of honor, Gov. Deneen and his party watching the ceremony which was under command of Lieut. Col. A. W. Miller. The First cavalry made its final parade of the tour of duty an hour earlier.

At night the Seventh infantry band gave a concert at brigade headquarters in honor of Gov. Deneen and Brig. Gen. Foster, and at 10 o'clock "taps" sounded for the last time in the first brigade camp for 1909.

Gen. Fred D. Grant and staff will be in Elgin next Friday on Governor's day.

RICH WOMEN PREY OF BOOK CLIQUES

HAVE LISTS OF BUYERS.

Few Are Willing to Pay Fancy Prices; Many Sign Contracts They Don't Understand.

In almost every case where a clique of men start out to perpetrate a big "de luxe" book deal they go after women. Not that they have not tried men, but they have found them unresponsive and apt to make the same remark that one of George D. Sproul's agents got from J. J. Hill, to whom he was trying to sell for $125,000 one of the same sets of Dickens that Mrs. J. R. Hoxie bought for $85,000.

"You say Pierpont Morgan has subscribed for a set?" queried Mr. Hill.

"Yes, indeed, he has; he considers it a great bargain," replied the glib agent.

"Well, if I believed you I also would have to believe that Mr. Morgan needs to have a conservator appointed," replied the railroad builder, "and I am not in that class yet. Good-day."

There have been instances where men have been bitten, as was the case with Howard T. Goodwin, the Philadelphia banker, who paid hundreds of thousands of dollars for "subscription editions de luxe," but it was a little different in his case, because he was spending stolen money and afterward committed suicide. Most men, however, fight shy of book deals.

Few Dealers; Many Agents.

There are said to be only two or three real geniuses in the country who direct all the big book deals, but they have many agents, it being necessary to change the men who work the deals often because there are comparatively few women who will pay large amounts.

Among the women who are known to the book men to be more or less partial to editions "de luxe" at fancy prices are:

Mrs. J. R. Hoxie, Chicago.
Mrs. Mary J. Mermod, St. Louis.
Mrs. Isaac L. Elwood, De Kalb.
Mrs. A. L. Root, Alton, Ill.
Mrs. S. Warren Lamson, Chicago.
Mrs. Lucy A. Ros, Evanston.
Mrs. A. L. Fort, Lacon, Ill.
Mrs. W. F. Wolfner, Chicago.

According to a man who knows something about the ways of the subscription book men, the procedure is comparatively simple. The first thing is to get the books, then to plan methods of approaching a possible purchaser.

The "de luxe" edition of Charles Dickens issued by Chapman & Hall was originally limited to 1,000 sets, it is said. There were thirty volumes in a set. Sproul is alleged to have obtained a few at the regular price of $150 a set.

One Book Made Into Two.

He had them taken apart and rebound into sixty volumes. Then he added water colors and other illustrations, said to be originals by Cruickshank—only they were not—and a few good copies of original letters from Dickens and other trimmings.

Each set cost possibly $500 and was offered for sale at the fancy price of $125,000.

Several sets of the Holloway edition of Shakspeare, similarly treated, were sold to Mrs. Hoxie, Mrs. James A. Patten, Mrs. Elwood, and Mrs. Mermod by the Adams crowd, as they are known. These sets, consisting of twenty volumes, were split up to make about forty volumes. Water color illustrations were added, the fly leaf was torn out, and a new one put in, and a Henry Irving book plate was added, which made people think the books came from the library of Sir Henry Irving.

Mrs. Patten paid $22,000 for hers and Mrs. Hoxie is said to have paid $19,000 for hers. The regular auction price of the edition, which is fairly large, is about $450, and the trimming up that was given them might have cost $300 more.

"White Elephant" in Library.

Not long ago a set of Napoleon's life was doctored up and sold to a woman for $12,000 on the argument that the mayor and other town officials wanted it for the public library but could not afford to pay the price. She bought the books and put them in her home. When she died she left them to the library. They are tucked away in a glass case, a "white elephant" on the hands of the librarian.

Many wealthy women in this city and other cities have been cajoled out of anywhere from $500 to $2,500 by a simple scheme of getting them to subscribe to a comparatively cheap set of books, something to cost about $50. In reality, the contract reads for several sets of other books, which have never been mentioned in the conversation, or only incidentally.

Hoxie Tablets Examined.

Thirteen illuminated tablets of the declaration of independence, which Mrs. Hoxie agreed to buy for $85,000 from Sproul in place of the Dickens set at the same price, were taken from the Garfield Safe Deposit vaults for the first time in three years in the afternoon and submitted to expert examination. Mrs. Hoxie has paid $50,000 on the tablets, but is resisting further payment on a court order obtained by her counsel.

Hughson Hawley, a water color artist, examined the tablets and declared he gladly would do the same work for $10,000, although Sproul values them at $100,000. C. B. Wells, also a water color artist, said there was absolutely no market for such work.

Robbers' Victim Revives When Blazing Coals Scorch Flesh and Manages to Open Door of Fiery Prison.

Laporte, Ind., July 16.—Two white men and a negro attacked August Wiseman, watchman of a steam shovel on the Chicago-New York electric line, southwest of this city, late last night, beat him into insensibility and shoved his body into the firebox of the boiler of the machine.

The coals had been banked but Wiseman's clothing caught fire. Revived by the pain of burning he was able to open the door and reach out and pull the whistle cord. Workmen from a camp not far away ran to his assistance and dragged him out of the firebox. He was terribly burned, but has a chance of recovery.

Wiseman was enveloped in flames when the rescuers appeared and pulled him out. He then became unconscious again and it was an hour later before it was possible to learn the story. Then the search for the three assailants was commenced. Rewards have been offered for their arrest.

Wiseman said his assailants had demanded whisky or money from him, and when he said he had neither had struck him over the head.

BOY, LONESOME, CALLS POLICE.

'Murder!' He Shouts Over Phone, and Operator Connects Line with Englewood Station.

"Murder! Send policeman!"

An excited voice shouted these words into the ears of a telephone operator in Englewood last night. She connected the line with the police station.

"Where?" demanded Lieut. Coughlin.

"At 6320 Normal avenue," came the response.

A squad of policemen rushed to the apartments of Mrs. Julia Layton and found they had been called by Edgar Layton, 7 years old, because he was lonesome.

BUT 16 TO 1 AGAIN IS BEATEN

Congressional Ball Game Will Live as Landmark in History.

Washington, D. C., July 16.—With "Uncle Joe" Cannon looking on and powerless to call the minority to order or bring in a special rule shutting off hits, the Democrats of the house of representatives walloped all sorts of tariff schedules out of the Republicans at American league park today and won the most famous congressional baseball game on record by the thrilling score of 26 to 16. The minority wanted to make it 16 to 1, but the Republicans defeated that proposition once again.

The Democratic victory—the first of the extra session—was followed by a cloudburst. The deluge did not descend until the seven inning battle had ended with the stout members all puffing and groggy from running bases and chasing balls, and the lean members prone on the grass from exhausted energy.

The crowd that witnessed the game which will live long in the annals of the house was equally weary—from laughter. The throng included most of the distinguished government officials, and they barely had time to reach their homes from the ball park when the heaviest thunder storm of the summer broke over the city.

Taft Not Among the Fans.

President Taft did not attend—he was at Chevy Chase with Vice President Sherman playing golf.

More different kinds of baseball were played than ever crowded into seven innings before, and, strange as it may seem, it wasn't all bad. The Democrats put up a rattling good game in the field—sometimes.

Representative Heflin of Alabama, playing in the left garden, reminded one strikingly of Ty Cobb. No one ventured to tell Mr. Heflin just why. Once he had a chance to be a hero. The Republicans suddenly came to life in the fifth inning, and were scoring eight or nine or ten runs when a line fly went winging out into left straight at Heflin. The portly Alabaman, who played in white flannel trousers with a black silk watch fob dangling from his belt, cast one weather eye at the ball and another at his bare hands and "ducked."

Ohio Gloomy; Longworth "Caseys."

Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, signed at a tremendous outlay, it was said, by the Republican manager, failed to live up to his advance notices. He presented a natty appearance in golf trousers, brown stockings, and negligee shirt, but he "Caseyed out" twice with two men on bases, got a base on balls once, and then in the last half of the seventh showed a flash of rare speed when he beat out a tiny little infield hit. His only other acquaintance with the ball was a couple of foul tips and several long runs after two baggers slammed out by the unterrified Democracy.

The official score looked like a house tariff bill coming out of the senate committee on finance to be printed in full. The Republicans stuck to their original lineup throughout the game, but the Democrats wore themselves out making ten runs in the second, and after that substitutes were called upon with ever increasing frequency.

Everybody Had a Pass.

The game had been brewing for weeks and the members of the house were keyed up to a high pitch of enthusiasm. The first victory for the free traders was won at the gate. The game was supposed to be for charity, but everybody seemed to have a pass.

The Republicans were captained by Representative Tener of Pennsylvania, who played short. Representatives Gaines and Burke made an excellent battery. Mr. Burke caught so well that one of his colleagues called out:

"For heaven's sake, Burke, come on and catch one ball anyway."

The Democrats had for their leader Representative Kinkead of New Jersey, who played second in a way that would turn Lajoie green with envy. Representative Webb of North Carolina pitched for the Democrats, and outside of the fifth inning "had the game well in hand." Representative Oldfield of Arkansas was the catcher, and he had a shade on Mr. Burke. It was in the battery work that the Democrats excelled, although their slugging was a revelation.

The Washington public had forgotten what a home run looked like until Representative O'Connell of Massachusetts, star swatter of the Democrats, lined one out in the seventh. He brought in two other runs and scored amid so much excitement that Catcher Burke threw the ball to a Democrat.

PANICKY TRADING IN COTTON; EARLY BREAK OF 30 POINTS.

After Big Slump Sets In Large New York Interests Turn Buyers and Quotations Advance.

New York, July 16.—[Special.]—There was a further big slump in the cotton market today, causing a great deal of excitement on the exchange. At the end of the decline cotton for the new crop delivery was selling at $2 a bale less than the closing price of Thursday.

Prices broke from 25 to 30 points in the first fifteen minutes' trading. Prices dropped close to a basis of 12¼ cents for all options, as against 12¾ cents, the high record touched in the buying fever and bullish excitement of Monday and Tuesday. Liquidation was as general on this break as had been the buying on the rise, and the violence of the decline equally as sudden as had been the bulge.

After October, December, January, and March options had sold down to $12.15 big interests and old bulls who had sold out on the rise saved the market from breaking still further, suddenly turning heavy buyers. Prices recovered sharply.

ALDERMANIC IRE HURLED AT EVANS.

Health Commissioner Blocks Discussion of Question of Milk Pasteurization.

STAYS AT CAMP DENEEN.

Members of Committee Engage in Lively Controversy; Dr. Biehm Not Present.

A stranger walking into the city hall yesterday would not have suspected that the vacation season was in full swing.

When he reached the second floor he would have heard calls for a policeman, demands for a vote of censure, and a flow of heated utterances that would have convinced him that the hall was not the place of rest and quiet it is pictured during the summer months.

"The health commissioner isn't running this city!"

"This is deplorable!"

These are some of the things he would have heard in bitter tones, and when he located the scene of action he would have discovered that the health committee was in session.

Flood of Oratory.

The question of the pasteurization of milk was up. The session was fully as exciting as that occasion when Health Commissioner Evans handed the lie courteous to Ald. Jacob A. Hey, his chief opponent in the prolonged fight.

The chief difference between the two meetings was that Dr. Evans was not present during the second, and that was the principal cause of trouble. In his absence the only thing that occurred was oratory.

Dr. Evans blocked the committee from hurrying its consideration of the pasteurization question. The committee could have "put over" the ordinance repealing the present pasteurization requirement, but refused to do so in Dr. Evans' absence.

The commissioner wired from Camp Deneen a request that the meeting be postponed one week, and an argument by Ald. Francis W. Taylor, who was prepared, if necessary, to begin a filibustering maneuver that would have held the floor until dark, worked toward the same end; but the committee had no intention of "trying to put anything over," according to statements before the meeting.

Committee Becomes Angry.

The difficulty was that Ald. Hey and his friends had been told that Dr. Evans had wired his assistants not to appear before the committee. This aroused their wrath and the only thing that kept them from haling the assistants before them under police guard was that they had not that power.

The meeting was called upon the written request of Ald. Hey, Clancy and Koraleski and when they gathered and found that Dr. Evans was out of the city they declared their ignorance of that fact and said that if a quorum appeared they would do nothing but adjourn the meeting until next week.

The others of the quorum were Ald. Fick, Evans, Clancy, Utpatel and Emerson, all of whom were anti-pasteurizationists, and Ald. Taylor, a staunch supporter of Dr. Evans, who was much alarmed over the intentions of his opponents.

Ald. Hey told of a report that Dr. J. F. Biehn and Dr. Gottfried Koehler had been instructed not to appear before the committee and he moved that they be sent for.

Dr. Biehn Not Present.

Ald. Taylor moved to table that motion, but he received no second. A viva voce vote swamped him, but he made a heated charge of unfair tactics, and another vote was taken; but the result was the same. Committee Clerk Harrah reached Dr. Biehn by telephone and was told that he would be at the meeting in fifteen minutes. Twenty minutes later he telephoned and was told that Dr. Biehn had disappeared.

Another warm colloquy between Ald. Hey and Ald. Taylor—who begged that no action be taken until next week—occurred, and then Ald. Emerson demanded that the question be settled at once.

Ald. Hey came in with a suggestion that "Billy" Brown, the council sergeant at arms, be sent for Dr. Biehn, but he could not be found; and neither could Policeman James Tighe, who regularly is on duty at the committee rooms. Then Ald. Utpatel suggested that a policeman from the chief's office be called, but a question of the committee's power submitted to Ald. Cullerton brought a negative reply.

"Deplorable," Says Hey.

"I regard the position in which the city council is placed," said Ald. Hey, commenting on the situation, "that this committee and the council are considered nonentities by department heads, that the men elected to office by the people cannot call in employés of the city. It is deplorable.

"I believe a vote of censure is not only necessary but unavoidable. The attitude of the health department toward this committee is plainly shown here."

"Any alderman with any manhood would not permit employés of the city to make a fool of him," declared Ald. Utpatel.

Ald. Taylor made several efforts to stem the flow of these attacks. He was reminded that no motion had been made, and that the official to be censured had not been named. Ald. Hey announced his belief that there was nothing to be gained by waiting for Dr. Biehn, and he moved that the committee adjourn to meet again next Wednesday at 2:30.

The First cavalry will return to the city on Monday, and it is expected that Dr. Evans will be present when that meeting is called to order.

ADOPT NEW NUMBERS? NEVER, ASSERT TWO PARK COLONIES.

Woodland and Groveland Residents Agitated by System Based on State Street.

Peaceful, verdant Woodland and Groveland parks on the south side are aroused with excitement. The residents, many of whom have lived there most of their days, are telling each other what they think of the committee which renumbered their houses.

"I have lived here forty-two years at 14 Woodlawn park and No. 14 it's going to be," said William Flagg, the oldest inhabitant of the park. "The idea of a number way up in the 600's. Who ever heard of such nonsense?

"Going to take it to court? Of course, I will. Why, we have some of the best legal talent in Chicago right here in our midst. So far as we are concerned the sun doesn't rise on State street."

Mrs. Benjamin F. Nourse, president of the Woodland Park association, who has lived at No. 38 for fourteen years, was no less vehement in her objections.

"We bear absolutely no relation to State street; we are a little community of our own," she said. "We repair our own streets and sidewalks; we have our own gardener, who mows and sprinkles our lawns or shovels our snow away in winter time, and we are in a measure self-governing.

"Now they give me No. 654, when my number for years has been 38. Why, it's ultra absurd. You know these parks are parts of the old Stephen A. Douglas farm.

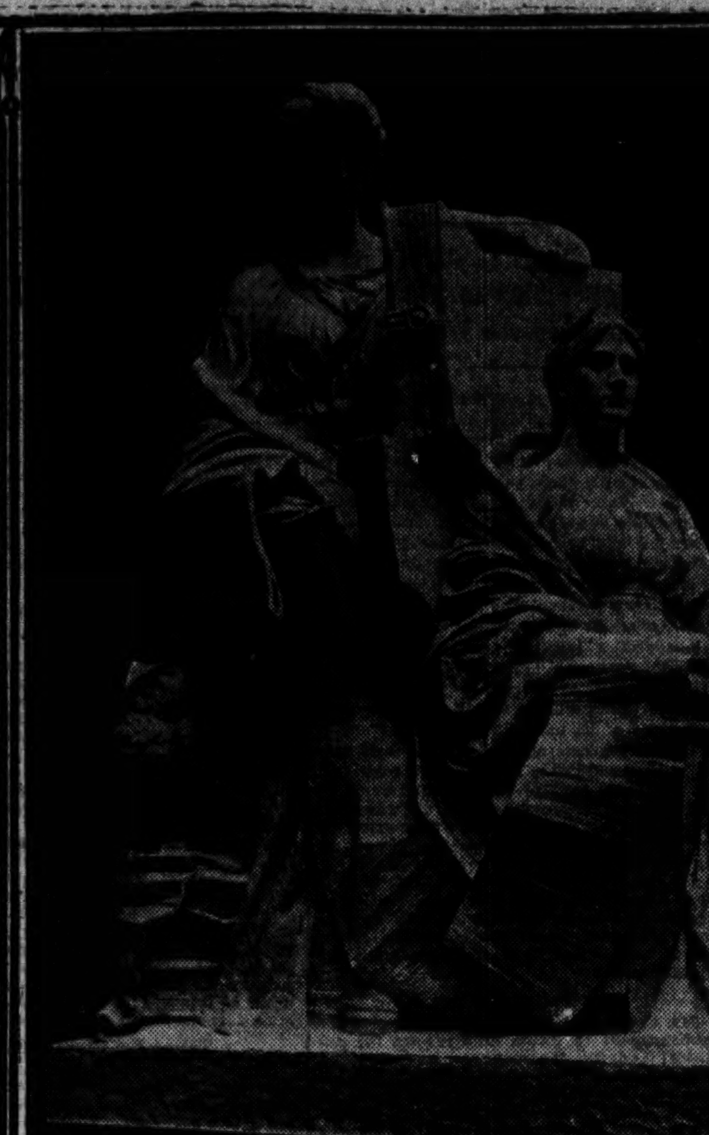
"I suppose we are a trifle sentimental about our places and we don't like to see the old things go. We would not object if the substitution would be of any benefit, but as any one with half an eye can see the new numbers would not help a bit."

Falling Timber Hurts La Grange Man.

O. R. Ryerson of La Grange, Ill., was struck on the head yesterday afternoon by a piece of timber which fell from the Windsor-Clifton hotel, which is being remodeled. He suffered a severe scalp wound and his left arm was injured.

Statuary Soon Will Be on Public View in Garfield Park.

"THE REPUBLIC" BY DANIEL C. FRENCH



GROUP BY CHARLES J. MULLIGAN

"THE MINER," BY CHARLES J. MULLIGAN

An outdoor display of statuary this year will be on exhibition in Garfield park, similar to the one in Humboldt park last season. Replicas of some of the world's masterpieces of sculpture will be placed along the walks and on the banks of the lagoons, toward the end of furnishing to the popular mind practical, visual lessons in one of the fine arts.

The Municipal Art league, in coöperation with the west side board, has the project in hand. On Monday the first step in the transformation of Garfield park will be made with the installation of the fountain which Charles J. Mulligan designed and modeled in collaboration with his students of the Art institute, called by them "The Spirit of the Mine."

Other pieces which will be placed there are replicas of "Columbus," by St. Gaudens; "Washington," by Lorado Taft; "The Blind," by the same artist; the "Railsplitter," the "Miner and the Child," "George Rogers Clarke," and other works by Mr. Mulligan; two groups from the Illinois Supreme Court building at Springfield; four groups by Leonard Crunello; "The Frog Boy" fountain, by Florence Wyle; bronze of Burcky O'Neil, captain of the Rough Riders, and many figures and groups formerly in the Field museum.

The opening day is not set, but is promised for an earlier date than the one of last year.

MAY SEND AUTOIST TO JAIL

ECHO OF AN OLD ACCIDENT.

"Skinny" Madden's Auto in an Early Morning Collision.

Prison cells for auto speeders who refuse to pay damages for accidents is the new régime instituted in the Municipal court yesterday.

The clerk of the court issued a body execution against Dr. Daniel J. Lynch to satisfy a judgment of $110 obtained by M. Schoenknecht, who was run down on Sept. 18, 1908, in Michigan street.

It is the announced purpose of Schoenknecht to enforce the order, and the execution will be served on Monday. The plaintiff will pay board at the county jail for Dr. Lynch, unless some strenuous method of defeating the purpose of the writ is discovered.

Schoenknecht and his wife and child were riding in a buggy at Lake Shore drive and Oak street, and were struck by an automobile driven by Dr. Lynch. They were thrown out and the horse was killed.

A suit for $500 damages was begun on Jan. 11, and judgment for $110 and costs was returned by a jury. When Attorney James B. Cunningham sought to collect the judgment he was baffled. He found the automobile was mortgaged, and he had difficulty in finding other property upon which to levy. His client insisted that something be done, and the body writ was issued.

"It was an old statute that provided imprisonment in a case of this kind, but I am going to back it up," said Attorney Cunningham. "We propose to have Dr. Lynch in jail Monday."

Dr. Lynch was surprised last night when informed of the course that had been taken against him.

"I have no idea what kind of a law that is and am not prepared to talk about it," he said. "I will consult with my attorney and resist the case by habeas corpus proceeding, if by no other method."

Labor Leader's Auto Damaged.

A telephone message from the Heidelberg garden at Fifty-first street and Grand boulevard at 1 o'clock this morning stated that the automobile of "Skinny" Madden, labor leader, had been damaged in a collision with another machine standing in front of the resort.

According to the information the labor leader had stepped into the garden with a few friends, leaving his machine in charge of a man not as well versed as Mr. Madden in the ways of automobiles. He tried to start the machine, but it insisted upon backing into a machine in the rear.

Both cars are reported to have been damaged and several policemen were called to straighten matters out. It is said that none was injured.

Dr. John W. Tope Jr., son of Dr. John W. Tope of Oak Park, was fined $1 and costs in Justice Kendall's court at Oak Park in the afternoon for violating automobile speed regulations.

Dr. Tope Sr. appeared with his son and told the court he did not believe that his automobile could be run at twenty miles an hour. Policeman Parks testified that Tope had gone over a quarter of a mile at a speed of twenty-one miles an hour.

Contractor Struck by Auto.

While crossing Jackson boulevard at Dearborn street with his son, H. H. Roberts, a contractor, with an office at 1238 Monadnock building, was struck by an automobile belonging to the Auto Taxicab company and driven by Lee Smith, 44 Winthrop place.

Mr. Roberts suffered severe injuries to his left leg and ankle and was taken to his home, 979 West Polk street, by his son. The chauffeur was not arrested.

While playing in the street last night at Center and Chicago avenue, Aaron Everen, 5 years old, was struck and knocked down by automobile 7357. The child suffered a scalp wound and his right leg was badly bruised.

The chauffeur of the car, which is said to be the property of Fred E. Hall, 220 Clinton avenue, Oak Park, put on the speed clutch and hurried away. Dr. Walling of West Chicago avenue station dressed the child's wounds and left him in care of his parents at 265 West Chicago avenue.

ERICSON RECEIVES SWEDISH DECORATION IN BANQUET HALL

"Skoll Ericson," was the greting given to John Ericson, city engineer, by 150 friends in the golden banquet hall of the Congress hotel last night at a banquet given in honor of his having been decorated by King Gustav V. of Sweden as a Riddare of Kungliga Vasa Orden (Knight of the Royal Order of Vasa).

"This decoration," said Henry S. Henschen, vice consul for Sweden at Chicago, in presenting to Mr. Ericson the golden star pendent from the green ribbon, "is given to you by our beloved king in recognition of your service to your country and for the great scientific accomplishments you have given the world and for your high character and manhood and chosen representative of Sweden. May your life be prolonged to enjoy high honors."

Judge Chytraus spoke of the service Mr. Ericson had given Chicago and his worth as an engineer. Carl R. Chindblom reviewed the life of Mr. Ericson and his twenty-five years' service to Chicago as a civil engineer

Asks $20,000 Damages for Fall.

Mrs. Augusta Lehmann, widow of the founder of the Fair, and her sons are made defendants to suit for $20,000 damages brought in the Superior court yesterday by Mrs. Belle Glover. The plaintiff is suing for injuries suffered when she fell from a porch of a building owned by the defendants.

JOHN J. HANBERG RECOVERING: BUSSE CONTENT AT HOSPITAL.

Mayor Tries to Move About and Gives Up Hurrying to Own House—Chief Shippy Sends Cheerful Report.

John J. Hanberg, commissioner of public works, was declared on the way to recovery yesterday. Dr. Charles F. Swan, his physician, who has spent several hours each day since the first of the week at his bedside, said he probably will be out at the end of ten days.

His temperature was below the 100 degree mark the greater part of the day and rose only slightly at night. Dr. Swan concluded the diagnosis of ptomaine poisoning which he had begun to credit twenty-four hours before was correct.

Mayor Busse has so far recovered from his restless desire to leave Mercy hospital that it is uncertain whether he will go to his residence on the north side today. An heroic experiment of permitting him to move about—tried by Dr. John B. Murphy—brought about this result, and since that time the mayor has shown a disposition to let his removal come in the natural order of events.

"Tell all of my friends that I am gradually regaining my former good health and that I will be back at my desk in the city hall Sept. 1." This message was brought from Chief of Police George M. Shippy, who is resting at the summer home of Lieut. Max Heidelmeier at Petoskey, Mich., by Sergeant Miller of the Central station.

SCHOOL TEACHER ENDS PANIC

Young Woman Controls Theater Crowd Frightened by Fire.

TWO CHILDREN RESCUED.

Gasoline Explosion in Tailor Shop Starts Blaze in Thirty-first Street.

An explosion of gasoline in a tailor shop at 200 Thirty-first street, which was at first thought to be bomb No. 32, created a panic in the Delphi 5 cent theater last night.

Hundreds of persons who were walking on the street at the time of the explosion hurried to the scene and watched the rescue of two children from an apartment on the third floor of the building as the flames suddenly spread out on all sides.

The report of the explosion terrified the patrons of the theater, which is located at 209 Thirty-first street. Miss Edith Hurd, 3254 State street, a school teacher, was near the entrance of the theater and prevented a crush at the door by taking command and directing the exit of the audience as if they were school children in a fire drill.

Feared Loss of Life.

"It seemed miraculous that no one was hurt in getting out of the theater," she said. "People rushed to the door and women fainted. For a time it looked as if there would be loss of life."

The flames in the burning building ascended rapidly inside the walls and threatened the apartments on the second and third floors. Russell and Margaret Gabriel, 11 and 13 years old, who lived with their uncle, John H. Shertzer, on the third floor, were carried from their sleeping rooms down the burning stairway by Peter Morgan, who rushed into the house as soon as he saw it in flames.

He was cheered as he came out of the building with a child on either arm. They were uninjured.

Three Families Escape.

The second floor was occupied by Edward Buckley and family, Mr. and Mrs Joseph Potter, and Mrs. Mary Gorman and child. They all escaped unharmed.

The entire front and portions of the walls of the building were shattered by the explosion. Glass was thrown across the street. It was at first believed that S. Sleive, the proprietor of the tailor shop, had been killed and a search was made for his body, but he could not be found.

The cause of the explosion is not definitely known. It occurred after the shop had been locked up for two hours. It is known that a can of gasoline was in the room. The total loss is estimated at $6,000.

Elevator Burns Near Gas Tank.

An explosion of the tank of the People's Gas Light and Coke company less than half a block away was feared by firemen who faced the intense heat of a fire early in the evening which destroyed the Rock Island elevator at Sixty-third street and the Rock Island railroad and spread to the yards of the Tuthill Lath and Lime company. The loss is estimated at $20,000. The elevator, which had not been used for over a year and was owned by the Fort Wayne Transfer company, was ablaze from basement to roof when the first fire company arrived. The fire evidently started in the interior and is believed to have been caused by tramps who have frequented the place. The building was not insured.

Employés of the gas company led fifteen horses from their barns. Policemen were stationed about the huge gas tank to extinguish fire brands that settled near it. The burned building was in the yards of the lumber company.

MAN ATTACKS GIRL NEAR HOME.

Child Seized While Wheeling Baby Sister in Street, but Screams Put Stranger to Flight.

A stranger attacked Mary Muldoon, 11 years old, while she was wheeling a baby carriage containing her infant sister at North Forty-fourth and Fullerton avenues yesterday afternoon. He spoke to her a few minutes and then carried her into bushes along the roadside, but her screams frightened him away. The girl ran to her home at 1030 North Forty-fourth avenue and told her mother, who notified the Cragin police. The man is about 35 years old, 5 feet 9 inches in height, smooth shaven, and dressed in black.

M'GILLEN HITS AT HANREDDY

Politician and Contractor Quarrel and End Partnership.

COMPANY UNDER RECEIVER.

Local Surety Agency Taken Over by Democratic Secretary.

Some of the intricacies of surety companies were disclosed in the Circuit court yesterday when a receiver was appointed for a local agency of the United Surety company of Baltimore, Md.

This agency was held until recently by John McGillen & Co., of which John McGillen, secretary of the Democratic county central committee, was the senior partner and in which Joseph Hanreddy, a contractor until recently on the black books of the city, who necessarily requires a great many bonds in his business, and an aid of his, Oswald F. Huncke, also were interested.

Recently the United Surety company has not been in a position to get many of the so called "political" bonds—those of office holders, and its business has been confined almost entirely to contractors—but the revelations following a disagreement among the partners were regarded as interesting.

The trouble began about April 15, when Hanreddy withdrew from the partnership, thereby dissolving it. Since that time there have been efforts to arbitrate the differences, but Hanreddy and Huncke took the matter into court.

Two Bills Against McGillen.

Hanreddy filed a bill against McGillen and Huncke, and Huncke filed a bill against McGillen, so that the Democratic politician was the only one really on the defensive. He met the attacks with a statement that he would be glad to have a receiver appointed.

Judge Charles M. Walker declined to hear the case because of his acquaintance with McGillen, and turned the contestants over to Judge Mangan of Aurora, who has been hearing Judge Gibbons' calendar. Judge Mangan appointed as receiver Thomas McGuire of the McGuire & White detective agency, who previously had been agreed upon as an arbitrator.

In the bills filed by James A. Brady and Harry H. Barnum, attorneys for Hanreddy, and by Francis W. Hinckley for Huncke several assertions were made "on information and belief." It was alleged that McGillen diverted the firm's funds to his own use, that he executed partnership notes as collateral for his own notes, on which he borrowed money for his own use, and that he failed to report the receipt of premiums to the United Surety company's main office.

Mr. McGillen's statement afforded perhaps more information than came from any other source.

"Hanreddy was mixed up in the early affairs of the company," he said, "and when the present management took hold they started to get rid of all the old agents.

Approached by Hanreddy.

"Hanreddy then began to look around for some one to aid him in holding his agency. He came to me with the proposition. I consented to go in with him and on that he succeeded in having the agency papers issued to John McGillen & Co.

"Huncke was employed by him to look after his risks and his liabilities on his contracts and engaged in active work in the office. We organized in March, 1907, and the partnership lasted two years.

"The real trouble was that, while I was in control, Hanreddy got no bonds except where he could show his responsibility and his ability to carry out his contracts. That didn't satisfy him. I wasn't easy enough with him, so he set out to oust me and put in somebody who might be easier to handle—perhaps Huncke.

Gets Sole Power of Attorney.

"The president of the surety company, Henry G. Penniman, came here from the east on Monday, and on Tuesday I was given the sole power of attorney for the company in Illinois. Thus Hanreddy's plan was defeated.

"After that it was agreed that W. W. Gurley should act as arbitrator to wind up the affairs of the old company, and President Penniman left for Minneapolis last evening with the understanding that that agreement had been fixed beyond a doubt.

"Then they went into court this morning with a lot of charges that already had been thrashed out with the company—nothing but malicious spitework to hurt me. It was only because my attorneys felt that the appointment of a receiver was the shortest way out of the difficulty that we did not fight the case."

MRS. M'HIE GIVEN DIVORCE QUICKLY AFTER FILING SUIT.

Decree Entered in Short Order—Paul Handke Parted from Spouse, Who Preferred Carl Wunderle.

An hour and a half after Mrs. Minnie L. McHie filed her suit for a divorce from Sidmon McHie yesterday she was granted a decree by Judge Stough in the Circuit court.

McHie is a wealthy broker. His wife alleged desertion. Her attorneys filed the bill for divorce at 2:49 o'clock, the answer was in at 2:52 o'clock, and the replication at 2:54 o'clock. The divorce was granted at 4:45.

Paul Handke, formerly a member of the Thomas orchestra, also was granted a divorce from Mrs. Elizabeth Handke by Judge Stough. Last April Mrs. Handke deserted her husband for Carl Wunderle, a violinist and former member of the same orchestra. Handke then told the story of his marital troubles. He said he had invited Wunderle to his house, 2052 Magnolia avenue. Later, he said, Wunderle and his wife became infatuated with each other.

A bill for divorce was filed by Mrs. Handke later, and Handke asserted that he would not contest the case, but subsequently he filed a cross bill, and now has been given a decree. Wunderle was named as a corespondent.

Mrs. Lydia R. Kerr has a passion for playing cards, is extravagant, and cares little for household affairs, Joseph H. Kerr, her husband, alleges in an affidavit filed in reply to her suit for separate maintenance. Kerr is president of the Missouri River Dispatch.

CARS FOR FULLERTON AVENUE.

Improvement Association Learns Line Will Be Built from Milwaukee to Fortieth at Once.

The Fullerton Avenue Improvement association learned last night that cars would be running in Fullerton avenue from Milwaukee avenue to Fortieth avenue within six weeks, and that the street probably would be paved before fall. This promise was made by Albert F. Keeney of the board of local improvements in a talk before the association in the Covenant Evangelical Lutheran church, Fullerton avenue and Ballou street. He declared he had been assured that from 175 to 200 men would be put to work next week on the construction work, and that the paving would follow the building of the tracks.

ASKS EX-JUDGE FOR BOOKS.

Richard W. Clifford Requested to Return Court Reports—He Believes They Are His Property.

William McLaren, superintendent of public service, sent a letter yesterday to Richard W. Clifford, formerly judge in the Circuit court, asking him to return 124 volumes of Illinois court reports to the county.

"I believe the books belong to me, but if they do not I will readily and gladly give them back to the county," said Mr. Clifford last night. "It is the practice all over the state to take such books as the state gives the judge, and in taking these I did only what is done throughout the state."

ALTMAN RELEASED ON $20,000 BONDS

UNION AGAINST POLICE.

Carpenters' Secret Service Bureau Found Combating Hunt for Crooks.

Vincent A. Altman, labor leader and former policeman, who on Thursday was held to the grand jury for the explosion of "bomb 31," was released on $20,000 bail late yesterday afternoon. John T. Kennedy, a wholesale liquor dealer, and William Schimberg, saloonkeeper, one of the bondsmen for Joseph Altman, gave the surety.

Immediately before his release Altman received newspaper reporters in the "bundle cage" of the jail and again protested his innocence, and his lawyers later supplemented his statement with a declaration that the "Frank Smith," who bought the fuse was not Altman, that they would produce the purchaser of the fuse, and also show the "real bomb thrower" when the case comes up for trial. The attorneys promised other surprises.

It was disclosed that the "carpenters' secret service bureau" had been working in direct opposition to the police, and that these amateur detectives will make a secret report of their investigations at a meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor tomorrow.

Reward Brought Out "Tip."

Attorney Daniel L. Cruice, general counsel for the Chicago Federation of Labor; John D. Farrell, counsel for the Carpenters' union; and Attorney James T. Brady, said to have been employed by outside interests, unite in saying that the person who gave the police their original "tip" had in sight the $5,500 reward that has been offered for the apprehension of the criminals. They also declare that the reward will go "several ways," and that the conviction of Altman would put the witnesses against Altman in line to share in the distribution.

The defending lawyers are beginning to find fault with the way Altman has been identified by the witnesses, remarking that it was unjust to call him aside for the purpose of being viewed, and saying the proper way would have been to let him mix up with twelve or fifteen other prisoners and let the witnesses pick him out.

Acting Chief Schuettler, Acting Assistant Chief Lavin, and Capt. O'Brien are saying little, but it is rumored from inside circles that the police are still seeking other principals. The man still being sought may not be wanted for this last outrage.

Witness Scared Into Admissions.

"I don't care anything about the reward," said Lavin when told of the suspicions of the labor men. "The city council exempted policemen from the $3,000 the city offers, and while there may be no string to the $2,500 from the telephone company I would not permit one of my men to take a cent. Nobody came forward to volunteer anything. The best witness we have—a man who has not yet been heard—had the life frightened out of him, and we practically dragged him in and forced him to tell what he saw and heard."

One of the strong points of the prosecution was a statement credited to William Loos, an organizer for the carpenters, who is supposed to have told of hearing Altman say previous to the explosion, "You'll soon hear a big noise." Altman declares Loos never reported such a remark and that he can convince Loos he is mistaken if he says he saw him in the vicinity just previous to the explosion. The union has telegraphed Loos at Washington, D. C., to hasten back to Chicago.

A conference of Capt. John Halpin, in charge of the South Chicago and Hegewisch police station, and Acting Chief Lavin in the evening gave rise to a report that Altman had been connected with the blowing up of the Illinois Central railroad bridge at One Hundred and Twenty-eighth street and the Calumet river several months ago. Also it was said the Altman brothers had knowledge of the murder of John Lynch, a watchman employed by the American Bridge company, at Thirty-ninth street and the South branch of the Chicago river.

Lavin and Halpin denied both reports.

CLASH OVER IDENTIFICATION OF YOUNG SUICIDE'S BODY.

Brother of Lucien A. Dreyfus and Former Employer of Dead Man Differ—Coroner Postpones Inquest.

Positive identification by relatives yesterday of the body of Lucien Abraham Dreyfus, the supposed scion of a wealthy French family, who committed suicide Thursday night in front of the Chicago avenue police station, dispelled much of the mystery in the case.

Paul Dreyfus, who is employed at the National City bank, identified the body as that of his brother. The identification was confirmed by Sol Klee, a cousin.

Despondency over a love affair and the fact that warrants had been issued for his arrest are believed to have been Dreyfus' reason for taking his life.

Elements of mystery surrounded the case in the morning when Ike Pivan, 150 Milwaukee avenue, appeared and said Dreyfus had worked for him and the body was not that of Dreyfus.

TAFT'S BIG STICK HITS THE TARIFF

First Statement from White House Is Blow to Pleaders for Privilege.

PROMISES MUST BE KEPT.

Declares He Represents Whole People and Demands Revision Downward.

fects and inconsistencies, but in so far as the president's influence went when called upon to act in connection with legislation it would be thrown in the direction of performing the promises of the party as he understood them, and that if iron ore and oil and coal and hides did not need protection and the conditions were such as to enable the ore producers and the oil producers and the coal producers and the producers of hides to compete successfully, without reduction of wages, with the producers from abroad, then they did not need a duty and their articles should go on the free list.

Question of Fact for Taft.

"It was a question of fact which the president hoped to make up his mind with respect to, on such evidence as was available to him, in order to carry out what he understood to be the promises of the party to the whole people.

"The president said he felt that his position as the titular head of the Republican party and as president, with the whole people as his constituency, gave him a somewhat broader point of view than that of a single member of congress in respect to articles produced in his district.

"The president felt strongly the call of the country for a downward revision within the limitations of the protective principle, and he hoped to be able to respond to that call as he heard it, as well in the interests of the party as of the country."

Settles Question Decisively.

The above statement will settle once and for all any question of what the president meant in the tariff speeches he made during the last campaign. He has been criticised in many quarters for his failure to interpret these speeches. He has kept silent since he has been in the White house because he did not wish to embarrass either the house or the senate while they were framing the tariff bill by proclaiming opinions which might have been construed as pressure for the purpose of forcing congress to give what he deemed essential.

The president is averse to interference in legislative business of the government. Now that the two houses have acted he came to the conclusion that the time had arrived when he properly could speak.

He was influenced in this decision by representations which had been made to him by practically all the conferees. He had told them what he wanted. They had tried to reach an agreement among themselves. But when they sounded their colleagues, who would have to sustain their conclusions, they found themselves face to face with what practically was an impossible situation.

Clash of Interests.

The senators and members from middle and northwestern states who favor a duty on hides asserted they never would consent to the transfer of this raw material to the free list.

Michigan, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, and Ohio were insistent that duties should be placed upon coal and iron.

Crude oil advocates from Kansas and California declared they would not approve a bill which failed to protect that commodity. Numerous senators and representatives interested in the maintenance of a high duty on lumber demanded that the senate rate of $1.50 should be maintained.

A combination of these various congressmen was in process of formation for the purpose of preventing favorable action by the two houses upon the report of the conferees.

President Taft was informed of these important developments. He was told that the time had arisen when, if he was to secure the concessions he desired, he must apply direct personal pressure to the recalcitrants.

He was told further that he must make a statement which would supply them with a good excuse for abandoning their attitude and enable them to make a defense before their constituents. Therefore, arrangements were made for some of the most earnest opponents of the president's policy in the house to call upon him, present their views, and listen to his observations in response.

Confer at White House.

The conference took place today. Twenty-two Republican representatives and one protection Democrat comprised the delegation. The states represented included New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, Michigan, Wyoming, and California.

All of these states are keenly interested in lumber, iron and coal industries. Michigan, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, and Alabama advocate high lumber duties; Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Tennessee seek high duties on iron and steel; Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky, Wyoming, and Tennessee insist upon high duties on coal.

Wyoming, representing the northwestern states, is anxious for high rates on hides and coal and California wants maximum duty on iron ore and crude oil.

Brave the Taft Hammer.

Representatives Hamilton and Young, of Michigan; Kennedy, Keifer, Johnson, and Joyce, of Ohio; Tener, Bates, and Barchfeld, of Pennsylvania; Gaines, Sturgiss, Hubbard, and Woodyard of West Virginia; Slemp of Virginia; Langley and Edwards, of Kentucky; Austin of Tennessee; Richardson of Alabama; Cowles and Grant, of North Carolina; Southwick of New York, Mondell of Wyoming, and Hayes of California.

The men selected as spokesmen were Young, Gaines, Mondell, Langley, Cowles, Austin, and Hayes. Each dwelt upon the need of high duties in his individual district—Young on iron ore, Mondell on coal and hides, Gaines on coal and iron, Langley on coal and lumber, Cowles on lumber, Austin on coal, iron, and lumber, and Hayes on oil and iron ore.

Taft Interrupts Speakers.

The president listened with the closest attention to the arguments addressed to him, frequently interrupting to make his attitude clear. The Taft laugh was in evidence, but it was realized that behind it was a grim determination of the president to secure what he believed the needs of the entire country demand.

There was general discussion to top off more formal speeches delivered at the president, but no one got any comfort to speak of.

Representative Barchfeld, who hails from Pittsburg, was so disappointed with the president's remarks that he suggested if coal and iron ore were admitted free of duty the industrial geography of the country would be changed from the smoky city to a point near Norfolk, Va. The president did not agree with him.

It was evident that nothing said to the executive today caused any modification of his attitude. It is proposed by some of the members of the house and senate to make another effort to induce the president to alter his policy; but those who heard him speak today are convinced that he has made up his mind and that the concessions he is seeking must be granted.

Veto Is Not Suggested.

In spite of reports to the contrary the president has made no suggestion of a veto. Indeed, at the cabinet meeting he expressed the utmost confidence in securing sufficient support in the senate and the house to pass a bill containing the free list and reduced duties he desires. He has communicated the results of his conference to Senator Aldrich and Representative Payne, and they will base their further course in accordance with this information.

According to the developments in the conference, a majority of the conferees of both the senate and the house are in favor of the senate duty of $1.50 on lumber.

With reference to hides the fate of a duty rests with Hale of Maine and Penrose of Pennsylvania.

Senators Elkins and Scott of West Virginia have served notice on the conferees that there must be a duty on coal, and the coal states of the northwest are backing them up in their fight. So far as iron ore is concerned, the proposition is still favored to retain it on the dutiable list. Supported by the president, however, the conferees might be willing to meet his views with respect to these materials.

Mann at the White House.

But further reductions must be made in order to satisfy the president. He had Representative Mann of Chicago at breakfast with him and announced he would support him in his fight for a duty of $2 on print paper, which is the house rate and just half that adopted by the senate.

Secretary MacVeagh has furnished him with figures in connection with the cotton schedule and the president will insist upon lower rates for cheaper grades of this commodity.

It looks tonight as though substantial concessions will be obtained as a result of the president's intervention. The silk and woolen schedules are practically agreed upon, with the advantage to the senate.

Considerable comment was excited by an agreement reached at luncheon at the White house yesterday to authorize the secretary of the treasury to issue 3 per cent bonds to cover the entire cost of the Panama canal.

In a formal statement made today Secretary MacVeagh explained that the conference was not held at the suggestion of the secretary of the treasury. The bond resources of the department are at present ample, including $45,000,000 of unissued Panama bonds and $100,000,000 of unissued 3 per cent certificates.

Bonds to Pay for Canal.

The treasury department can well do without a new authorization, but after consultation it was decided that the government might as well embark upon the policy of paying ultimately the entire cost of the canal out of bonds.

Secretary MacVeagh declares the treasury is in a sound condition and he will only issue bonds as required.

Summing up the day's developments, it may be said that the country ought to derive great encouragement from the intervention of the president. The low tariff Republicans in both houses are jubilant.

WORK OF THE CONFEREES.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, D. C., July 16.—Better progress was made by the tariff conferees during the forenoon session today than in any day since the conference was begun. The silk schedule in its entirety was adopted and the rate on scrap iron, which enters into the open hearth process of manufacturing steel, was fixed by compromising on $1 a ton. As a result many changes in the rates of steel products, and particularly the reductions on structural steel, were adopted.

The silk schedule is one of the more important revisions of the existing law. It reduces duties on the cheaper grades of silk, but materially increases the rates on the high grades, which are classed as luxuries. The senate was victorious in the matter of fixing this schedule.

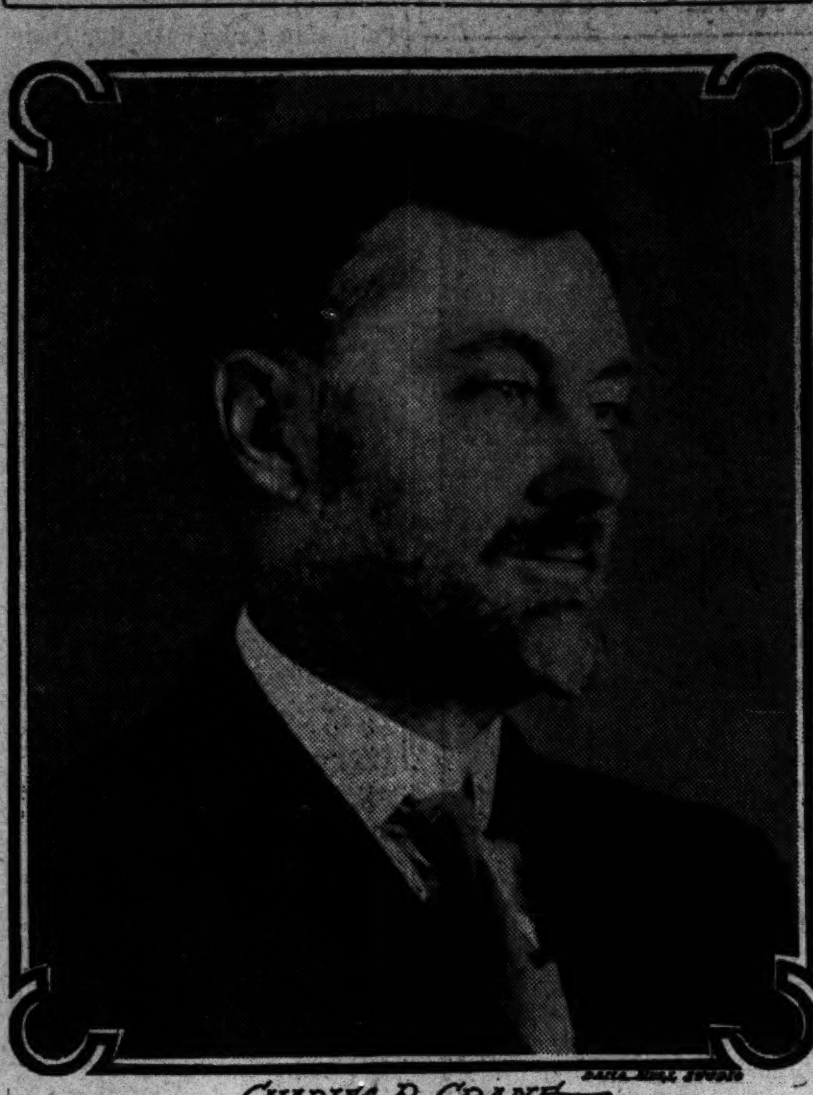
The Dingley rates on silk had been adopted by the house, but the schedule was wholly redrafted by the senate. Instead of the ad valorem rates in the Dingley law, the duties were reduced to specifics. The reductions on the cheaper grades of silk and velvet, spun silk in yarns or piece goods, amount to something over 5 cents a pound. On some of the extremely high priced chenilles, chiffons, velvets, and silks advances in rates are made amounting in some cases to 5 and 10 per cent. The whole schedule on the basis of the importations of 1907 is slightly increased, as most of the lower priced goods are manufactured in the United States.

Woolen Schedule Taken Up.

The woolen schedule was taken up, and after a brief discussion, in which the house members made a determined effort to have the rate on wool tops reduced, the whole subject was referred to a subcommittee. The senate members are Messrs. Carter, Warren, and Smoot, who represent wool states, but are not members of the conference. The house members are Fordney of Michigan and McCall of Massachusetts. The subcommittee will endeavor to compromise so as to provide for downward revision so far as this can be done without injury to the wool growers.

The conferees agreed to accept the senate amendments increasing about 15 per cent the existing duties on wines, spirits, and liquors.

Chicagoan Made Minister to China.



CHARLES R. CRANE

CHICAGOANS CALL ON TAFT.

Delegation Led by Representative Foss Tells of Downward Revision Sentiment.

Washington, D. C., July 16.—[Special.]—Representative Foss and the men here from Chicago, who are in close touch with business conditions there, today told President Taft that the sentiment for downward revision is not the least bit displeasing to that community.

Mr. Foss said to the president that the Chicago people are strongly for downward revision and believe the duties all along the lines should be lower. He introduced Kenneth Barnhart of Marshall Field & Co., and Francis T. Simmons of Simmons & Co., who are in Washington for the purpose of urging the retention of the senate duties on gloves and hosiery.

They registered their wish that President Taft would do whatever is in his power to convince the members of the conference committee that the duties proposed by the house on these commodities are entirely too high and that the senate rates, which are the same as the Dingley law, should prevail.

Tomorrow the president will receive the delegation of Chicago shoe manufacturers and independent tanners, which includes J. Harry Selz, Milton Florsheim, H. C. McConnell, and J. F. Pratt. This contingent will talk about free hides.

Seek to Escape Inheritance Tax.

Walter Spencer, Morgan Burns, Mary E. Harcourt, and Mary Lyman Burns of London, England, filed a petition in the County court yesterday to be relieved from paying an inheritance tax on $75,000 in real estate in this county left by Walter Hayes Burns, brother-in-law of J. Pierpont Morgan.

CRANE OUTLINES POLICY IN CHINA

PLANS AMERICAN GAINS.

Chicagoan Aims to Give United States Foothold in "Richest Market in the World."

New York, July 16.—[Special.]—Charles R. Crane of Chicago, who on Thursday told President Taft he would accept the post of minister to China, which had been offered to him by the president early in the month, was in New York today consulting men whose knowledge about the country where his mission lies will be of value. He will leave for Peking about the middle of September.

Mr. Crane is a business man and a Democrat. He first came into the diplomatic field last November and until that time never voted anything but the straight Democratic ticket. Although unacquainted with the technicalities of diplomacy, the new minister to China will go to his post with qualifications of an unusual character.

One of his rare achievements is familiarity with the Chinese language. The far east is a broken road to him through years of travel both in frequented and unfrequented parts; and his acquaintance with men of the yellow races whose names are powers in their respective countries of the orient.

He has made three extended trips in Central Asia and eighteen into Russia, with the result that many Russian as well as Chinese statesmen know him personally. Two years were spent by him in exploring the Asiatic coast.

Not Political Reward.

Mr. Crane said that he did not regard his appointment to China as a reward for political activity, inasmuch as he voted the Republican ticket for the first time in his life last November. For several years he has been president of the Municipal Voters' league of Chicago, but that hardly figures as a national political factor. At the Century club, where he stopped on his way from Washington to his summer home at Woods Hole, Mass., he spoke about his aims as diplomatic representative of the United States.

"Without meaning to detract from the importance of other diplomatic positions, I long have considered the Peking post of unusual ,perhaps predominating importance to our nation," said Mr. Crane. "One of the principal aims of my incumbency will be aiding American enterprise to secure and maintain an adequate foothold in a country which promises to be the richest market of the world.

"My reason for accepting the Peking post are not a result of hasty action, but spring from ideas and opinions which have been formulating for years.

Only Post He Would Accept.

"I may say that, highly complimented as I would be by any opportunity to serve my country in an honorable capacity, I would not have accepted any other position in the government.

"Indeed, I would have hesitated to accept this post under different circumstances, but the fact that President Taft, in whom I have great confidence, is personally familiar with the issues of the eastern question and that this knowledge probably will assure a progressive and enlightened American policy in China, and that the representatives of our government there will have sympathetic cooperation at Washington, makes me willing to undertake a responsibility which otherwise might seem to onerous.

"Secretary Knox's attitude toward China, as already indicated by his energy in promoting American interests there, also encourages me.

"In my opinion China is the focus of the world's greatest international problem. I regard the interest of the United States in this problem as fundamental.

America's Interest Greatest.

"I can think of no foreign nation in whose progress, prosperity, and security the United tSates has greater interest.

"While America's policy in China must be founded, as President Taft said in his speech at Shanghai in 1907, upon a broad platform of real international equity and mutual self-respect, it will turn upon political issues.

"Its greater interest to Americans lies in the commercial opportunity which trade with China presents. The great industrial expansion which China is just entering upon opens an immense field for American enterprise, and our government should aid it in securing and maintaining a foothold there.

"If, during my incumbency, I can contribute to improving the relations of America and China and to cementing the community of interests which binds the two nations together I shall feel satisfied."

Mr. Crane will be the guest on Tuesday of several bankers who are interested in American participation in big Chinese railway loans, a matter which interests Secretary Knox.

TAFT FAVORS CHICAGOANS.

It is a matter of comment that so many Chicagoans have found favor with President Taft. He departed from an established rule in formally announcing the appointment of Mr. Crane before China had indicated whether or not he would be acceptable. Indeed, word to that effect has not yet been received in Washington.

Mr. Crane was chosen after the post had been offered to Stuyvesant Fish, who refused it. Among other men conspicuous in the affairs of this country who have been mentioned since the transfer and promotion of Minister Rockhill are President Delano of the Wabash railroad, John Hays Hammond, the wealthy mining engineer, Former Senator Long of Kansas, and Former Senator Fulton of Oregon.

Friends Here Enthusiastic.

The announcement of Mr. Crane's appointment was received with expressions of enthusiastic approval in Chicago.

"President Taft and the entire country are to be congratulated most heartily," declared Walter L. Fisher. "Mr. Crane's qualifications for the post are extraordinary. He is not only familiar with the social and political conditions of the far east, but also has a practical knowledge of commercial conditions. These facts, coupled with his high personal character and his sincere devotion to the public welfare, make him an ideal man for this most important diplomatic position. Once more Chicago has reason to be proud of the public spirit of her successful men of affairs."

"As a man thoroughly familiar with business, commercial manufacturing, and industrial lines, President Taft couldn't have chosen a better minister to China than Mr. Crane," he said. "China is on the eve of an era of great commercial development and the United States needs a man of large caliber as its representative.

Eminently Fitted for Post.

"Mr. Crane is eminently fitted for the position. His peculiar fitness lies in his experience in organization and in his familiarity with industrial, financial, and commercial affairs. The appointment is a crowning compliment to Chicago. The president seems to know where to turn to find men of large caliber when they are needed."

Kazuo Matsubara, Japanese consul to Chicago, declined to discuss the appointment.

"It would be a breach of international etiquette," he said.

Mr. Crane is a native Chicagoan, having been born in this city on Aug. 7, 1858. He is a son of R. T. Crane, founder of the Crane company, and Mary Prentiss Crane. He was educated in the public schools of Chicago. In compliance with his father's well known ideas as to collegiate education, Mr. Crane entered the employ of the Crane company as soon as his school days were over. In 1881, when he was 23 years old, he was married to Miss Cornelia [illegible]. Smith of Paterson, N. J.

Takes Up Civic Duties.

He served the Crane company in various capacities, learning the manufacturing business step by step, until in 1894 he became first vice president. With his advancement Mr. Crane found time to take up civic duties and to branch out into other commercial enterprises. He served as president of the Municipal Voters' league for a time and became a director of the National Bank of the Republic, a position which he holds at the present time.

Then he took charge of the foreign business of the Crane company, and in this capacity he devoted several years to traveling in all parts of the world. He spent much of his time in Russia and China studying commercial conditions and making himself familiar with the languages.

He was received at the Russian court and is regarded as an authority on Russian affairs.

In February, 1904, he gave $10,000 to the "young empress" fund for Russian soldiers and sailors through Count Rostoftsoff, chancellor of the empire, and was the recipient of the empress' grateful thanks.

Travels Through China.

Mr. Crane also spent much of his time in China. The interests of his company took him into almost every province and brought him into close contact with all classes. This experience and his ability to read the Chinese language were factors in bringing him to the favorable notice of President Taft for the appointment of United States ambassador to China. He is a connoisseur of old and rare books and paintings.

Mr. Crane is a member of the Chicago Literary, Chicago, Calumet, University, Chicago Athletic, and Iroquois clubs, and of the American Economic association. His home is at 2559 Michigan avenue.

ALDRICH BILL IS ATTACKED AS "GRAFT" BY LA FOLLETTE.

Based Upon Greed and Pull, Declares Wisconsin Senator in Editorial in His Magazine.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 16.—[Special.]—The leading editorial in Senator La Follette's magazine tomorrow gives the Aldrich tariff bill a severe scoring, saying the measure is based upon greed, graft, and pull, and not on principle.

The editorial says:

"The Aldrich tariff bill has passed the senate in all substantial particulars just as the senator from Rhode Island dictated it. In substantially the same form it will become a law. It will stand as the crowning infamy of its sponsor and it will hang as the 'Old Man of the Sea' upon the neck of the political party responsible for its enactment.

"It was framed in secret conference with the representatives of special interests. It was framd in the dark and in willful ignorance of facts which by the platform pledges of the Republican party were bound to control in the framing of legislation.

"All efforts to harmonize its schedules with any recognized principle of tariff legislation are hopeless, for it is not based upon principle, but upon greed and graft and 'pull.' Its passage in the senate was promoted by cheap trickery, jobbery, chicanery and manipulation.

"There is hardly a powerful special interest or great trust combination in the country that is not made its special beneficiary. It is a slap in the face of the overwhelming demand for tariff revision downward."

BOND RESOURCES OF NATION AMPLE

Panama Canal Issues Will Be Made Only When Occasion Requires.

MAC VEAGH ON THE PLAN.

Says Treasury View Was Asked When Tariff Conferees Took It Up.

Washington, D. C., July 16.—The bond resources of the treasury department are ample, declares Secretary MacVeagh in a statement issued at the treasury today, and even if congress authorizes 3 per cent bonds to cover the entire cost of the Panama canal, less the amount already issued, the bonds "will only be issued as required." The statement follows:

"The conference yesterday over the matter of bond legislation in the new tariff bill was not held at the suggestion of the secretary of the treasury. The bond resources of the treasury department are at present ample, including $45,000,000 of unissued Panama bonds, and $100,000,000 of unissued 3 per cent certificates.

Treasury View Was Asked.

It was, however, contemplated that the tariff bill should contain a new authorization of bonds. The house bill contained two authorizations, one of $40,000,000 of new Panama bonds and one of an additional $150,000,000 of 3 per cent certificates. The finance committee of the senate at first intended to include bond legislation, but finally decided to omit it and let that matter go over until the next session of congress, when it was supposed that the banking and currency question would be considered and when the government bond question might have to be altogether reconsidered.

"This decision of the finance committee was acquiesced in by the treasury department, because it was a matter of comparative indifference to it, as it could do without a new authorization. The consultation yesterday was due to the fact that the question had come to be considered by the conference committees, and the treasury department was asked for its views.

Proposition Entirely Acceptable.

"The preference manifested for an authorization of 3 per cent bonds to cover the entire cost of the Panama canal, less the amount of Panama bonds already issued, was entirely acceptable, as it would confirm the policy of paying ultimately the entire cost of the Panama canal out of bonds. It goes without saying that even if such authorization is made the bonds will only be issued as required.

"This explanation is made because of some misunderstanding of the attitude of the treasury department."

Three Per Cent Maximum.

The 3 per cent interest is a maximum proposition, the purpose being to authorize interest of "not to exceed" 3 per cent. This is regarded by those concerned in the plan for bond authorization as better than a flat limitation, permitting as it does the fixing of less than 3 per cent if found feasible while meeting the objection raised as to the present nonmarketability of such bonds at so low a figure as 2 per cent.

It is left to the secretary's discretion within that maximum limit and, in case the issue of any part of the amount is determined upon at any time, or from time to time, the marketable conditions of course will govern.

The provision in the proposed legislation that will govern the tax on circulation will follow the existing law.

FLAW IN INCOME TAX BILL.

Representative Wilson Finds That a Clerical Error Was Made in Transmission.

Washington, D. C., July 16.—[Special.]—Representative William W. Wilson of Illinois, chairman of the house committee on enrolled bills, today unearthed a clerical error in the transmission of a recently adopted resolution submitting the income tax constitutional amendment to the states, which, if it had been allowed to pass unnoticed, perhaps would have invalidated the measure.

The measure was received by Mr. Wilson's committee as complete and ready for enrollment, after which it would be forwarded to the president for his signature.

On perusing it, Mr. Wilson discovered the attest of the clerk of the house had been omitted from the copy of the resolution, probably through an oversight. It being necessary to have this formality carried out Mr. Wilson refused to enroll the bill, and returned it to the senate, where it originated. The officials of that body will require that the necessary attest be made by the house clerk.

SAYLER'S WIDOW COWERS IN CELL

Woman, Held with Doctor Who Killed Husband, Fears Mob Will Storm Jail.

HAD OTHER ADMIRERS?

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Watseka, Ill., July 16.—[Special.]—Frightened by the numerous reports that mob violence may be used to avenge the killing of Banker John Byron Sayler of Crescent City, Mrs. Lucy Sayler, widow of the dead man, who is held as an accessory to the crime, today asked Sheriff Heikes to take her to a jail in some other county.

Since Deputy Sheriff Edward Heikes fired upon two unidentified men who were prowling near the jail last night, the woman prisoner has been extremely nervous. Reports coming to the jail from time to time have intensified Mrs. Sayler's fear that friends of her dead husband may take the law into their own hands. As a result she is said to be on the verge of a nervous collapse.

Early in the day Mrs. Heikes, the sheriff's wife, was awakened by hearing Mrs. Sayler calling from her cell. The prisoner's face was pressed close against the steel bars and she was sobbing.

Shooting Frightens Widow.

"What was that shooting?" she asked. "Are they going to do anything? Do you think they could break into the jail and take us out?"

Mrs. Heikes assured her that the shooting she heard had nothing to do with the case, and told her there was absolutely no danger of any mob attacking the jail. She told her the sheriff was prepared for any attack, and that all the population of Crescent City could not batter down the steel doors.

This seemed to quiet Mrs. Sayler's fears for the time being, but she continued pacing her cell and did not lie down on her cot until daybreak.

Later she sent for Sheriff Heikes and asked him if it were not possible for him to have her removed to some other jail than that in Iroquois county.

"Take me any place," she said, "but don't keep me here. I'm afraid of something. It seems I can hear people breaking down the doors of the jail and I cannot sleep. I'm afraid I can't stand it any longer. If I were in some other jail I would feel safer."

Fears Slain Husband's Kin.

"You can't tell what those Saylers will do," she continued. "They might come over here any time and attempt to take the doctor and me out of jail."

Sheriff Heikes told Mrs. Sayler her fears were groundless, that there was not the least danger of a mob, and even if there were he could withstand any attack upon the jail. He refused to remove her to any other jail and declared that he was perfectly capable of guarding his prisoners at all times.

"This talk of a mob is absurd now," he said. "Monday or Tuesday there was some danger that the friends of Sayler might attempt to revenge themselves on the prisoners. But it is all over now and there is not the least probability of anything happening. The jail is fully guarded and we are well stocked with Winchester rifles. It would have to be a pretty courageous mob that would attack us."

Miller Keeps His "Nerve."

Dr. William R. Miller, who is directly charged with the murder of the banker, is said to be one of the coolest prisoners ever confined in the Iroquois county jail. Unlike Mrs. Sayler, his alleged "affinity," he laughs at all reports of mob violence and declares that the Crescent City people are "afraid of their shadows." He whistles most of the time.

While Dr. Miller was said to have been in love with Mrs. Sayler, it is declared that the widow of the banker has had several "strings to her bow." It is declared that she often visited in other cities and that she received the attentions of other men.

State's Attorney Pallissard, who is making a thorough investigation of the alleged murder, said he had received information that a wealthy commission merchant of Chicago was at one time a constant visitor at Crescent City and often was in the company of Mrs. Sayler. It is said that he seemed to be friendly to Dr. Miller also and that he accompanied him and Mrs. Sayler on several hunting expeditions.

Always Dressed Like a Man.

On these occasions, it is declared, Mrs. Sayler always was garbed in men's clothing; overalls, hunting jacket, and boots belonging to her husband.

While it is not known definitely whether the commission man was interested unusually in the banker's wife, the Iroquois county prosecutor said he would try and find the man in the hope that he would obtain some valuable information.

The state's attorney is working night and day in an effort to clear up the mystery of the shooting, which has aroused the entire county. Search is being made for the dress worn by Mrs. Sayler on the night of the killing. It is reported that a bloody mark of a watch chain similar to that worn by Banker Sayler was found on this garment. Mrs. Sayler has declared she was not present when her husband was shot, and the prosecution expects to show she was in the room when her husband breathed his last.

Ill Report from Pennsylvania.

Mr. Pallissard and Cashier Nightingale of the Crescent City bank have received letters from a man in Blairsville, Pa., where Dr. Miller formerly lived, stating that the physician has been known as a "bad character," and at times threatened the lives of different persons. It is probable that an assistant state's attorney will be sent to Blairsville to investigate the past career of the physician.

Some of the most important evidence against Dr. Miller, bearing on his alleged relations with Mrs. Sayler, is said to have been left by the slain banker in letters in a private vault in the bank at Crescent City, although everything relating to these documents is being kept a close secret by the brothers of the dead man and the state's attorney. A personal letter also was left by Sayler for his daughter, Golda.

"Every one who knows anything about those papers is bound to secrecy," said Mr. Pallissard. "And there is not a chance that the contents will be known until the trial next November."

Daughter Given All His Wealth.

The will left by the banker gives all his property to his daughter, Golda. Whether the document will be held by the courts to be valid remains to be seen. The will was signed by only one witness, Cashier Nightingale, and in Illinois the law requires the signature of two witnesses.

Mr. Nightingale conferred with his attorney regarding the probability of probating the will.

Mrs. L. Cora Miller, wife of the accused physician, was expected to arrive in Watseka tonight. She did not appear, however, and it is believed she will get here tomorrow evening. She will go first to the jail to visit her husband, and then to the home of her brother-in-law, Dr. H. S. Bossart, in Buckley, Ill., a few miles southwest of here.

It is expected that she will do everything to aid Miller in his defense, although it is believed she will give information against Mrs. Sayler.

Girls Who Will Sell the Programs at Aldermen vs. Legislators' Game.

MISS ELLA TRINER

MISS MYRTLE DALTON

The baseball game arranged between "nines" from the Chicago city council and the state legislature at the National league park, Lincoln and Polk streets, next Saturday afternoon, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the Ephpheta School for the Deaf, promises to be interesting for several reasons.

Pretty young women—among them Miss Myrtle Dalton, Miss Mae Coyne, and Miss Ella Triner—will sell programs, Gov. Deneen and Mayor Busse will pitch the first ball for their respective sides, and J. "Ham" Lewis will umpire.

The work of the school is nonsectarian and broadly charitable, but its resources have been overtaxed and many mute children have been turned away because of the lack of room. The school depends entirely upon charity and needs funds for the construction of its new building at Belmont and Fortieth avenues. The use of the ball park and all services have been donated.

Prominent men are patrons of the school, among them being Archbishop James E. Quigley, Gov. Deneen, Mayor Busse, State's Attorney Wayman, Col. Lewis, Corporation Counsel E. J. Brundage, Bishop A. J. McGavick, Bishop Paul P. Rhode, George W. Jackson, Chief of Police Shippy, Leon Mandel, A. C. Bartlett, A. H. Revell, and Bishop Elect E. M. Dunne.

"CRIB" PROOF QUIZ IS GIVEN

Examination for Police Lieutenancies Under Tight Conditions.

NO QUESTIONS IN ADVANCE.

List Made Out After Applicants Gather in Schoolroom.

The "tightest" examination in the history of the municipal civil service commission, according to President Elton Lower, was that for police lieutenancies held yesterday morning.

Because of the extreme precautions taken to guard the questions and the applicants he declared that there was not a possibility that one candidate for promotion had an unfair advantage over another, and he was satisfied that each of the papers was a true record of each man's ability.

In addition, the examination was said by police officials to have been one of the most satisfactory tests of efficiency ever given in the department, because the questions covered the entire field of what a lieutenant should know. So pleased were the interested city officials that they asserted a real advance in methods had been made and that it should stand as a precedent to be followed closely.

Thirty-four Stay Away.

The one circumstance that aroused curious comment was the fact that only 181 out of 215 elegibles appeared for the test, which, it was said, might support the rumor that some one had "stung" a number of applicants by selling them bogus lists of questions in advance. This conclusion was reached on the theory that a part of the thirty-four who failed to appear had counted on prepared "cribs" to pull them through the examination, and when they found them valueless they evaded a display of their real ignorance.

The candidates were locked in the Robert Waller school at 9 o'clock and at 9:15 the arithmetic problems and the spelling lists were given them. It was not until that time that the important lists of questions—those regarding the duties of a lieutenant and the departmental rules and regulations—were put on the mimeograph machine in the civil service commission's rooms. President Lower and Howard O. Sprogle, attorney for the commission, had been working on them for two hours prior to that time, so that there was no possibility that they had come into the hands of any of the applicants.

These papers covered with thoroughness the organization and system of the police department. They went over the jurisdiction of different courts with a special emphasis on the juvenile laws, they demanded proof of a knowledge of crime classification and of police procedure in different hypothetical cases, and they gave the candidate an opportunity to discuss in his own way one of four subjects of importance to the department—the mounted police, the drill squad, traffic regulation, or patrol duty.

Department Rules Covered.

With the rules of the departments the candidates were compelled to show more than a speaking acquaintance, several of the questions covering information that was news to President Lower when he discovered it in the rules—such as the method of securing supplies, the conditions under which a policeman may receive a reward for meritorious service, and duties in license matters.

The quest for the informant who distributed the questions for the fire captaincy examinations in advance, according to official statements, has not advanced, but President Lower is confident that he will discover the applicants who benefited by the information.

BIG TELEPHONE COMBINE IS OUTLINED IN THE EAST.

American Company of New York to Exchange Stock Share for Share with Smaller Concern.

New York, July 16.—[Special.]—The New York and New Jersey Telephone company notified its stockholders today of an offer by the American Telephone Telegraph company to exchange stock share for share.

The directors of the New York company have adopted resolutions recommending the exchange as fair and reasonable.

The offer, according to the circular, is taken "with a view to securing further improvement in service and economy in administration."

The move is regarded as being in the direction of more complete and direct control.

BOOM HARRISON AT DINNER

NEW CANDIDATE IN FIELD.

Friends of Congressman Lundin Urge His Candidacy for Mayor.

Various enthusiastic Democrats of the anti-Sullivan and pro-Harrison school of Democratic thought met last night over one of Fish Murray's shore dinners at Luna park, from which at a late hour came reports that Carter H. Harrison has been started again as a candidate for mayor.

A reliable scout who reported the progress of the dinner said that the general trend of the speeches permitted no doubt to remain in the mind of the unbiased auditor that Mr. Harrison, who was present in person, was being nominated as the candidate of the anti-Sullivan Jeffersonians.

Old Officeholders There.

Many Democrats who adorned Mr. Harrison's previous administration were present, the list including Edgar B. Tolman, corporation counsel under Mr. Harrison; Francis O'Neill, his chief of police; Frank Solon, superintendent of the street bureau; William Sexton, a former assistant corporation counsel; John P. Tansey, Harrison's campaign manager in his last primary contest; B. J. Mahoney, Thomas J. Fitzgerald, W. A. Pinkerton, and various others.

Many encomiums were passed on the four administrations of Mr. Harrison and many hopes were expressed that he would emerge from private life again and shoulder the responsibilities of municipal administration.

Roger C. Sullivan will receive these tidings at Spitsbergen, where he is due soon to arrive, and may be expected to return by an early boat.

Urged for Congress.

It is announced that at a meeting of the friends of Carl L. Barnes resolutions requesting him to become a candidate for congress in the Sixth congresional district were adopted and that a campaign committee, headed by W. Kolbe, chairman, and J. M. Kelleher, secretary, was appointed to promote his interests.

Resolutions also were passed requesting the governor to call a special election for the district in which a vacancy exists owing to the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate.

A census of the Scandinavian voters of the city, taken by a Swedish publication, has discovered a registry of 53,000 Swedish-American voters. It is said that they feel they should be given greater recognition.

Friends of Congressman Frederick Lundin, who was born in Sweden, have started a movement to get him before the Republican voters as a candidate for mayor, and the Scandinavian newspapers are printing sketches of the life of Mr. Lundin, headed "From Newsboy to Mayor."

SEES NEED OF NEW RELIGION TO APPEAL TO THE MASSES.

Prof. Ames Declares That the Church of Today Is in a Critical Position—Ends His Lectures.

Need of a new religion—one that will appeal not only to the rich and the scholastic but to the masses—was declared yesterday by Prof. Edward S. Ames in Mandel hall at the University of Chicago. The lecturer pointed to what he called a critical position of the church of today, and said that not until the influence of democracy and science are transferred from the social life to the religious will a satisfactory religion be wrought.

He predicted that the church would perish if the influences he named are not recognized in spiritual circles.

"The critics of the church," said Prof. Ames, "and these are often members of it, insist that it has in a large part become identified with the rich and scholastic circles. As a result the church has little hold upon the industrial classes. It continues to maintain ideas of God drawn from patriarchal and monarchical types of life. Consequently, it interprets spiritual relations in terms of princely favors which are bestowed upon men as free gifts."

Prof. Ames held up the banner of women's rights, claiming that the feminine element of society is not getting a square deal at present.

The lecture was the last of a series delivered by Prof. Ames. Prof. George B. Foster was in the audience.

WOMEN USE BABIES AS BATTLESHIELD

Wives of Pittsburg Strikers Take Active Part in Attacks on Troopers.

USE BRICKS AS MISSILES.

State Constabulary Makes House to House Search for Possessors of Arms.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 16.—While violence has been abandoned to a degree by the striking employes of the Pressed Steel Car company, nevertheless the situation confronting the authorities at McKees Rocks tonight is anything but calm.

A tense undercurrent of unrest is apparent and with quantities of liquor hidden about the union headquarters and the uncertain temper of the strikers and their sympathizers trouble is apprehended before daybreak.

The one clash of the night was between a deputy sheriff and strike sympathizers. The deputy was on his way to his home and when surrounded he fired into the crowd. He reported he had wounded three of the mob and that the injured men had been dragged away by their comrades.

Today's demonstration against the state authorities and constabulary was an indication of the feeling of the striking men. Everywhere the mounted state police were in evidence and a mob assembled seemingly from nowhere. Hisses and hoots greeted the troopers when they would ride in squads to and from the company's yards.

Today's events were highly colored by the appearance of the wives and women sympathizers of the striking men. With their babes under one arm as a shield and bricks and slag handy, these Amazons resisted attempts of the authorities to enter their homes in search of strike leaders.

Rides Through Front Door.

A trooper of the constabulary meeting with this resistance in one instance drove his horse through the front door of the home of a striker and without dismounting arrested the man he was looking for and practically galloped him to the box cars used as police stations.

It was also reported that a woman was shot in the rioting of the last twenty-four hours. While the rumor was credited by the strikers, the car company officials denied knowledge of the affair.

Early today the striking men tried to organize themselves into some sort of order. The attempt was futile, although four of the strikers were finally selected as a committee to wait upon the company officials and endeavor to get an arbitration hearing. The company late today refused to treat with the men.

It was said the strikers have taken the advice of Socialistic leaders, and tonight they were addressed by orators preaching "burn, blow up, and pillage."

Threat to Burn Is Denied.

A strike leader said tonight that there was no basis for the rumor that a letter had been sent to the car company stating that unless the strikers were at once reinstated in their positions they would burn the entire plant before twenty-four hours had passed.

There are now on duty more than 200 police officers, including city, county, and state authorities. This is at the ratio of one to every seventeen strikers, but not including the hundreds of sympathizers.

Sheriff Gumbert stated tonight that he would increase his force of deputies before morning. Pittsburg reserve police also are stationed near the riot center.

Box Cars Used as Jail.

During the day a large number of arrests were made by the state police, who were stoned repeatedly by the strikers. Twenty two prisoners were taken to the county jail, charged with rioting, and others were locked up in box cars.

"Six hundred of the strikers, or, I should say, rioters, can consider themselves discharged," said President F. N. Hoffstott tonight. "It makes no difference whether they have come or will come for their money or not. They never will work for the Pressed Steel Car company again. As soon as peace is restored we shall put other men to work. We will not bring in strike breakers."

The effect of the strike is felt severely in and about McKee's Rocks. The strikers' families, for the larger part foreigners, are poverty stricken and without funds.

PRINCESS THROWN FROM AUTO AND INJURED ON THE HEAD.

Johann Georg of Saxony Meets with Accident Near Castle, but Physician Says Wound Is Slight.

DRESDEN, July 16.—Princess Johann Georg of Saxony was thrown out of her automobile today while driving in the vicinity of the castle. She was injured on the head, but the attending physician says the wound is slight.

Girl Killed in Auto Wreck.

Bucyrus, O., July 16.—[Special.]—The automobile of Dr. W. J. Means, a Columbus physician, was wrecked today north of Bucyrus. Margaret Means, aged eight, was killed, Dr. and Mrs. Means suffered internal injuries and Mrs. Ray Lovell's arm was broken. The driver, John Wade, was unhurt. Dr. Means was enroute from a state convention at Sandusky to his home in Columbus. A rut in the road caused a tire to blow up. This swerved the car violently and the strain crushed a wheel. The car turned over, catching the little girl under the tonneau.

BISHOP SHANLEY FOUND DEAD.

North Dakota Churchman Supposed to Have Succumbed from Apoplexy.

Fargo, N. D., July 16.—[Special.]—Bishop John Shanley of the Catholic see of Fargo was found dead in his room at 6 o'clock this afternoon. The bishop had been in poor health and had spent some time in Europe, returning here a month ago. His demise was evidently due to apoplexy, and the condition of the body showed that death had occurred many hours before. Deceased was a nephew of Archbishop Ireland. He was 57 years old. He was pastor in St. Paul several years till his elevation as bishop of this state twenty years ago.

OBITUARY.

DR. GEORGE MARSHALL FOX, one of the oldest resident physicians of northern Illinois, died at his home in La Grange on Wednesday at the age of 80 years. He was born at Wallingford, Vt., and was graduated from the Castleton Medical college in 1851. He came to Illinois the same year and had lived here ever since. He retired from active practice in 1895, but continued to do some professional work and his counsel was eagerly sought by younger physicians. He was county physician in 1864-'66. He left five daughters and one son.

LOUIS G. SQUIRE, one of the oldest board of trade members, died last night at his residence, 2227 Washington boulevard. He had been ill for the last three months. Mr. Squire became a member of the board thirty years ago. He has been connected with several firms, but of recent years has been head of the firm Squire and Luken, with offices in the Rialto building. He is survived by his wife, Catherine, and one son, Harold Squire.

MRS. ELLEN O'NEILL of this city died in Bloomington, Ill., yesterday at the age of 84 years. She was the mother of P. H. Houlahan, general manager of the Chicago and Alton railroad, and mother-in-law of J. W. Mulhern, superintendent of the same road. Interment will be at Ottawa.

DITCH MADDEN, UNIONS' AIM Building Trades Workers Forming American Federation.

STRIKE FOR A LONGER DAY.

Joliet Car Workers Say They Can't Make Enough in 8 Hours.

The first definite step to dethrone Martin B. ("Skinny") Madden from his position of "czar" of the building trades unions of Chicago will be taken today. Officers of several of the numerically strongest building trades unions will apply for a charter from the American Federation of Labor for a building trades section in Chicago.

Officers of ten unions, with an aggregate membership of more than 20,000 building trades workers, have signed the application for a charter or have signified thir willingness to affiliate with the American Federation of Labor and withdraw from Madden's Associated Building Trades, which is not recognized by the national labor body.

Should the plan succeed—and the promoters predict it will—it will sound the knell of "Skinny" Madden as a "free lance" labor leader, as the unions that have agreed to enter the new section constitute more than two-thirds of the building trades workers in Chicago and Cook county.

Names of Certain Bolters.

Following are the unions that are certain to affiliate with the new organization:

Name.	Members.
United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners	16,000
Plumbers' union	1,400
Sheet Metal Workers' union	1,000
Structural Iron Workers' union	800
Steamfitters' union	600
Plasterers' union	600
Elevator Constructors' union	350
Hoisting Engineers' union	200
Marble Workers' union	100

The movement has been carried on quietly during the last few days, the promoters exercising the greatest caution to prevent "Skinny" Madden and his business agents from influencing officers in the various unions in favor of the plan against the proposition.

A building trades section affiliated with the American Federation of Labor is in operation in most of the large cities of the country.

Joliet Car Repairers Strike.

Failure of the company to accede to their demands for a ten hour instead of an eight hour day led to a walkout of 200 car repairers at the Joliet shops of the Elgin, Joliet, and Eastern. The unusual demand for a ten hour day hinges on the fact that the men say they cannot make living wages working eight hours and they declare that they will work two hours longer in order to get more money. Underofficials at the shops claim that they have not the work to furnish for more hours. There are 700 men in the shops and a sympathetic strike may result.

Steamfitters Quit at "Yards."

One hundred and twenty-five steamfitters and helpers employed at the stockyards plants of Swift & Co. and Armour & Co. went out on strike during the day in sympathy with fifty members of the same craft who struck against Morris & Co. on Thursday. The strikers declare they presented a wage scale of 50 cents an hour to Morris & Co., which, they assert, officials of that concern agreed verbally to recognise. On pay day, however, the men received wages at the rate of only 35 cents.

MAN WHO SAT ON VESUVIUS DIES HOLDING DOWN THE LID.

Prof. Matteucci Passes Away After Spending Over Thirteen Years on Job Fraught with Peril.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

ROME, July 16.—Prof. R. V. Matteucci, director of the royal observatory on Mount Vesuvius, who was famous for his devotion to duty during eruptions of the volcano, died in the observatory today. Frank A. Perret, assistant director of the observatory, an American, who predicted the Messina earthquake, was Prof. Matteucci's sole companion.

Matteucci had been sitting on the Vesuvian lid for over thirteen years, and although at times cut and pounded by volcanic bombs, which once sent him into a hospital, showed no desire to quit.

The observatory has stood for over sixty years, more or less, intact. It is about 2,000 feet above the level of the Bay of Naples, on a little hill called San Salvatore at the foot of the great cone.

This hill acts as a sort of lava breaker, turning aside the streams which pour from the crater, so that the observatory is free from peril except from bombardment by stones and other volcanic missiles.

It frequently has been damaged in this way, and during the last eruption all its windows were broken. The building consists of a single story raised on terraces and containing laboratories, offices, and living rooms for the director.

The observatory was built by the Italian government in 1841 and has been presided over by four different directors.

Prof. Matteucci's daily work consisted in observing dynamic and meteorological phenomena, noting the movement and aspects of the volcano, and classifying and rearranging all the existing and newly gathered materials. Each day he calculated the number of explosions, examind and collected the matter ejected, and photographed at close range.

In 1895, 1897, 1899, and 1903 there were displays of activity on Veusvius which occasioned much alarm for the safety of the observatory and its director. In 1899 a secondary crater opened up, emitting lava streams and rocks between the building and the foot of the cone, filling up the Piano delle Ginestre. Prof. Matteucci did not desert his post, although he was urged to do so.

SEEKERS OF LAND SLEEP IN STREET

SIGNING BY THOUSANDS.

Spokane, Wash., July 16.—[Special.]—The population centers of the northwest, flooded with anxious humanity, coaxing luck to count them among the 3,000 winners in the lottery for lands on the Spokane, Flathead, and Cœur d'Alêne reservations, yet fearing they will be among the 297,000 disappointed ones, are facing a serious problem in accommodating the visitors.

Tottering veterans dot the motley crowds. Widows seeking a resting place, bachelors from the east, West Virginia, and New York striplings stalking fortune for the first time are forced to roam the streets or rest their heads on a stony pillow by the congested condition of the hotels and rooming houses.

Hotel rates and prices of meals have not been advanced, but pickpockets and petty thieves are numerous. At least fifty landseekers reported that their pockets were picked at Cœur d'Alêne today.

Carelessness Menace to Thousands.

Five seconds of carelessness theatens to cost thousands of home seekers every chance to win land.

Some failed to put postage stamps on the envelopes, some filled the blanks but failed to take the oaths; in other cases notaries have neglected to apply their seals to the affidavits, and some overprudent applicants are writing their return addresses on envelopes before mailing to the superintendent.

Even an initial marked on the envelope in the printed address is sufficient cause for throwing out the letter. So careful is the government to avoid distinguishing marks on the envelopes that the Spokane postoffice removed the date and hour from the machine where the stamps are canceled.

10,000 Apply at Cœur d'Alene.

At Cœur d'Alene Supt. Witten of the land opening had received up to 2 o'clock this morning 4,627 applications for land in the Cœur d'Alene reservation. Since that hour it is estimated about 1,000 more were received. It is estimated that the applications filed today will reach nearly 5,000.

At noon today 7,000 applicants for homesteads on the Flathead reservation had registered in Missoula and registration is continuing unabated. It is estimated that before the registration offices close at midnight tonight 9,000 will have registered.

Busy at Spokane Reservation.

Ninety-one of the 200 authorized notaries who received registrations for Spokane Indian reservation lands yesterday report 5,002 for the opening day. When the reports of the other 110 notaries are placed on the official register at the land office it is estimated that the first day's registration will reach 10,000

A wife and husband cannot both register for chances. The husband only can register unless incapacitated. The woman who is the head of a family has as much right as any other citizen.

Western people have not yet been in to register, realizing that the tail ender stands an equal chance with the first man on the list. list.

CORNER IS BOUGHT FOR MRS. T. N. PAGE

Purchases at Michigan and Twenty-fifth Reported to Be Made for Her.

WILL PUT UP BUILDING.

Auto Company Takes a Twenty Year Lease on Structure to Cost $100,000.

Mrs. Florence Nelson Page, wife of Thomas Nelson Page, the author, who has been a conspicuous figure in recent operations in Michigan avenue around Twenty-fifth street, is reported to have closed another big deal in that neighborhood. She is said to be the real purchaser of eleven parcels of land at the southwest corner of the streets named, title to which has been taken by Morris M. Jones of Thomas A. Hall & Co. Several of the deeds were recorded yesterday.

The consideration is said to be $115,000 for the properties, which front 100 feet on the avenue, with a depth of 178 feet on Twenty-fifth street, and it is proposed to improve them with an attractive four story and basement building, which has been leased to an automobile concern for a term of twenty years from May 1 next. Plans for the building, which is expected to cost about $100,000, are now being prepared by Holabird & Roche.

The building at the corner, 16¾x64 feet, was purchased from the Hale estate for $14,000, the latter buying from Edwin Partridge for $12,000. The property adjoining on the south, 16¾x74¾ feet, was purchased from Mrs. Alice W. Evarts for a reported consideration of $16,000. Mrs. Evarts is said to have acquired the property last year for less than $6,000. The premises adjoining at 2504-2508, being 66 2-3x178¾ feet, irregular in shape, were purchased from William B. Hale for $50,000.

Other Properties in Deal.

The property at 181 Twenty-fifth street, 19x50, which squares the holding, was purchased from J. H. York for $10,000.

The premises 183 Twenty-fifth street, 19x50 feet, were acquired from the W. E. Hale estate for $4,000; 185-187 same street, 38x50 feet, from Kornblith & Loeb for $8,200; 189 being 19x50 feet, from William Jacobs of Lima, O., for $4,100; 191, 19x50 feet, from W. D. Fowler for $5,000.

It is understood the deal was negotiated by Farnham, Willoughby & Co., and it makes the third deal in corners at this point put through by this firm, the other comprising 124x161 feet at the northeast corner, which was purchased from J. D. Snydacker and others for $120,000. On this site the new building for the occupancy of the McDuffee Automobile company will be erected. The lease is for fifteen years on the basis of 5 per cent on $1,200 a front foot for the land, and 8 per cent on the cost of the building.

The southeast corner, 48x100 feet, with old dwelling improvements, was purchased from M. D. Wells by J. G. Underhill, who sold it to an eastern investor for $48,000.

Richard W. Sears of Sears Roebuck & Co., has just made another investment in central business property having purchased from Mrs. Mary Mulveil of Oak Park, the fee of the property on the south side of Quincy street, 100 feet east of Dearborn, 25x82½ feet, comprising a part of the site of the Majestic hotel, for $120,000. As the ground is under a ninety-nine years lease at an annual rental of $6,000, the sale of the fee is on a 5 per cent basis.

The transaction is particularly interesting as marking the third investment by Mr. Sears during the year in loop property with total considerations of over $2,000,000. The others comprise the Portland block at the southeast corner of Dearborn and Washington streets, and the Lobenstine property at Jackson boulevard and Plymouth place.

Buys in State Street.

Mrs. Conrad Schieferstein has sold through the Bowes Investment company to Henry Fuchs the property at 439 State street and 53 Peck place, having a frontage of 20 feet on State street, with a depth of 73½ feet, extending south into Peck place, where the frontage is 50 feet. The improvements comprise a three and a half story brick building, now occupied by the purchaser.

Mr. Fuchs also purchased from Anna Kammerr the adjoining holding on the north at 437 State street, 20x138 feet, with three and a half story building. The consideration for the two properties approximated $90,000. The property is directly opposite the proposed new passenger station of the Western Indiana road.

Alfred E. Westman has purchased from Helen Pickel the property in Sheridan road 150 feet north of Montrose avenue, 50x44 feet, east front, and 50x72 feet in Evanston avenue, 37 feet northwest of Montrose avenue, with improvements, for $26,000.

Charles S. Necros has purchased from the estate of Jane G. Jones a tract of ninety-six lots, extending from Belden avenue to Dickens avenue, between Hamlin and Avers avenues, for $24,000.

The Chicago Title and Trust company, as trustee, has sold to Oscar M. Wolff the property at the northeast corner of West Randolph and Ada streets, 85x181 feet, with improvements, for $22,000.

Buys 49 Stores for $109,000.

Isabella Curran, wife of Richard Curran, the builder, has sold to Jefferson Jackson the property at the southeast corner of Ellis avenue and Sixty-first street, 50x173 feet, improved with a building containing eleven stores, for $25,000, subject to an incumbrance of $12,000. During the last three years Mr. Jackson is stated to have purchased forty-nine stores at an aggregate cost of $109,000.

Miss Caroline Patterson has sold to Edward F. Lendor the three story stone front building and leasehold estate at 2132-2134 Michigan avenue, 50x115 feet. The building contains two stores and four flats. The consideration is understood to have been about $50,000. Madden Bros. represented Miss Patterson and V. H. Surghnor the buyer.

William Krug has purchased from Peter C. Burns a tract of 100x1,320 feet, west front, in State street, 1,539 feet south of Sixty-third street, for $18,000.

W. J. & C. B. Moore, representing James Pease, plan extensive improvements on a forty acre tract owned by Mr. Pease facing east on Kedzie avenue and extending south from Irving Park boulevard to Addison street and Elston avenue, and west to Spaulding avenue. It is to be divided into lots 30x125 feet and improved by Mr. Pease with 300 modern houses and flats. Contracts have been let for fifteen buildings to be completed this fall.

Leases in Wholesale District.

Ferdinand Siegel has leased from the trustees of the estate of Edwin H. Sheldon the six story and basement building at the northwest corner of Adams street and Fifth avenue, opposite Marshall Field & Co.'s wholesale house, also the sixth floor of the building adjoining on the north. The lease runs from Jan. 9, 1910 at a rental of about $140,000. He proposes to sublet the floors to wholesale houses, the renting of which will be in charge of H. O. Stone & Co. W. P. Lawton of that firm represented Mr. Siegel in the lease, while Ogden Sheldon & Co. represented the Sheldon estate.

L. J. Lutzer has leased for B. J. Rosenthal to the Vesta Accumulator company the four story building at 1519-1521 Wabash avenue for a term rent of $50,000.

Mr. Rosenthal is now preparing for the erection of an eight story fireproof building at 1510-1516 Wabash to cost about $125,000.

It was stated that the deal which has been pending for the purchase of the White property on Washington street has been dropped, the prospective purchaser withdrawing from the transaction.

CLEMINSON ASKS FOR BAIL.

Physician Accused of Wife Murder Seeks Release Pending His Trial.

Arguments on the application for the release on bail of Dr. Haldane Cleminson, indicted for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Nora Jane Cleminson, were heard before Judge McEwen yesterday.

The accused physician is being represented by Attorney Burres, who intimated in his argument that Dr. Cleminson would make the defense that his wife committed suicide.

Attorney Burres is asking bail on the ground that the evidence against Dr. Cleminson is weak and that the presumption of his guilt is not great.

IGNORE TAX CALL; SUMMONED AGAIN

ANSWERS FAITHORN SUIT

County Treasurer Says Drainage Levy Is Legal and Road Should Pay.

Many additional notices were sent out by the board of review yesterday as the result of the failure of hundreds of persons, many of whom are women, to respond to calls issued a week ago to appear for hearings on their personal property assessments.

The fact that so many failed to appear gave the reviewers the lightest day as to hearings since the sessions of the board began two weeks ago. The hearings closed for the week at noon, there being no sessions on Saturdays.

Assistant City Attorney Aaron R. Eppstein, emulating City Attorney John R. Caverly, reported no personal property. Mr. Eppstein, who lives at 4330 Lake avenue, was assessed on $600 personalty at 59 Clark street. President Meacham crossed the assessment off the list.

A reduction from $22,000 to $9,064 in the personal property assessment against the Charles G. Lanquist estate was secured by Attorney E. R. Cox, who is a brother-in-law of President F. A. Vanderlip of the National City bank of New York. President Meacham affixed an assessment of $500 on the personal property of Attorney Cox at his residence, 271 Oakwood boulevard.

R. D. Lomax, whose personal property assessment last year was $600 at his residence, 5338 Washington boulevard, was raised by the assessors this year to $25,000. The property consists of real estate mortgages and the assessment was confirmed.

An assessment of $250,000 against the General Electric company, 434 Illinois street, was cut by Reviewer Fred W. Upham to $125,000.

Replies to Faithorn Suit.

John R. Thompson, county treasurer, filed an answer in the Superior court to a suit brought by John N. Faithorn, receiver of the Chicago Terminal Transfer company, denying the latter's contention that the legislative act of 1903 enlarging the territory of the sanitary district is illegal. Taxes amounting to $1,203.98 have been assessed against the railroad property in the Sanitary district south of Eighty-seventh street. Mr. Thompson declares that Faithorn is the only taxpayer who has taken exception to the assessment. He also points out that the proposed Calumet channel will benefit the territory assessed.

An opinion received during the day from Attorney General Stead at Springfield stated that while the law provides for the completion of the work of county boards of review on Sept. 15 no assessment shall be invalidated by the failure of any board to wind up its business by that date.

Property Sold Not McCormick's.

John A. Chapman, manager for the McCormick properties, denied that the property in Waukegan sold for back taxes was owned by Cyrus H. McCormick.

"The property sold was twenty-four acres of land in Highland Park, given in trade by Mr. McCormick in April, 1908, as part payment for a factory site on the north branch of the Chicago river," said Mr. Chapman. "The last taxes paid on the property were paid by Mr. McCormick in 1908, which evidently accounts for the error in using his name. There are several owners of the land in Highland Park, and it is understood they have been endeavoring to have the assessment apportioned. As there was delay in accomplishing this the property was sold for taxes."

JUDGES BEGIN VACATIONS; COURTS TO ADJOURN TODAY.

Circuit, Superior, Probate, and Appellate Jurists Practically Have Cleaned Up the Calendars.

Today will mark the closing of the Circuit, Superior, Probate, and Appellate courts in Cook county after the business for the day is finished. The courts will not open again until Sept. 18. Some of the judges have already left Chicago.

An assistant judge of probate will have court sessions daily to probate any will which may be filed.

"There is a great deal of satisfaction in taking a vacation this year when you know that the calendars have all been cleaned up," said Chief Justice Carpenter of the Circuit court yesterday prior to his departure from Chicago. "There is not a judge in the circuit but who has given every litigant an opportunity for a trial of his case if he wished it. Such a condition of things is unprecedented.

"Next year there will not be any necessity for outside judges coming to Chicago to aid in the clearing up of our dockets."

WIFE GETS STOLEN $20,000; THEN HUSBAND IS SENT TO JAIL

Court Believes "Robbery" in Seattle Was Ruse to Escape Judgment Won by Attorney in Duluth.

Duluth, Minn., July 16.—A sequel to the theft of $20,000 from Mrs. A. J. Shea of Eveleth in Seattle, six weeks ago, and the subsequent recovery of the money came to light today when Mr. Shea was arrested for contempt of court in his refusal to pay $6,000 on a $20,000 judgment secured against him by his former attorney, J. L. Washburn.

Mr. Shea sold the timber on his claim for $20,000, gave the money to his wife, who went to the west with it. The story of the theft was doubted by the Seattle police, and their suspicions were more or less confirmed when $15,000 of the sum was reported to have been returned.

Shea was examined on supplemental proceedings and ordered to pay Mr. Washburn $6,000 of the judgment secured on a note, and for attorney's fees and incidental expenses. He failed to do this, and was sent to jail today for contempt of court.

PAROLED BY CLELAND; ACCUSED

Archie Kline, who was paroled by Municipal Judge Cleland on Jan. 7, following his arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct, was accused of assault by his wife yesterday. Her attorney, Theodore A. Kolb, telephoned to J. Kent Green, assistant to Chief Justice Olson, and was advised that the action of Judge Cleland in paroling prisoners was without legal effect. Mr. Greene suggested that Mrs. Kline swear out a warrant for the arrest of her husband.

ENDANGER TENNES' OLD SALOON

Two Fires Discovered in Lincoln Avenue Building Within One Week.

For the second time within one week fire was discovered yesterday in a two story untenanted building at 501-509 Lincoln avenue, formerly partly occupied, the police say, by Mont Tennes as a saloon. The fire was soon under control. The police are conducting an investigation.

THROUGH RATES GET A BLOW

SAYS RATES ARE EXCESSIVE.

James J. Hill Passes Through Chicago on Way to St. Paul.

That the interstate commerce commission is committed to the principle that through freight rates shall be less than the sums of the rates applied to local traffic is indicated by its decision received yesterday in the case of the Greater Des Moines committee against the Rock Island railway and eastern carriers. The opinion, which was written by Commissioner Lane, declares the through rates from all points east of the Illinois-Indiana state line to be excessive and unlawful, and reductions ranging from 5 and 6 cents per 100 lbs on first class traffic down to corresponding amounts on the lower classes are ordered to be made effective on Aug. 16.

In another case of the Des Moines committee against the Rock Island alone the commission orders the first class rate from Chicago to Des Moines reduced from 68 to 60 cents. The commission holds that the committee has failed to establish its allegations that the local rates from Chicago are unduly discriminatory against Des Moines in favor of St. Paul and Minneapolis. The first class rate is condemned as too high in itself, but no reductions are ordered on the lower classes. The new rate from Chicago is to take effect on Sept. 1.

New Scale Prescribed.

The through rates to Des Moines are made up of a combination of the proportionals east of the Missouri river from ten rate groups, with such cities as New York, Pittsburg, Cincinnati, and Detroit as centers, plus the proportional charged by the Rock Island from Rock Island, Ill., to Des Moines.

The commission holds that this through rate is too high and that it is so because the Rock Island proportional when applied to through traffic originating in the east, is excessive. A new scale for these proportional rates is prescribed by the commission, to be applied only on through business, by which the Rock Island's revenue on New York traffic is reduced from 42 to 37 cents first class, on Pittsburg business from 45½ to 40 and on Cincinnati freight from 47 to 41.

Modifies Rate Rules.

The Interstate Commerce commission has agreed to modify its rules relative to rates prescribed in informal reparation cases so that the reduced rate thus ordered will not be required to be maintained for a year. The railroads pointed out that this frequently caused embarrassment because of its effect on other rates dependent upon the commission's rate and the commission has formulated revised rules whereby the rate so prescribed shall not be the absolute rate under certain circumstances, providing the general relation to other rates ordered is maintained.

Hill Passes Through City.

James J. Hill "passed up" Chicago yesterday in returning to St. Paul after his fishing trip in Labrador. While in the east he visited New York and called on President Taft at Washington, and had planned to spend the day in Chicago. Instead, he wired to the Burlington offices late Thursday night that he was too tired to stop here, and he remained in the city only long enough to change trains.

George B. Harris, president of the Burlington, who accompanied Mr. Hill on the fishing trip, preceded him into Chicago by one day. He was optimistic over the reports of crop conditions and business prospects.

Denies Traffic Alliance.

A report from New York that a new and comprehensive traffic alliance had been entered into by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway and the Wabash railroad whereby the two roads would interchange freight traffic at Des Moines, Ia., was denied by a vice president of the St. Paul road. He said that the St. Paul had interchanged traffic at that point, as well as at Chicago, for many years, and that no new agreement had been made.

A meeting of the rate clerks of the western roads has been called for Monday to revise the interstate fares betwen stations in Missouri and Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and North and South Dakota, also to destinations in the northwest affected by the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul's Pacific coast extension.

Denies St. Paul-Wabash Pact.

A report current in New York that a traffic agreement had been concluded between the St. Paul and Wabash railroads, whereby freight was to be interchanged at Des Moines, Ia., was denied last night by Roswell Miller, chairman of the board of directors of the St. Paul.

"No agreement of any special significance has been entered into, so far as I know," he said. "We have for forty years exchanged freight with the Wabash at Des Moines, but the relations between the two roads are no closer than usually exist between roads with terminals in the same city."

TAXI OWNER TAKES LATE RIDE; TRAPS SUSPECTED CHAUFFEUR

When Joseph Schneider, a taxicab chauffeur, stepped from the driving seat of his machine at an early hour yesterday morning into the welcoming arms of a policeman, he awoke to the realization that he had "had one put over on him" by the managers of the company for which he worked.

Schneider was employed by a taxicab company located at 2441 Michigan avenue. He was a good driver, but somehow or other the returns from his day's work were slender when compared with those of his fellow chauffeurs. Manager Edward E. Lashum resolved to investigate the matter and, if possible, discover the leak.

Disguised and with a party of friends, Lashum wigwagged Schneider's taxi in the loop district. From 11 o'clock p. m. until 3:30 o'clock a. m. the machine reeled off the miles through the parks and boulevards. Shortly after leaving the loop Schneider turned his flag down, stopping the charge register. At the termination of the ride Schneider demanded and received $10. Then a policeman took him in hand.

GIVES DIAMONDS TO OWNER.

Government Ends Case in Which It Was Duped by False Plea of Thief.

Judge Francis Wright entered an order yesterday turning over $5,000 worth of diamonds to Isaac F. Lloyd of New York City. For six years the diamonds have been held by the government as smuggled jewels, when in fact the 278 were stolen from Mr. Lloyd's New York home by a burglar. The alleged thief, Henry Hoffman, pretended the gems had been smuggled and served two years in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas., as a smuggler to avoid, it is declared, what might have been a twenty years' term in Sing Sing as a burglar. After he had been released the government learned through a woman that the gems had really been stolen.

LA PEARL ENDS DIVORCE SUIT.

Says He Mentioned Adrian C. Honore's Name in Case Upon Wrongful Advice.

James H. La Pearl, a showman, who settled his alienation of affections suit against Adrian C. Honoré on Thursday, dismissed his suit for divorce against his wife, Nellie La Pearl, before Judge Barnes in the Superior court yesterday. The suit was dismissed on motion of La Pearl, who said that he named Mr. Honoré as co-respondent upon wrongful advice and misinformation.

The Social Prestige of a Pierce Arrow

is evident on the streets of any large city. In Chicago alone there are many railroad, bank and corporation presidents who use it exclusively for business and pleasure—and their wives naturally prefer to ride in Pierce Arrow broughams, landaulets, etc., when they shop, make calls, attend receptions, etc.

Stand on Any Corner of Michigan Avenue

and watch the motor cars pass. Among the leaders of society you will find a larger percentage of Pierce Arrows than of any other make. It is a car for people who are exacting in their requirements—want the best that can be built in the country. Twenty-one different bodies designed for 1910 models, each one of them luxuriously fitted to suit individual taste.

Specifications are now being accepted for Limousine and Landaulet 1910 Models for early fall delivery.

TWO MEN RID OF CRUEL ECZEMA

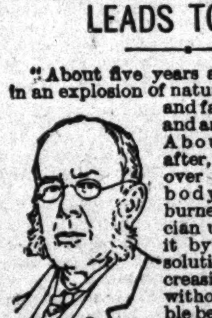
ONE CURE BY CUTICURA LEADS TO ANOTHER



"About five years ago I was burned in an explosion of natural gas. My head and face, also my hands and arms, were burned. About three weeks after, eczema set in over the parts of my body which were burned and my physician undertook to cure it by administering a solution of arsenic, increasing the doses, but without any perceptible benefit. I was gradually losing strength from the suffering and I was in a very serious condition.

"About that time my nephew told me about his experience with the Cuticura Remedies. He had eczema so severely that the blood ran down into his shoes. He suffered with the eczema for many years and had tried everything the physicians could prescribe. After doctoring for fifteen years, in which time he found no relief, he was finally induced to try the Cuticura Remedies, and they cured him permanently in four months.

"You can easily believe that I made haste to try them on his recommendation. I commenced using the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I was cured in less than two months so perfectly that I have not even had a symptom of the disease since, although it is over five years since the trouble began. I give this testimonial voluntarily, without solicitation or hope of reward, except that some one seeing it may be relieved from suffering as I was. G. T. Hamilton, Indiana, Pa., Dec. 15 and 24, 1908."

For thirty years Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have afforded speedy relief to tens of thousands of skin-tortured and disfigured sufferers from eczemas, rashes, itchings, irritations and chafings, from infancy to age, bringing comfort and peace to distracted households when all else failed.

"TYPHOID MARY" DENIED RELEASE

Court Refuses to Free Woman Who Spreads Bacilli Wherever She Goes.

TRUST TALE CAUSES STIR.

Indicted Sugar Men Said to Have Made Overtures to Escape Prison.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE, New York, July 16.

Court Refuses to Free Typhoid Mary.

Supreme Court Justice Erlanger decided today that while the typhoid case of Mary Mallon Cook, who has been detained on North Brothers island for two years because she is infected with typhoid fever bacilli and spreads the disease wherever she goes, is unfortunate, the risk is too great to permit her to go free. The case came before the court two weeks ago on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by her counsel, George F. O'Neill. He asserted that her detention was illegal, and even if she did give typhoid to persons with whom she came in contact there was no legal warrant to hold her. He denied, moreover, that she was infected, and declared that the typhoid outbreaks attributed to her were due to bad plumbing and insanitary conditions. Justice Erlanger said in his decision:

"Careful examination of the certificates submitted satisfy me that the risk of discharging the inmate of Riverside hospital is too great to be assumed by the court. The injury which may be done to innocent persons if the facts stated in the return be true are incalculable. While the court deeply sympathizes with this unfortunate woman it must protect the community against a recurrence of spreading the disease."

Trust Men Fleeing Prison Fear?

A rumor which was given much credence circulated in the federal building today to the effect that the indicted sugar trust officers had made an offer to the government to plead guilty to the indictments against them, providing the government would promise them immunity from prison sentences.

One of the attorneys for the sugar trust officers was communicated with at his country home by telephone tonight and asked about the report.

"It is unqualifiedly false," he said. "There is not a word of truth in the rumor. It is not fair to the officers of the sugar trust to spread the rumor."

Suffragists to Open National Headquarters.

Suffragists have decided to open national headquarters in New York City, making this city the center of the movement for the United States. The state also is to open headquarters and direct the campaign from here. This will include conventions, massmeetings, and legislative and other political work. It is the intention to go into political work more fully than ever before. An entire floor of nine rooms has been leased in a new office building on the corner of Fifth avenue and Forty-second street.

Thaw Anxious to Testify.

Harry K. Thaw, who will remain in the White Plains jail until the hearing to determine his sanity is resumed on July 26 before Justice Hills, is apparently highly elated over the prospect of going on the witness stand and telling his story under fire of a rigid questioning by the state's attorneys and alienists. Thaw said today:

"I will demonstrate easily that I am sane when I go on the stand. I am more than anxious for the ordeal. It is the chance I have prayed and hoped for. Now I feel that Judge Mills will be able to see that my contention that I am sane is valid."

Speaking of his wife's testimony against him, Thaw said he felt no animosity toward his wife and had no idea of cutting off her allowance of $500 a month.

SEE LEON IN LONDON; ESCAPES THROUGH POLICE DULLNESS.

American Sure He Saw Elsie Sigel's Chinese Slayer, but Officer Hesitates and Bird Flees.

LONDON, July 16.—According to a report made by a visiting American to the Scotland yard authorities, William Leon, the Chinese suspected of the murder of Elsie Sigel in New York on June 9, was seen yesterday outside a jeweler's shop near the Royal Exchange.

This American, who wishes his name withheld for the present, told the police he knew Leon in New York and that he was confident the Chinese he saw yesterday was he. When the American caught sight of Leon he went up to a policeman standing nearby and said: "That man is wanted for murder in New York; go and grab him."

The policeman, however, appears to have suspected the American of some ulterior motive, and while he hesitated the Chinaman got away.

Scotland Yard today showed a photograph of Leon to the American, who declared that he undoubtedly was the man he saw. He gave the police a full description of the European clothes worn by the Chinese.

Photographs of Leon have been sent to all the London police stations and active search for him is being made.

REID TAKES INTEREST IN LEON.

Washington, D. C., July 16.—A cablegram to the state department today from Ambassador Reid at London saying that the British government would like to know whether any request would be made by the United States for the extradition of William Leon, the supposed murderer of Elsie Sigel, should he be apprehended by the agents of that government. It is understood the telegram was forwarded to the New York authorities.

QUAKE CLAIMS 300 VICTIMS IN SOUTHERN PART OF GREECE.

Many Villages Are Stricken and Water in the Rivers and Brooks Turns Reddish Color.

LONDON, July 16.—Special dispatches received here from Athens say that 300 persons were killed or injured by the earthquake that occurred yesterday in the province of Elis, in southern Greece.

The damage to property also was great. Hot water is flowing today from many of the springs in the stricken district, while the water in the rivers and brooks has turned a reddish color.

Thirty Killed in One Village.

ATHENS, July 16.—The earthquake demolished 400 houses in the village of Havari, in Elis province. Thirty persons lost their lives at this point and a number were injured.

Neighboring villages suffered greatly from the material point of view. All the houses of Amalaiva were rendered uninhabitable.

The shocks were felt at Patras, Prygos, Lamas and Tripoli. A volcanic upheaval is said to have occurred at the village of Ponbiotl.

Postoffice Clerks Will Meet.

The regular monthly meeting of the Chicago Postoffice Clerks' association will be held at 613 Masonic temple tomorrow at 3 p. m. Preparations will be made for two excursions to South Haven to be held under the auspices of the association.

Boy Is Proclaimed Shah of Persia.

GOMPERS SPEAKS IN PARIS

Labor Leader Has Only Small Audience in French Capital.

TELLS STORY OF HIS LIFE.

Speaker Tries to Clear Up Misunderstanding About Trade Unionism.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, July 16.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, addressed his first public meeting here this evening, but as only a few of the 200 in his audience understood English and these used their knowledge chiefly to challenge the accuracy of the version of the speech given by the translators who followed the speaker the meeting lacked enthusiasm.

Mr. Gompers' first care was to dissipate the misrepresentations made abroad concerning American trades unionism and himself personally. He said:

"We have been pictured as ultra conservative—too conservative to advance; in fact, reactionary, if not worse."

The speaker advised his hearers to keep unionism independent from political parties and to refrain from looking to the government to do things for them. He declared Socialist organs attacked him strongly.

Gompers Tells Life Story.

Mr. Gompers said he had worked since he was 10 years old and had been a laborer for twenty-six years, but yet has been so misrepresented that the two chief questions asked him were if he had seen the king of England and if he were going to see President Fallieres.

He poured out his scorn on the Industrial Workers of the World as an absolutely negligible body which dared not sign the letters sent to the general confederation of labor against him and his federation.

The speaker advised his audience to lay aside questions like anti-militarism and anti-patriotism, as they were weapons used by their opponents and kept workers from joining the unions. The American labor movement, according to Mr. Gompers, is constructive and not destructive.

An attempt was made to ask the speaker questions after his address, but the language of the questioning led to such difficulties that little illumination was obtained. Then Pataud, the French labor leader, pointed out that it was a waste of labor discussing a speech which nobody understood. He proposed a vote of sympathy with the suffering comrades at Pittsburg.

Weird Tales About Gompers.

As an indication of the amount of work necessary to wake the French to the realization of the true interests of trade unionism it may be added that the correspondent was asked a dozen times if it were true that champagne was the usual drink on Mr. Gompers' table during his voyage to Europe, and was he staying at such and such a fashionable hotel, and was his salary really $25,000 a year?

VANDERBILT IN SWISS MOB.

Drunken Peasants Surround Auto with Haycarts and Make Ugly Threats.

BERNE, Switzerland, July 16.—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt of New York had an unpleasant experience last night while motoring along the border of the Lake of Kussnacht.

Driving is prohibited on this road, and when Mr. Vanderbilt was approaching Greppen a group of intoxicated peasants returning from a celebration blocked the way with their haycarts and noisily threatened Mr. Vanderbilt.

The magistrate of the village soon appeared upon the scene and succeeded in restoring order. Mr. Vanderbilt then proceeded.

BIG INTESTINE HOME OF GERM

SHOULD BE CUT OUT EARLY.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, July 16.—As a result of investigations at St. Mary's hospital, London, Dr. Distaso of Paris claims to verify the theory of Prof. Metchinkoff that old age can be warded off.

It will be recalled that Prof. Metchinkoff a few years ago declared it to be his conviction that the large intestine was the breeding place of a majority of the harmful germs in the human body and that when this intestine is removed a majority of the germs remaining in the body are beneficial, with the result that life is prolonged.

Ought to Be Removed Early.

Dr. Distaso's investigations have been directed to comparing the germs found in normal individuals with those whose large intestine has been removed by an operation, and he has so satisfied himself by his studies of the truth of Prof. Metchinkoff's theory that he unhesitatingly says every child ought to have its large intestine and appendix removed when two or three years old.

He further affirms that almost every chronic disease can be traced to the action of these intestinal germs, among others, heart disease, arterial sclerosis, and most kinds of headaches. Everybody would get along better without the big intestine, but those who are not inclined to submit to its removal by operation ought, if they want to live long, eat little meat, once daily being plenty, with green vegetables, and only vegetables at other meals.

Coffee and Tea Barred.

Water should be drunk abundantly throughout the day, but no tea, coffee or spirits, although a little diluted wine could be allowed with meals. Eggs are a dangerous poison. They decompose within the intestines exactly as they do outside, and afford an excellent breeding place for maleficent germs.

Dr. Distaso is about to return to Paris, taking with him two residents of London, each of whose large intestine has been removed, for further observation at the Pasteur institute.

PERSIA CHANGES SHAHS IN A DAY

NEW RULER UNDER AGE.

Except for Desultory Firing Teheran Is Quiet and People Are Calm.

TEHERAN, July 16.—Mohammed Ali, shah of Persia, was dethroned today, and the crown prince, Sultan Ahmed Mirza, was proclaimed shah by the national assembly, composed of the chief mujtehids and the leaders of the Nationalist forces, in the presence of an immense crowd in parliament square.

Mohammed Ali has taken refuge in the Russian summer legation at Zerzende, where he is under the protection of detachments of Cossacks and sepoys, dispatched to Zerzende by the Russian and British diplomatic representatives.

The new shah is yet in his minority, and Azad ul Mulk, head of the Kajar family, has been appointed regent. Sipahdar, one of the most active leaders of the movement, has taken office as minister of war and governor of Teheran.

Liakhoff Effects Surrender.

Gen. Liakhoff, through whose negotiations with the Nationalists the surrender was effected, was escorted this afternoon by mounted Bakhtiari riflemen to the parliament building and was greeted with loud applause by the people. He was informed that he might remain temporarily in command of the Cossack brigade, provided he strictly obeyed the orders of the war minister. This arrangement was communicated to the British and Russian legations.

The shops and private houses occupied by the shah's soldiers have been plundered and the residence of the manager of the Indo-European Telegraph company has been looted, but no other homes of foreigners were invaded.

With the exception of desultory firing by a handful of loyal Bakhtiaris in a lane near the British legation, Teheran is quiet tonight. The townspeople are taking calmly the sudden change in rulers, while the Nationalists are resting after four days of incessant fighting in the streets of a strange town.

Think Action Voluntary Abdication.

Russian and British legation guards are stationed at the Russian summer legation, where the shah has sought safety, and the Cossacks have placed guns around the building as a precaution against a possible attack by the nationalists, who have declared, however, that they have no intention of taking a step which might cause serious complications.

They look upon the shah's action in seeking the protection of a foreign legation as tantamount to voluntary abdication, in which case future difficulties might be avoided.

The shah's decision to place himself under Russian protection was by no means a sudden one. He secured Russia's consent to receive him the day the nationalists entered Teheran, but made no move until the troops guarding his palace at Baghshah, near Teheran, were forced to retreat to Sultanatabad.

Flees After All Night Attack.

After an all night attack by the Bakhtiaris the shah, with the queen and one of the princes, left the palace at Sultanatabad under an escort of two hundred soldiers and drove hurriedly to the Russian legation.

Arrangements already had been made for his reception and he was greeted by the chargé d'affaires and the staff of the legation and conducted to his new residence, over which the British and Russian flags floated.

HEAT CAUSES ONE DEATH.

Two Prostrations Reported, Although Temperature Did Not Go Above Eighty Degrees.

Fair and moderately warm weather is promised for Chicago today. The maximum temperature in Chicago yesterday was 80°.

THE MAN FOR THE PLACE.

Since inauguration day President Taft has been searching industriously for a man who would make a good minister to China and who would take the place. The president has a Chinese policy. It is to leave nothing undone to strengthen American influence in that country and to develop there the largest possible market for American products. The insistence of the state department on American bankers being allowed to participate in a Chinese railway loan means much more than a desire to secure for these bankers a small and not extremely profitable investment. It means that the administration will neglect no opportunity to make American influence felt in China. It has manifested in other ways its lively interest in Chinese affairs.

The president thought he had the place filled when he offered it to Mr. Delano, but he preferred Chicago to Peking. Mr. Taft did not turn away discouraged from Chicago, but kept up his search here, and finally, in Mr. Charles R. Crane, who will take the position, he has got just the man he wanted. Mr. Crane has been in business on a grand scale. He has the business qualifications needed by a minister who will be expected to advance greatly the industrial interests of the country. He is accustomed to dealing with men. He is not unfamiliar with the orient. When he undertakes anything he devotes himself whole heartedly to it.

President Taft has hunted long for his ideal minister to China and at last he has him.

FOOT THE BILLS.

The Democrats in the house of representatives misrepresented their constituents day before yesterday. They did it by talking and voting against an appropriation of $25,000 to defray the traveling expenses of the president. Through mental perversity they fancied they were scoring a point in the game of politics, a game they do not play well.

If they were to talk with the voters of their respective districts, both Democrats and Republicans, they would speedily find out two things. One is that the people, comparatively few of whom can go to the president, wish him to come to them. Nothing interests and excites an American community north, south, east, or west more than an announcement that the president is to pay it a visit. Towns which are on his line of travel at once begin asking him to stop over so that they may see and perhaps hear him. If the contemplated two months trip of the president through the west were to be given up the people of that region would suffer acute disappointment.

Another thing which the Democratic congressmen would find out would be that the people, without distinction of party, do not wish to make the president pay his traveling expenses, even if his salary is now $75,000 a year. They do not wish the places he visits to pay them. They wish the nation to do it. It is not for his own amusement that he travels. It was not for recreation that he went to the international celebration to commemorate Champlain. His western tour and possible meeting with the president of Mexico will not be made to serve party ends, but to aid him in the discharge of his presidential duties.

The Democrats in the house have at last found something they can agree on. It is so mean and picayunish a proposition that it will not endear them to members of their own party.

THE SHAH OF PERSIA.

Mohammed Ali Mirza, king of kings—otherwise shah of Persia—has, like Darius, "fallen from his high estate." He has abandoned his palace and taken refuge in the Russian legation to escape the wrath of discontented subjects. Asia has learned something from America. Unpopular presidents in the West Indies and South America have sometimes found safety under the roof of a foreign minister.

Presumably the so-called Nationalists, the men who wish to depose the shah, will respect the right of asylum. There are Russian troops not far from Teheran, and the forcible entry of the legation building in order to get possession of the shah would not go unpunished. And yet he may not be a desirable acquisition for Russia. The puzzle will be what to do with him—what use to make of him.

The Persians do not want him as a ruler, for they cannot trust him. He swore fidelity to the constitution which his father gave them and then broke his oath. Few of them have any real knowledge of what a constitution is, but believe that it has some mysterious value, and, therefore, object to losing it. A few weeks ago the shah, acting on the advice of England and Russia, tried to pacify the malcontents by calling elections for a new national council, but it had no effect, for nobody trusted him. The fighting between his supporters and the Nationalists went on.

Doubtless the shah's race is run. There will be no serious attempt to restore to power a man whom his subjects do not want and whom the religious hierarchy of Persia has declared unfit to rule. Whether the Persians could work out their own salvation if let alone is doubtful. They need a strong, honest man to govern them while they are becoming accustomed to representative institutions. If there be such a man among the brothers of the shah, the two European powers which have the most to say about Persian affairs might suggest that he be set up as king of kings. As for the nervous ex-ruler now ensconced in the Russian legation, he probably will be sent into exile and some arrangement will be made for his support during good behavior.

A HUNT FOR DEMOCRATS.

Gov. Deneen's endeavors to recognize the only true Illinois Democracy and to gratify it with certain selected patronage which the laws provide as the consolation prize of the minority are meeting with just about the amount of success which might have been expected.

The delectable age in which one man or one body of men may be recognized with safety as vested with authority to represent the Illinois Democracy has not been reached. With grief it must be admitted that the Hon. Roger C. Sullivan is not universally accepted as the true expounder and leader of Jeffersonian thought in these parts. Mr. Sullivan is not here to defend himself, being a traveler in Scandinavia, where, presumably, he, in company with the Hon. John P. Hopkins and the Hon. Urey Woodson, is assimilating Scandinavian atmosphere and acquiring pro-Scandinavian tendencies and thus preparing himself to support Gov. John A. Johnson of Minnesota for president in 1912.

Be that as it may—and be it said with as much kindness as it is said in grief—Mr. Sullivan is not accepted universally as the greatest living Democrat in Illinois. It being a matter of current report and belief that he, before his departure, gave Gov. Deneen a list of the true and patriotic Democrats entitled to receive consideration from his excellency, a great upcry arises from other patriotic Democrats who believe themselves as truly representative—yea, more truly representative—of modern Democratic thought in this commonwealth.

Nothing in all this proves it to be a part of prudence to deal with Democratic organizations. Mr. Deneen's judgment as to what constitutes a Democrat is likely to be as good as Mr. Sullivan's or as that of any other leading Jeffersonian. The law, by providing that not more than three of the five members of the new board of administration for the charitable institutions shall be of the same political party as the governor, requires the appointment of two minority party men. These two positions are important. They should be filled by men of standing, competence, and high character.

It is more than likely that the governor will make more satisfactory appointments if he hunts for two Democrats without the aid of any organization beaters or drivers than he will if he bags whatever is driven up to him.

Politically it may not be expedient, but it will be better for the institutions.

CORDIALLY INVITED.

Senator Patrick McCarren and other New York statesmen who are interested in the work of the special committee of the New York assembly now investigating the direct primary system will perform a neighborly act and probably a profitable one if they will bring the investigators to Chicago.

This committee has been at work in Boston, an estimable city, which is reputed to contain much high browed and much low browed political endeavor, but which cannot have as profound knowledge of primaries and primary laws as is pent up in Chicago. Here Senator McCarren can uncover all kinds of information regarding all kinds of primary laws. He and his associates can be supplied with bills and acts, opinions and court decisions, facts and fancies, theories and experiences.

Other states tried the system prior to the Illinois attempts, but their efforts cannot be compared with those of this state. The suggestion that the committee come here is not without guile and a color of selfishness. As the time approaches for the Illinois legislature to assemble for its fourth endeavor to make a primary law stick, we should be greatly pleased to have our foremost statesmen and our foremost citizens give their frank opinions on the subject. Many of them would be illuminating and all would be interesting. To oblige the New York statesmen they might part with them. Otherwise they may be lost.

Mr. McCarren already has seized on one important thought relative to the direct nomination system, one which he expresses thus: "There is no question about it. Direct nominations minimize independent candidacies and maximize party candidacies."

It is a shrewd conclusion, and Senator McCarren can be helped to others if he will come west. He and his associates will be able to pack home a fund of information which will contain about everything there is to know on the subject of the direct nomination of candidates for office.

Dangers of the "Third Degree."

Sir, while in New York my watch was stolen from my pocket at a theater. The police were given the facts, and two days later I was informed that the thief had been apprehended. The man suspected was deprived of food, kept from sleeping, and roughly treated in the attempt of making him confess. While he was still undergoing the "third degree," another man was arrested for an offense, and on his person was found the pawn ticket for my watch. He confessed the theft and the man originally arrested was given his liberty and told, in my presence, that it would do him good. I learned that this was nothing unusual and that the "third degree" was a "recognized institution."—W. G. S. Beresford in London Mail.

WHILE opinions differ in the dual empire as to the value of the political services of old Baron Fejervary as a statesman and as cabinet minister and premier of the kingdom of Hungary at various times, there is only one voice in praise of his record as a soldier.

Just half a hundred years have elapsed since, as a young captain on the general staff, he won the Order of Maria Therese, of which he is today the only remaining Austrian knight, the sole member of the chapter. He earned it on the battlefield of Solferino, and in remembrance thereof Emperor Francis Joseph singled him out the other day for the most exceptional and signal honors on the anniversary of that battle.

He invited the old general to be his guest at the Hofburg at Vienna, where apartments usually reserved for foreign rulers were placed at his disposal. At noon he was received alone in audience by the aged monarch, who bestowed upon him anew the Cross of Maria Therese, but this time studded with brilliants, and in the evening the emperor gave a grand banquet at which all the princes of the imperial house and the commanding generals and dignitaries of the army and navy were present.

At the close the emperor, after a speech in which he extolled the heroism displayed by Fejervary at Solferino, and the services which he had rendered since as a soldier and as a statesman, called upon all present to drink to the health of the gallant old veteran.

Baron Fejervary who is nearly 80 years old, but still straight as a dart, is a typical old soldier. He is wonderfully good tempered and genial, possessed of a ready wit, and only loses his equanimity when he thinks that any one is impugning in the slightest degree his word and his honor as a soldier. This has made his terms of office as cabinet minister and as premier extremely eventful.

Indeed, his wholly pardonable touchiness on this score has involved him in several duels with members of the Hungarian parliament, the most notable of which was fought after he had attained the age of 70 with the deputy, Ugron, at Budapest, in the cavalry barracks. Before the general had put his adversary hors de combat much blood had been shed, the duel having taken place with cavalry sabers. Just before the duel he sent his resignation as minister of war to the emperor, since dueling is, strictly speaking, contrary to the law of the land. But the sovereign insisted on his resuming his portfolio immediately afterward.

The Cross of Maria Therese, which he is now alone in the Austrian army to wear, is only bestowed for the performance of some feat of conspicuous gallantry over and above one's ordinary duty. In most of the cases it has been conferred for feats of daring which in the event of failure would have entailed court martial, and possibly sentence of death for disobedience, and which have only won commendation because they happened to be successful.

Thus at the battle of Solferino, young Fejervary, a mere captain of the general staff at the time, took upon himself early in the day the command of several brigades on the heights of San Martino, the generals at the head of the brigades assuming that the directions and instructions which he imparted to them were either from the emperor or from the generalissimo, Benedek. Fejervary had devoted the two previous days to reconnoitering the ground and to investigating the positions of the enemy.

The main body of the Austrian army suffered defeat, but the extreme right wing of the army on the heights of San Martino, was victorious throughout the day, thanks to Fejervary, and, although Austria was compelled to sue for peace on the following day, and Solferino has passed down in history as a defeat of the Austrians, yet the splendid showing of the right wing of their army always remains as a silver lining to the cloud.

It was only when the day was over and both the emperor and Generalissimo Benedek congratulated the young captain for his resourcefulness and his courage that the generals who had commanded the brigades on the heights of San Martino discovered that Fejervary, whose orders they had been obeying throughout the day, had been acting on his own initiative instead of in behalf of Benedek himself or of the sovereign. Of course, if the right wing had not made so fine a showing, and had it met with the same disaster that overtook the remainder of the Austrian army, he probably would have been court martialed and shot. As it was, he received the order of Maria Therese, along with promotion to the rank of colonel, an annuity, and ennoblement, with the title of baron.

The empress Maria Therese founded the order at the end of June, in 1757, in honor of the victory of Kolin over Frederick the Great, and its first knight was her successful field marshal, Count Daun. She endowed it with a capital of $1,000,000, which since then has increased tenfold, and its revenues are so great as to admit of a large annuity being paid to its only surviving Austrian knight, who is likewise its chancellor.

The only two other possessors of the order received it as foreigners. One of them is the duke of Cumberland and of Brunswick, who received it for his gallantry at the battle of Langenzalza, on which occasion the duke's father, the blind king of Hanover, sacrificed his throne for the sake of Austria, the cause of which he had espoused against Prussia in 1866. The other foreign knight is Prince Alphonse of Bourbon, count of Caserta, claimant to the throne of Naples, younger son of Ferdinand II. of the Two Sicilies, and who owes his cross to the part which he played in the splendid defense of Gaeta, the last stronghold of the Bourbons when their dominions were incorporated into the kingdom of Italy in 1862.

The sovereign is, ex-officio, the grand master of the order. But, except in this instance, mere luster of birth, political influence, and loftiness of rank in the service of the crown count for nothing. The award of the cross is determined by means of ballot on the part of the chapter. Since 1815 only fifty-six knights have been admitted, and old Archduke Albert, who died several years ago, was its last grand cross. Many of the knights of the order have been noncommissioned officers, nay, even privates, when they won the distinction, and no matter how plebeian their origin, they were all ennobled, and all received commissions in the army.

Each one of them was treated to the same picturesque and imposing military obsequies on his death, a feature of the ceremony being the appearance in front of the hearse of a knight mounted on a large black charger, arrayed from head to foot in a suit of medieval armor. His visor is lowered over his face, the pennon of his lance, his shield, and his mace are shrouded with crape, and the somber character of his aspect is enhanced by the fact that his own armor and that of his charger was almost black, exquisitely damascened with gold.

This ironclad warrior only appears upon the scene at the funerals of the members of the Order of St. Maria Therese. When he next rides through the streets of Vienna the people will know that the last of their heroes has gone to his eternal rest.

Herbert Lewis Samuel, who has just succeeded Lord Fitzmaurice as chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, is the first professing Jew to become a member of the cabinet in the history of Great Britain. True, there have been minor offices of the administration confided to professing Jews, such as in the case of the late Henry de Worms, who died as Lord Pirbright, and who was under secretary of state for the colonies, while Gladstone made Sir George Jessel, first of all, solicitor general, and then master of the rolls.

But Herbert Samuel is the first Jew, not merely of race but also of creed, to be honored with a seat in the cabinet. He is a graduate of Balliol college, Oxford, and a nephew of the former Sir Samuel Montagu who a couple of years ago was raised to the peerage as Lord Swaythling, and who is famed throughout the length and breadth of the land as a philanthropist.

Herbert Samuel is still a comparatively young man, has only been seven or eight years in parliament, and, without being eloquent, is one of the most able debaters and most lucid, convincing speakers in the house of commons. The chancellorship of the duchy of Lancaster carries with it a salary of $10,000 a year, with which, however, he can well afford to dispense, being a rich man.

A LINE-O'-TYPE OR TWO.

The Land of Rainbow's-End.

Young Faintheart lay on a wayside bank,
Full prey to doubts and fears,
When he did espy come trudging by
A Pilgrim bent with years.
His back was bowed and his step was slow,
But his faith no years could bend,
As he eagerly pressed to the rose-lit west
And the Land of Rainbow's-End.

"And a stout oak staff for friend;
To the Land of Rainbow's-End."

"Thou'rt old," young Faintheart cried,
"thou'rt old,
And there's many a league to go;
And still thou seekest the pot of gold
At the farther end of the bow."
"I am old, I am old," said the Pilgrim gray,
"But ever my way I'll wend
To the rose-lit hills of the dying day
And the Land of Rainbow's-End."

"Come, rest thee, rest thee by my side;
Give o'er thy doomsday quest."
"Have done, have done!" the Pilgrim cried:
"The light wanes in the west.
The road is long, but I shall not tire;
I will lay my bones, God send,
By the beautiful City of Heart's Desire,
In the Land of Rainbow's-End.

"Then it's ho for a pack!" sang the Pilgrim gray,
"And a stout oak staff for friend,

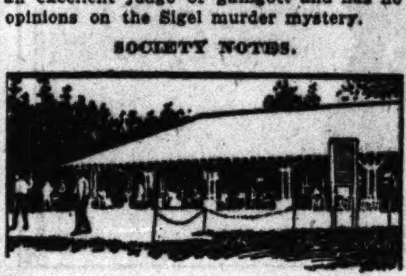
SOCIETY NOTES.



[Special Jackson Park Correspondence.]

The continued warm weather has added hourly to the number of guests at the Golf Shelter Inn, which is now in a whirl of social activity. A long list of entertainments has been prepared for the moonlight nights which are impending, though the young folks are not objecting to the present dusky evenings.

Mrs. Reginald Smith of the Rentwell apartments, Lake avenue, sent out invitations this week for a small hop on the deck of the Santa Maria, but has been compelled to recall them, the park commissioners withholding their consent. Much disappointment is felt.

Miss Estelle Fish of Kimbark avenue gives a launch party on the lagoon this evening in honor of her friend, Miss Inez Dabb of Waukegan.

Mr. Arthur Brown and his bride of Monroe avenue have arrived at the Inn to spend their honeymoon. They have the bridal suite of lockers, 800A.

A well worn golf pencil was picked up by your correspondent near the Inn today. What scores it could tell of! Owner may have same by applying to the head clerk.

THE TANK PROBLEM.

In re the inquiry regarding the tank of beer [cold] in a Milwaukee beer garden: The problem lacks the elements of probability. (1) No tank of beer in a Milwaukee beer garden would have so few as ten discharge pipes; (2) in the question, "if all the discharge pipes are opened at once," the qualifying "if" is made immaterial, irrelevant, and of no essential consequence by the presence of the word "Milwaukee" in the problem; (3) as to "how long will it take to empty the tank" the answer is Infinity—if the proprietor is on to his job. Q. E. D. A. J. C.

That tank of beer in the Milwaukee beer garden could be emptied when all discharge pipes were on the job in 8 hours 10 minutes 58 2,922-7,391 seconds. But why not rip off the tank cover, tip up the tank, and thus get rid of the "vile stuff" in even less time? N. H.

Records for Climbing Pike's Peak.

Chicago, July 12.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In your paper of the issue of July 10 you give prominence to an item relating to the exploit of an Ohio man, Randolph W. Walton of Columbus, who July 9 made the ascent of Pike's Peak in five hours and the descent in three hours. To the average city man who takes the elevator to climb one flight of stairs, the time made by Mr. Walton no doubt seems incredible, and there are many who will insist that he must have injured himself by his overexertion. But to those of us who have been climbing mountains off and on for twenty years or more the time made by our Ohio athlete does not seem at all noteworthy. It is, in fact, hard to understand how anybody in training and competing for the record on Pike's Peak could "put in" five hours' time climbing it.

That this is not idle talk the following will show: In the year 1893 the record time in climbing Pike's Peak was four hours, and was claimed by two men, one an Italian flute player in the orchestra of one of the Manitou hotels, and the other an English soldier, formerly with Kitchener in the Soudan and at that time clerk in the same hotel.

After an extensive inquiry in and about Manitou I was unable to find that four hours had ever been beaten. I trained for the ascent, and made it myself in three hours and forty-five minutes. So Mr. Walton cannot possibly claim the record for the ascent, as his time has been beaten by at least three men. Nor can he claim the round trip record, for the Englishman made it in seven hours, and almost anybody used to hard, long climbing can make it readily under Mr. Walton's time. CLIFFORD MITCHELL, M. D.

Expectoration on "L" Trains.

Chicago, July 16.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The writer for some time has seriously contemplated bringing to the notice of the proper officials the despicable practice of expectoration from public conveyances, especially from those of the elevated railroads, with the hope that some action will be taken in the near future looking toward a discontinuance of such an ill mannered custom, detrimental to health and personal welfare.

This morning, while passing beneath the elevated structure, the writer and a woman member of his family were spat upon from overhead by some one in a passing car, who took this seemingly popular means to rid himself of his cud of tobacco, much to the discomfiture and annoyance of the persons so subjected, as well as creating havoc with their wearing apparel.

It is unlawful to expectorate in any public conveyance. Should not it, therefore, be unlawful to cast to the four winds any expectoration from the windows or platforms of elevated or surface trains or stations, to have it alight on the heads or wearing apparel of the public?

The "smoking car" seems to be the father of this malicious habit, and if stringent measures were taken to remedy the aforesaid conditions by the placing of stationary receptacles in these cars the deplorable practice of spitting at random would be less prevalent, if not entirely eliminated.

BENJ. F. BUDINGER.

Complains Children Are Rude.

Chicago, July 14.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I thoroughly sympathise with Mrs. Simpson-Jones, who recently complained of the epithet applied to her by white children, but she is mistaken when she says that white people can walk along our streets without being insulted.

I live in a reputable neighborhood, but I frequently go out of my way to avoid a group of young children rather than have my anger aroused by being called vile and insulting names.

Only last winter a girl of not more than 12 years came up behind me and marked my coat from top to bottom with chalk, much to the delight of the other youngsters as well as adults who happened to be standing near. Since parents do not instill into their children courtesy and respect to strangers and elders, would it not be a wise thing for the school authorities [who spend so much time with fads] to devote a few minutes each day to this all important matter?

DOUGLAS.

A Wail from a Waiter.

Chicago, July 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I recall a characteristic of Adolf Wermuth, the new secretary of the German imperial treasury, when world's fair commissioner to Chicago and a guest at the Auditorium. He would tip the waiter by offering the money behind his chair, sometimes during the waiter's absence, and a dishonest man would take it, which often led to trouble in the kitchen. ROBERT JACKSON,

Praises "Plan of Chicago."

Chicago, July 14.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The Commercial Club has published and issued a book, "Plan of Chicago," well worth attentive consideration. The plan and scheme are big and almost stagger, and opinion will vary as to simplicity or ornateness. The eventual cost will be great, but immediate accomplishment is not contemplated. Plats show the apt fitting of each part of the plan into another, and the reasonableness and desirableness of proposed diagonal streets, which make for convenient intercommunication, are essential parts of the whole conception.

Attention to that part of the plan involving the widening of Twelfth street recalls a fact that, after the fire of 1871, a project to widen it to 150 or 200 feet was seriously urged at that time as a fire protection.

The civic center thought may be called a dream but is not a nightmare. It is practicable and in some form may become a necessity sooner than is now foreseen.

Many of us recall the bitter opposition to the project of establishing the South and West Park systems. But Jackson Park existed in 1892 and the World's Columbian Exposition was placed at Chicago.

Is it then fair and just to call the men behind, who have been so lavish in expenditure of time, labor, and money mere dreamers and wild enthusiasts and attribute to them motives other than those prompted by loyal and worthy citizenship?

R. H. BULKLEY.

Letter to Mr. Charles Horse.

Chicago, July 13.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Will you kindly forward this to Mr. Charles Horse?

My Dear Charles: I read your letter in this morning's Tribune. I am a deep sympathizer for you and yours. If you will send me your address or call me up on the phone I will give you $2, which will help a little to make up the $15 or $20 to chisel the stones for your poor, dear feet, or it may be used for a hair cut and save your eyes, or again to help your lady friend out with that troublesome bow. I care not so long as it benefits some one of you. I am only very, very sorry that I am not a rich woman; I would surely do more; but, quite the contrary, I work every day and have my own burden to carry. Hoping this little mite will assist, I am, respectfully yours, NANCY HANKS.

Rockefeller Greatest Doer.

Pontiac, Ill., July 13.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Your editorial, "The General Educational Fund," of Monday, neither affirms nor denies the truth of what is there given as the "observations" of the "captious critic" touching the "donations" of Mr. Rockefeller to that fund and the coincident decline in the price of crude petroleum and the advance in price of the refined article and byproducts.

If these "donations" are made possible or are recouped by such fluctuations in the oil market, why not let all the world know and understand? Such a view of the case would seem to make more tolerable the methods of the Standard Oil company and render easier and more agreeable the belief that Mr. Rockefeller is what his pastor says he is—a real gentleman and sincere Christian.

Render to Mr. Rockefeller the things which are his, and to us the things which are ours. It is not Mr. Rockefeller's "donations" that have made him great. It is as the pioneer and head of the great system of oil production, transportation, refinement, and distribution that he is justly entitled to be honored by all the world as the greatest living doer of things.

We who are his conscripts will also be his heirs. Posterity will rate him a doer, not a demon; why should not we? Z. F. YOST.

Harry Takes Cup from Spring and Wins Bet from Jimmy.

Previously acknowledged	$1,638.56
"Baby Yuster," Rochester, Ind.	2.00
"J.," Highland Park, Ill.	5.00
"M. D. P."	1.00
"A Friend"	1.00
Total	$1,645.56

Contributions in aid of "The Tribune" summer charities may be mailed to "The Tribune" office. Checks should be made payable to F. H. Rawson, treasurer. Contributors should state whether their donations are intended for the hospital or free ice funds. All contributions will be acknowledged promptly.

There are two little boys, guests at THE TRIBUNE hospital at Algonquin, who are in line to become dairymen when they grow up. They took their first lesson yesterday, a lesson in which there was no instructor. If the nurses at the hospital had known their intentions they might not have tried the experiment. In fact, the nurses might never have known but for an incident at the dinner table.

The boys have been inseparable companions since they arrived at the camp. So it was natural that they should sit together at the dinner table. So they sat last night when the nurses passed along the good things to eat and the mugs of fresh country milk, which is tonic and medicine for the youngsters. The nurse with the milk pitcher went to Jimmy first.

"I guess I don't want any milk," he announced.

Inasmuch as he has consumed about as much milk as any child at the camp, this was regarded as strange.

Refuse More at Dinner.

"What's the matter, Jimmy? You better have some before it's all gone," urged the nurse.

"No, I don't want any; give it to Harry," he replied.

"I guess I won't have any, either," said Harry.

Then the boys grinned openly at each other.

"Now what's the matter with you two boys?" demanded the nurse. "Don't you feel well?"

Then the story came out.

"We got all the milk we wanted this afternoon," said Harry. "There's a cow in a pasture over the hill. Jimmy, he bets me I can't milk a cow, and I takes him up. We got a tin cup down to the spring and we went to the pasture.

Cow Cornered and Milked.

"She's a pretty good cow, but I guess she didn't want to be milked. We got her in a corner and Jimmy he held her by a strap round her neck and I milked her. We didn't get much milk at first. I didn't know much about it, I guess. But I found out and we got all the milk we wanted."

The two youngsters grinned again in the face of the nurse's scolding that they shouldn't milk other people's cows.

"O, we didn't get all the milk," said Harry. "But I can milk a cow."

THE TRIBUNE camp and the adjoining camp of the United Charities will receive a visit from a large delegation of board of trade men next Thursday. At that time the new dining hall and kitchen erected by the brokers will be dedicated. The building has just been completed at a cost of $5,000 and will accommodate the entire population of the United Charities' camp. After the dedication the party will visit THE TRIBUNE hospital and the new dormitory and dining hall.

"THIS IS MY BIRTHDAY."

—Shakspeare.

Frank G. Hoyne, real estate man, and Thomas Maclay Hoyne, attorney, who are brothers, both celebrate their birthday anniversaries today. Frank G. Hoyne, who was United States appraiser during the régime of President Cleveland, is 55. He is a "sound money Democrat." Chicago is his birthplace. Thomas Maclay Hoyne was born in Galena, Ill., and is 66 today. He was one of the founders of the old Chicago Democratic club, the successor of which is the Iroquois club. He lives at 3369 Calumet avenue.

John C. Ames, who used to be United States marshal and is now customs collector in Chicago, is 57. He has at various times engaged in the drug, hardware, and lumber business, and was mayor of Streator, Ill., twenty-five years ago.

John Zachariah Vogelsang, food dispenser, was born in Indiana forty-nine years ago today and has been in Chicago over half his life. He lived close to nature on a farm until he was 16.

Henry J. Furber Sr. was born in the hills of New Hampshire and will pass his sixty-ninth anniversary in that state. He has been in the insurance business over forty years, and by formal training is both a teacher and a lawyer.

Joseph F. Pride, secretary of the Platt company and president of the board of trustees of the Fullerton Avenue Presbyterian church, is 61. Buffalo is his birth town, Milwaukee his wedding town, and Chicago his home for thirty-one years. He lives at 720 Pine Grove avenue.

George W. Paullin of Evanston, fur manufacturer, who was educated for the law but practiced only a short time, is 45. He is a Philadelphian.

George I. Jones of 2455 Kenmore avenue, law publisher and resident of Chicago a quarter of a century, is 62. He is of Harvard '71 and is flanked fore and aft with Harvard men in his family. From New England he followed the flag of the carpet bag government southward, then circled north for keeps.

Dr. Cassius C. Rogers, graduate of Rush Medical college, who has traced his ancestors in the medical profession back to colonial days, is 40. He comes originally from Woodford county, Ill., and lives at 501 Douglas boulevard.

PUPILS TO TOAST PROSPERITY.

Chicago Children Will Be Asked to Join in National Recognition of Portola Festival.

Chicago school children will be asked to join with pupils all over the country in drinking a national toast to continued prosperity on Oct. 19, the date of the formal opening of the Portola festival of San Francisco.

Robert A. Rees, one of three commissioners in charge of the festival, yesterday arrived in the city from Washington, where he secured President Taft's promise to be present at the San Francisco celebration.

"I am in this city," said Mr. Rees at the Congress hotel, "to complete arrangements with Mayor Busse to have the Chicago school children drink the toast of pure water."

NEWS OF THE SOCIETY WORLD

MANY CHICAGOANS IN PARIS.

Mrs. Marshall Field Among the Visitors in French Capital.

A great day in the social annals of Delavan Lake will be July 23 (weather permitting), when Mrs. Philo R. King and her friends will give their lawn fête on Mrs. King's grounds, and supplemental to it Charles A. Stevens and Elmer Stevens will supervise a ball game which they have been "working up" for these many days, the participants in this latter to be the Delavan Lake Yacht and Lake Geneva Yacht clubs. If any vagaries of weather interfere on the date set these allied festivities will both be deferred until the day following.

Those in charge of the different booths are as follows:

Fancy work—Mrs. Poor, Mrs. Tilden.
Candy—Mrs. Rickcords, Mrs. Sutter.
Utility—Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Webster.
Ice Cream—Miss Martin, Mrs. Kellogg, Mrs Hale.
Flowers—Miss Alta Stearns and assistants.
Postal cards, telegraph, and music—Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Wood.
Lemonade and birch beer—Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Jayne.
Sugar plum tree—Mrs. Joe. Allyn.
Goose grab bag—Mrs. Berriman.
Fish pond—Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Darlington.
Ring canes—Miss Kuhnert, Mrs. Kuhnert.

In a letter received in Chicago yesterday from Paris Mrs. Marshall Field was reported to be there with Mrs. Hugh T. Birch and Miss Birch. Mr. and Mrs. John S. Runnells and Miss Alice Runnells are there, too, as are Mrs. John C. King, Mrs. Henry Lytton, Mrs. Clarence Woolley, Mrs. Charles A. Munn, and Miss Munn.

Miss Martha Field Peck, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Peck, sailed on Wednesday on the Mauretania, with her uncle, Mrs. Peck's bachelor brother, John F. Field, and her maid, for London. They will be away until September and expect to visit Paris and other cities of the continent.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clarkson, Miss May Allport, and Charles Francis Browne have gone down to Grand du Tour and have taken quarters there for the month of August.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer R. Murphy have returned from a visit in the east and Canada and will be at Highland Park for the summer.

Mrs. Charles Bowen, Master Charles Bowen, Mrs. S. J. Feeney and daughter, Gwendolen, of 617 East Forty-sixth street, will sail for Europe on July 23 from Quebec.

Mrs. John Edwin Rhodes and Miss Margaret Rhodes, 5045 Washington avenue, have opened their cottage at North Manitou island, Mich. They will return to the city the latter part of the month and will pass the month of August at "Felsenmeer," the summer place of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sloat Fassett at Bass Rocks, East Gloucester, Mass.

Mrs. C. C. Adsit, 24 Ritchie court, has gone east and is at present in New London, Conn. She expects to visit several of the large summer resorts during the coming two months. Mr. Adsit will join her later.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Raymond and family, 2239 Calumet avenue, are spending the summer at Jefferson, N. H., where they have a cottage.

Mrs. Clarence A. Tuttle, 5014 Grand boulevard, instead of going to Europe, as originally planned, will leave on Monday for a three weeks' outing in the Rocky mountains. Most of the time will be divided between Colorado Springs and Glenwood Springs, with a short visit with friends in Denver.

Henry D. Baker will leave shortly to return to his post as United States consul at Hobart, Tasmania. He expects to go to New York by motor and to sail for Europe on July 31. He will then travel over the trans-Siberian railway.

Miss Gulma Charbanneau has been visiting Mrs. John William Donohue of 4543 Michigan avenue, and has now gone to Seattle. She will return on Sept. 1 and will shortly afterwards return to her home in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bluhm and Miss Geraldine have left for Green Lake to be away for the remainder of the summer. The family live at the Chicago Beach hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Porter Fraker and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Smith Wilson have sailed on the Northland for an extended fishing trip in Georgian bay.

One thousand people witnessed the presentation of "The Tempest" by the Ben Greet players yesterday afternoon on the lawn of Daniel Trench, 853 North Euclid avenue, Oak Park, and almost as large an audience saw "Twelfth Night" in the evening. Proceeds of the entertainment go to the Hephzibah home of Oak Park, and about $300 will be turned over today.

The marriage of Miss Margaretha Thomsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto G. A. Thomsen of Hamburg, Germany, to Herbert Hopkins Moore will take place this evening at the residence of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Moore, 4405 Lake avenue, at 8 o'clock, the Rev. John Stockwell reading the service. The bride's gown is of white embroidered batiste with garniture of lace. She will wear a tulle veil and carry a shower of white sweet peas. The drawing room where the ceremony will be performed will be decorated in green and white and the dining room, in charge of Morse, will be in pink. Following a wedding trip the young couple will be at home at 929 Vincennes avenue after Sept. 15.

Miss Myrtle Drury, 23 years old, daughter of Edwin Drury, postmaster of Wilmette, and prominent in Grand Army of the Republic circles, was married Wednesday night to John Ling, also of Wilmette, and a member of the Evanston Golf club. The ceremony was performed at the Drury residence in Wilmette, the Rev. J. P. Brushingham, superintendent of the Chicago Northern district, officiating.

HAND'S BAND AT LINCOLN PARK.

Special Trains Will Take Court Germania No. 19, U. O. F., to Third Annual Picnic at Columbia.

"Johnny" Hand and his band will give a concert at Lincoln park tomorrow afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock.

The third annual picnic of Court Germania 19, U. O. F., will be held at Columbia park today. Special trains will leave the Dearborn station, beginning at 9:30 o'clock.

Isidor Levin will address the members of the Homeward club on the subject, "Toward Real Democracy," at the clubhouse, West Taylor and Lytle streets, this evening at 8 o'clock.

Since "Sir Richard Calmady" lovers of serious fiction have waited eagerly for work from "Lucas Malet." She has produced at last exactly what her many admirers hoped for—a story as strong as the one which made her reputation, but more pleasing in its theme and characters. Miss St. John, the celebrated comedienne, and her friends, the playwright and the politician, are the most interesting trio which have appeared in the year's fiction.

Household Hints

In the BOUDOIR

Reducing Flesh.

In these days of slimness the fat woman simply must reduce if she values her appearance. Her only salvation is in vigorous exercise and a reasonable diet. She must live almost entirely on crisp, green vegetables, lean meats, salted toast, clear coffee, and unsweetened tea. No fats, sweets, eggs, cream, butter, or potatoes in any form. A glass of buttermilk for breakfast, a light luncheon, and the evening meal the solid one of the day. She should sleep not longer than seven hours a day and be determined never to be lazy for a minute. Drink little water. Hot baths, too, are a necessary part of the weight reducing regimen.

Teach Children to Swim.

There is nothing like getting at things early in life. That is why your children should be taught to swim while they are still young. Any physically strong boy or girl can be taught to swim, and taught with little trouble. It is one of the exercises which when performed in moderation is always beneficial. A child who has a narrow chest and weak lungs will be greatly benefited. Swimming fills the lungs with fresh air, the arm movements broaden the chest and strengthen the muscles of the upper part of the body. The motion of the legs reduces flesh on the abdomen. The entire exercise is the means of gaining strength and acquiring grace.

* *

Prematurely Gray Hair.

It is always much better, even if the hair turns prematurely gray, to allow it to take its own course, and never try to conceal its natural condition by dye. Many dyes are extremely injurious and in any case, even with the most harmless vegetable dyes, the fact is always apparent that the color is artificial. Nature when left to herself is more apt to follow out the laws of harmony, and she so changes the rest of the face as to harmonize it with the color of the hair.

* *

Uneven Shoulders.

Dressmakers constantly complain that most women have uneven shoulders and hips. This is especially true of those who sit at the desk many hours in the day. The right shoulder and the right hip are the ones usually the highest. The simplest exercise to reduce a high shoulder is to extend the lower shoulder upward, thus forcibly depressing the higher shoulder. This should be done many times a day. It can be done while sitting at the work. To correct the defect in the hips throw all the weight on the smaller hip five times every morning and at night when retiring until an improvement is noted.

IN THE GARDEN

Green Fly.

The commonest of all insect pests on the roses is that of aphis, and in the early part of some seasons it is present in such immense numbers as to completely cover the young twigs of the plant. Rose growers should ever be on the watch for the aphises and take measures to destroy them before they become too numerous. They are of all insects the easiest to kill, and repeated syringing with quassia extract is usually sufficient to cleanse the plant.

* *

Rose Mildew.

Rose mildew is a common fungoid disease which attacks roses. Its appearance need not be described, as it is too familiar already to every rose grower. Mildew is frequently caused in growing roses out of doors by drought at the roots, and by cold winds. Certain varieties are more subject to attack than others. The long used remedy for mildew is that of flowers of sulphur, and it has been recommended to add to the sulphur one-third of its quantity of slaked lime. Another method is to spray the plant with potassium sulphide, taking care to wet the leaves underneath as well as on top.

Tomatoes.

Tomatoes are not usually attacked by any serious insect pest, excepting that of the white fly. They multiply rapidly, and from the back of the leaves pierce the skin and live on the juices of the plant. They may be destroyed if they be sprayed thoroughly and all diseased leaves removed.

ALL AROUND THE HOUSE

Some Don'ts for Mothers.

Don't forget that a crowded shop is a poor place for children. If you must take them there teach them not to touch things they see.

Don't frighten children into obedience. More than one child has been made a nervous wreck through fear.

Don't make religious observance a burden to your children. Remember that it is difficult for them to regard these questions as you do. Let them grow to it.

Don't forget that an orderly child is a blessing to himself as well as to others.

Don't forget that your children are daily growing older and that yesterday's attitude toward them may not be appropriate for today.

* *

Burglar Proof Windows.

By putting an ordinary hinge on the upper sash of a window, say about eight inches from the lower sash—leaving one-half the hinge free and protruding—a window can be raised from the bottom or lowered at the top only eight inches. When desired the hinge may be closed flat against the upper sash, allowing the window to be raised to any desired height.

YE CORNER FOR YE COOK

Currant Ice.

Make a thick sirup of one and one-half pounds of granulated sugar cooked in three pints of water and two cupfuls of current juice. Turn into a freezer and when partly frozen stir in the beaten whites of six eggs.

* *

Fruit and Nut Sandwiches.

Take half a cupful of prunes finely chopped, which have been soaked in cold water and steamed until tender, add to them the same quantity of chopped pecan nuts and a pinch of salt. Make a dressing of three-eighths of a cup of cream, flavored with a pinch of salt and paprika and a few drops of lemon juice. Whip this until firm, mix into the prunes and nuts. Do not spread on bread until time for serving.

* *

Cherry Tarts.

Put a pint of flour in a bowl, a half teaspoonful of baking powder, three tablespoonfuls of butter and a teaspoonful of salt. Work the butter and the other ingredients into the flour, moisten with a little ice water, roll thin and line patty tins. Partly fill with stewed cherries that have been sweetened and flavored with cinnamon. Bake for twenty minutes. Serve hot or cold.

SCHOOLS SOON TO HAVE HEAD

Urion Will Call Board Meeting to Name Superintendent.

WANTS CHOICE FROM BEST.

Would Not Wait Until Leading Educators Are Placed.

Within a fortnight, or three weeks at the latest, the board of education will choose a new superintendent of schools for Chicago. In the opinion of President Alfred R. Urion and a majority of the members of the board the position made vacant by the resignation of E. G. Cooley several months ago has remained unfilled too long. President Urion stated yesterday that a special meeting of the board probably will be called during the last week of July to select a new superintendent.

"I had thought to call a meeting of the board about August 1," said President Urion yesterday. "I have considered the matter more thoroughly and have about decided to call the meeting during the last week of the present month if it is possible. It seems to be the consensus of opinion that a superintendent should be selected as soon as possible for several reasons.

Want Choice from the Best.

"We want to get the best man for the place, and we do not want to wait until the best educators are placed. Then, too, the new superintendent should have some time to familiarize himself with the Chicago schools before he is called on to take up his duties.

"The schools open in September, and a month would be none too long a time for him to become familiar with his new duties."

President Urion says the selection of a superintendent will be attended with the harmony which has been declared the watchword of the present administration. Within the next two weeks candidates for the position, both those who have made informal application for the place and others who, it is believed, will accept the position if it is offered them, will be discussed in a number of informal conferences of members of the board. But when the final selection is made it will be made unanimously, according to the president.

Opposes High School Frats.

In one thing at least President Urion will follow closely in the path marked out by his predecessor, Otto C. Schneider. There will be no renewed activity on the part of fraternities and secret societies in the public schools. He made an emphatic statement of this attitude during the day.

"I am opposed to high school fraternities and secret societies," he declared. "They have no place in our schools, they should not be allowed to exist, and they will not be, either. But that matter will be attended to by the school management committee.

ACTRESS INJURED IN RACE WITH JACK JOHNSON CAR.

Champion Heavyweight Pugilist Says the Other Car Skidded, Wrenching Two Wheels from Axle.

Miss Lorraine Woods, said to be a member of a theatrical company now playing in Chicago, was seriously injured in an automobile accident at Crown Point, Ind., according to word received from there last night. The accident occurred on the Cobe race course.

Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, was racing against the driver of the machine in which Miss Woods was seated. According to his version of the story an attempt was made to pass him at the worst point in the course, and in so doing the two rear wheels of the machine bearing Miss Woods were ripped from the axle.

At the Princess theater it was stated that a Miss Woods had rehearsed last Monday with the company for the new play, "The Goddess of Liberty." This was the first rehearsal, and on the following night the woman did not put in an appearance.

"I had a few friends with me in my machine and was making a circuit of the Cobe course when the accident occurred," said Jack Johnson. "I don't know who was driving the machine, and I don't know who were in the party.

"We were moving along at a pretty fast clip when at attempt was made to pass us at a dangerous point in the course. Their machine skidded and struck the ditch, tearing off the rear wheels from the axle. A woman in this car was seriously injured, but I did not learn her name."

CHILD ACTOR BRINGS 2 FINES.

Samuel P. Gerson and H. E. Rice Plead Guilty of Employing Girl 14 Years Old.

Pleas of guilty of violation of the child labor laws yesterday ended the legal battle between Factory Inspector Edgar T. Davies and two local theatrical managers over the employment of children on the stage.

Samuel P. Gerson, manager of Bush Temple theater, and H. E. Rice, formerly manager of the Sans Souci park theater, appeared before Judge Frye in the Municipal court and indicated their willingness to pay whatever penalties were demanded. Rice, who had asked for a new trial, paid a fine of $100, and Gerson was fined $5.

They were charged with employing Isabel Lamon, 14 years old, 276 North Clark street, on the stage. The girl did a juvenile part with Virginia Harned.

Mrs. Beatty Wins Her Suit.

Mrs. David Beatty, daughter of the late Marshall Field, won a victory before Judge Cutting yesterday when a decision was given holding that Mrs. Beatty was entitled to the income from her share of her father's estate from the date of his death. The executors held that Mrs. Beatty was not entitled to the income until one year after the death.

MRS. EDDY FOUR SCORE AND 8; PERMITS NO BIRTHDAY FUSS.

Leader of Christian Scientists, Hale and Hearty, Dislikes Observance of Anniversary and Keeps to Routine.

Boston, Mass., July 16.—[Special.]—Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, the leader of the Christian Scientists, is 88 years old today, but in accordance with her long established custom, she is not observing the anniversary in any manner.

Alfred Farlow, head of the publication committee of the Scientists, told a reporter this afternoon that he had talked with Mrs. Eddy earlier in the day, and she had told him she would have no special callers and that her usual program of work, study, and driving would be followed as on any other day.

Mr. Farlow said Mrs. Eddy was working over her correspondence; that she was writing today, as she does every day, and that at 1 o'clock this afternoon she would take her usual drive about the Chestnut Hill section, where her home is located. He said Mrs. Eddy's health continues good and her vigor unabated. Mr. Farlow also said that during the twenty years in which he has been associated with Mrs. Eddy she never has permitted any celebration of her birthday.

SHOT TRYING TO SAVE WIFE.

Woman Attempts Suicide—Husband Sustains Wound While Fighting to Take Weapon from Her.

Mrs. Mary Fricke attempted to commit suicide yesterday at her home in Hammond, Ind., and succeeded in inflicting a serious wound in her breast after her husband, Fred Fricke, had been shot while trying to wrest a revolver from her. Fricke's wound is slight. The couple have been married eight years. Quarrels, it is said, caused the tragedy.

LOCAL CATHOLIC FORESTERS DEMAND DEMOCRATIC RULES.

Massmeeting Decides Present Constitution Gives Autocratic Powers to Officers, and Change Will Be Demanded.

Considerable feeling toward the administration of the organization was exhibited last night at a mass meeting of the Catholic Order of Foresters of Chicago, held at Haney hall, Forty-eighth and Halsted streets.

It was decided that the members of the order in Illinois should stand by the 40,000 Canadian members who demand an important amendment to the constitution of the organization which will limit the power of those in charge. The rule under discussion, as it stands, provides:

"No proposed amendment, substitute, or repeal shall be considered in the international convention unless a majority of the committee on constitution agree to consider it." Therefore without this consent no amendment, etc., no matter how desirable it may be to nine-tenths of the members, can even be considered, much less voted upon.

It is proposed to change this rule so that an amendment can be made by popular vote instead of leaving everything to the mercies of a small committee.

DOGS ATTACK FOUR PERSONS.

Police Department Receives Reports of Injuries and One Animal Is Killed.

Four persons were bitten yesterday by stray dogs. Those who were bitten are George Bunker of 377 Ogden avenue, Justus W. Rosenquist of 1142 Seventy-second street, Viola Gohn, 6039 Champlain avenue, and Thomas C. Joyce of 15 Clarkson court. One dog was killed by the police.

Good New Novels for Your Vacation Reading

Poppea of the Post-Office Now ready. Cloth, $1.50
By the Author of "The Garden of a Commuter's Wife," "People of the Whirlpool," "The Open Window," etc., etc. It is a delightfully fresh and fragrant life which she reproduces, and her sharp thrusts at the foibles of city visitors and "oldest families" alike have lost none of their piquant wit.

The Three Brothers
"Not only the best novel he has written but also one of the greatest novels of the decade . . . close-knit, full of human nature."—Record-Herald, Chicago. Cloth, $1.50

William Allen White's novel A Certain Rich Man
Keenly interesting, wonderfully acute, it sums up a generation of national life; it is a vivid picture of the making of a dominant captain of industry, who weighs in the balance private ethics and "the larger good" of "organizing the grain industry as it is not organized anywhere else on the planet." The whole novel is thoroughly American and broadly national. Its minor characters are clear-cut and lovable. Ready next week. Cloth, $1.50

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Comiskey's men made it three straight from the Highlanders yesterday, winning the final game of the congested New York series by a score of 3 to 1 after a bitterly fought contest which might have lasted twice as long if Elberfeld had made a straight peg after robbing Tannehill of a hit in the sixth inning.

That low shot by the visitors' captain was all that turned the tide, for it came with two men out and two Sox on bases and blew across the home pan the two runs by which we triumphed. There never was a chance for the Sox to lose, however, after the fourth inning when Big Ed Walsh finally gave up trying to get his machinery working right and let Frank Scott take the gunner's burden with the score tied at 1 apiece.

The Wichita giant was right with the accent on every letter and held the enemy in the hollow of his right hand during the five innings he performed. Not a hit did he allow; nary a walk nor a slip of any kind marred his work or that of the men behind him, consequently the Highlanders were barred from first base as effectually as if it were located ten thousand leagues under the sea and not a diving suit to be had.

B. Purtell Badly Hurt.

The home infield was shaken about considerably by an accident in morning practice, which put B. Purtell out of commission for the day at least and perhaps longer. During the batting practice a fast wild one, pitched by Fiene, hit Purtell just behind the ear, knocking him unconscious and for a few minutes serious consequences were feared. But he revived and was able to notice things by afternoon although still far too groggy to play ball. Tannehill went back to his old stand, Parent came in to play short, and White once more filled in at center. There was nothing the matter with the new defense, which played faultlessly and brilliantly in more spots than one.

Altizer once more commanded the calcium spot light by a daring and dashing catch in the fourth inning which sure enough saved the game at its most critical juncture just before Walsh retired from the fray.

Tannehill starred familiarly around third and pulled off a spectacular stab in the first inning which probably saved Walsh a bunch of trouble. That was when he sneaked in on Austin's little foul bunt and scooped the ball with one hand a foot or two from the ground on the dead run. Parent was equally at home at short and contrib- rally that brought victory in the sixth. uted a couple of swats, one of which started the Isbell was the hitting scamp with a whistling three bagger over left in the first inning, good for the opening count of the day, and Atz was defensively responsible for the demise of at least two near base hits off Scott.

Walsh Gets Out Lucky.

Tannehill and a fortunate double play helped out Walsh in the first inning. Demmitt hit a single off the first ball pitched. Austin bunted a little foul on which Tannehill made his circus bare paw catch. Chase popped a high foul to Isbell in a hit and run play and before they could stop Demmitt he had gone so far he was doubled up easily off first.

Comiskey's men jumped into the lead in their half. Altizer was hit on the knee pan for a starter. Parent struck out trying to commit suicide the other way, but Daredevil Dave stole second. Isbell stuck Big Betsy's nose squarely against a curve and smashed it far over Engle's head, making three bases on it and giving Altizer a romp to the plate. Dougherty fouled out and White grounded.

Walsh passed Engle with one out in the second, but it cost nothing. Fortune favored Big Ed in the third. Sweeny led off with a single to left, but Quinn hit head on into a double play to Parent, clearing up the situation. It was timely, too, for Walsh lost control and passed Demmitt and Austin. Chase helped him out with a slashing bounder to Tannehill, forcing Demmitt and the side out.

The fourth saw the enemy tie the knot and would have seen a lot more woe but for Altizer. Walsh started it by passing Elberfeld without giving him a good one. Engle struck out, but Cree and Laporte followed with clean hard singles, the Indiana single scoring Elberfeld. Sweeney hit first base and Isbell grabbed up the ball in time to retire him. Quinn tried valiantly to win his own game with a long high whack which apparently was going to the fence. Altizer flew back with thieving intent and just as the winged messenger of defeat was sailing over his head he gave an extra leap, grabbed a tail feather, and held on. It was highway robbery and also it broke New York's back.

Scott Goes to Slab.

Scott went to the slab in the fifth and retired fifteen men in succession, not a batsman reaching first in any old way. Austin fell victim on strikes twice and Slugger Quinn once. Four hard swats were made in that time off Wichita Jim, but Atz and Tannehill took care of two apiece.

Although the Sox were hitting Quinn for one safe rap an inning, they could not make two together nor get a man around the circuit from the first to the sixth. That opened mighty salubriously with a single by Parent and a pass for Isbell. But when P. Dougherty tried to sacrifice his bunt was grabbed by Quinn in time to force Frederigo at third. White tried to catch the infield napping with a bunt, but Quinn threw him out, Isbell and Dougherty moving up a peg apiece. It was up to Tannehill and he met the ball squarely. Elberfeld cut off the hit in deep short, set himself for the long throw, and beat Lee to first all right, but his throw hit the earth and shot by Chase like a bullet to the lidless seats. Issy and Pat scored the runs which meant victory while Lee staggered along to second after tripping over the first base. He was run down on Atz's grounder to Austin.

Two Sox reached first base in the seventh and two more in the eighth, but only one of them lived to see second, and he got there on an uncostly muff of Parent's easy pop fly by Demmitt. Score:

NOTES OF THE WHITE SOX.

Five times out of eight innings the first White Sox to bat reached first base and only once did he score.

Dougherty led in the eighth with a walk and was forced at second by White, who in turn was doubled up with Tannehill on Lee's rap to Laporte.

The game dragged terribly and lasted an even two hours after starting five minutes late. The first three innings lasted an hour. It wasn't too hot to hustle, either.

Winning four out of six from the Highlanders in four days, with a crippled pitching staff and an opponent that murders left handers, was not a bad record for the Sullivans.

Apparently Tim Hurst didn't see that the Sox had changed batteries until the eighth inning and then it was too late to announce it as every one else was on before that.

Scott worked Quinn for a pass in the seventh with one gone. Altizer forced him at second and Parent raised a nice fly to center. Demmitt muffed it squarely, but Isbell's grounder retired the side.

Purtell sat in the clubhouse the greater part of the game trying to keep his head from swelling with the help of Trainer Buckner. After the game he was able to go home alone and hoped to be in shape for the spangles this afternoon.

Isbell was called out in the third inning on a third strike which was a foul tip and which Isbell claimed hit the ground before Sweeney caught it. Hurst differed with Issy and the arbitrator won out, of course.

After getting a bump on the knee in the first inning Altizer was hit on the elbow next time up in the third inning. Hurst seemingly was afraid it would get to be a habit with the dare devil, so refused to allow him to go to first, much to the disquietude of Altizer, Pilot Bill, and George Davis, all of whom addressed impolite but scholarly language to the rotund man of the iron mask.

Atz singled and stole with one out in the second inning and rested while Sullivan and Walsh were retired. Parent singled with one out in the third and was nailed trying to steal after Isbell's scratch strikeout. Dougherty led in the fourth with a single and three men got him as far as second. That was better than they could do for Owens who opened the fifth with a single. Scott and Altizer struck out and when Owens tried to advance himself he was thrown out at second.

NAPS' BIG WINNING STREAK BROKEN BY THE ATHLETICS.

Mackmen Land on Berger in Sixth for Two Runs and Whitewash Cleveland, Three to Nothing.

Cleveland, O., July 16.—Cleveland's winning streak was broken today, Philadelphia winning, 3 to 0. Berger was invincible until the sixth. He hit Oldring, Ganley sacrificed, and singles by Collins and Murphy resulted in two runs. Oldring again scored in the eighth on his double, Ganley's sacrifice and an out. Morgan was effective throughout. Score:

Detroit, Mich., July 16.—"Quit baseball? Not as long as I can play," said Tyrus Cobb, right fielder of the Detroit American league champions, when asked about a story from Macon, Ga., that he was contemplating retiring from baseball in favor of the automobile business. Cobb, however, intends to devote his winters to the automobile, having accepted a position as sales agent.

PITCHERS IN HARD BATTLE.

Peculiar Decision in 15th Inning Prolongs Hot Contest.

Detroit, Mich., July 16.—Detroit and Washington played a record game for consecutive scoreless innings in a major league contest, the game being called on account of darkness at the end of the eighteenth, 0 to 0.

Summers pitched for Detroit, and backed by brilliant fielding was never in real danger of being scored on. He struck out ten men and was at his best when errors put him at a disadvantage.

Gray, for Washington, went into the ninth inning with a record of only one hit against him. In the ninth, while pitching, he strained his side and was forced to retire. Groome succeeded and did remarkable work both in pitching and fielding. Unassisted double plays were made by Bush and Rossman, each preventing probable runs.

Detroit seemed to have the game won in the fifteenth when Killifer, running for Stanage, went home on Crawford's grounder to Groome, and Washington started to leave the field. Umpire Kerin called the team back, ruling that a force play had been made. Score:

NOTES OF THE CUBS.

Boston, Mass., July 16.—[Special.]—The Cubs left at 11:30 tonight for New York.

Tom Needham appeared this morning, saying he had decided not to go on a scouting trip.

There will be a double header at Brooklyn tomorrow and Reulbach and Overall will pitch.

Pittsburg wouldn't have a chance for the pennant if the Cubs were allowed to stay here and play the rest of the season.

Billy Murray, manager of the Phillies, was in the grand stand. He came up to see for himself whether or not the Doves are worse than his own club.

The Cubs will play an exhibition game in Troy, Johnny Evers' home town, on Sunday, going up the river from New York after the Brooklyn games.

Del Howard was put off the coaching lines in the eighth inning for making too much noise. No umpire could accuse the Boston players of a similar offense.

Only three pitchers were used in the Boston series, Pfiester, Kroh, and Brown. The two left handers probably will get a rest now until the New York series opens.

It was hoped some of the Doves would stay out on the field during the rain and have their uniforms cleaned. Beck, who was in Beaumont's place, looked as if he had spent the morning in a coal mine with his pastiming clothes on.

BY R. W. LARDNER.

Boston, Mass., July 16.—[Special.]—The champions of the world won their seventh straight victory and their fifth straight over Boston this afternoon by a score of 4 to 1. The score ought to have been 4 to 0 and the game should have been the second consecutive shutout for young Floyd Kroh of Bolivar, N. Y.

The heavy rain which interrupted the contest for twenty minutes in the sixth inning was responsible for the fact Floyd didn't score a whitewash and also that he didn't get credit for a one hit game. Harry Steinfeldt was unfortunate enough to discover two wet spots on the ball in the ninth inning, and each spot meant one error. The errors gave the Doves their lone tally and also gave Roy Thomas a chance to make a safe hit, the second and last one off Kroh. The first one went to the credit of Bill Dahlen and occurred in the first round, so it will be seen that Kroh kept them well scattered, there being seven innings between hits.

Ferguson Some Shucks.

Opposed to Floyd was George Cecil Ferguson of Terre Haute, Ind. George was good after the first Cub round, almost as good as Kroh and it was not his fault that the champions tallied thrice in the eighth. However, Boston must have its daily blowup and most of the people were surprised it didn't come long before it did. Twelve champions fanned before Fergy's hot shot. Jimmy Archer was the victim in chief and he at least tied some records by striking out every time he came up, four times in all. One of Ferguson's strikeouts, however, was what started the airship sailing in the eighth, for "Peaches" Graham dropped the third strike on Kroh and this was a signal for the champs to start the daily flight around the bases.

The Cubs' first run was earned, it being gleaned on Evers' single and Schulte's two bagger. It wasn't as nice a start as the champs have made most of the time spent here, but it was better than nothing and certainly looked big the way Kroh was going.

Rain Stops Play.

No one thought the full game ever could be played. Big storm clouds chased themselves back and forth over the field from 3 o'clock on, and the burst was expected every moment. The Cubs were anxious to get five innings completed after they had scored their run. They managed this all right, but the rain held back until Boston's part of the sixth. Then it came down in torrents. Umpire Kane called a halt, and the betting was 10 to 1 there would be no resumption of hostilities. But for all the fierce looking clouds the downpour lasted only ten minutes. Ten more were spent in sprinkling dry sand and sawdust around the home plate and the pitcher's hillock. The job was superintended by Joe Tinker, and four or five Cubs took shovels and rakes and helped Boston's ground force.

There were two Doves out and one on base when time was called, and the next one up, Bill Dahlen, got out as soon as play was resumed. A short time after that Graham made the fatal mistake of letting the third strike get away, and then every one in Boston wished the rain had finished what it started.

Cubs Get One in First.

Evers opened round one with a bounder over Fergy's head which netted him one base. On a hit and run play Sheckard was thrown out by Coffey, Evers going to second. Frank Schulte then lifted a long two bagger over Beck's head, Johnny trotting home. Chance and Steinfeldt were victims on outfield flies.

Dahlen celebrated his return to active service by singling over second after one was out in the home half. He was forced by Thomas and Beck fouled to Steinfeldt. Not another Dove saw first base until the sixth, when Ferguson walked. There was one out at the time and Becker immediately fanned. After the rain Dahlen came up and ended it with a fly to Schulte.

The Cubs were kept guessing until the sixth round, in which Ferguson showed his best pinch pitching. Evers led off with a double against the left field fence. Sheckard walked and Schulte sacrificed. With men on second and third and one out, Chance struck out and Sweeney and Stem disposed of Steinfeldt.

Eighth Nice for Champs.

In the eighth Kroh chased to first when Graham let the third strike escape him. Evers pulled off one of the Cubs' new plays, bunting past Sweeney and all the way to Coffey, and beating it out. Sheckard was sent up to sacrifice, but his best was a pop foul, which Graham dived after and caught. Schulte struck out, but Chance singled over second, filling the bases. Ferguson lost control and passed Steinfeldt, forcing in a run. Hofman singled to left and Evers and Chance came home. Artie was caught between first and second and Steinfeldt was nailed at the plate trying to sneak in on the play.

That was all for the Cubs. Harry Smith was sent up to hit for Ferguson in the ninth. He grounded to Steinfeldt and went all the way to second when Steiny threw over Chance's head. Becker flied to Hofman. Steinfeldt booted Dahlen's grounder and Thomas singled to center, filling the bases. Smith scored while Chance was retiring Becker, and the game was over when Steinfeldt found a dry spot on the rock and tossed out Coffey. Score:

BOWERMAN THROWS UP HIS JOB

President Dovey Announces That Manager Has Resigned and Smith Has Been Appointed.

Boston, Mass., July 16.—[Special.]—John Dovey officially announced tonight that Frank Bowerman has resigned as manager of the Boston Nationals. Catcher Harry Smith has been appointed manager and will assume the duties of manager commencing tomorrow, July 17.

Bowerman has been a rank failure as manager and when he drew his salary yesterday he declared he was through with the managerial duties of the team.

It is not settled yet as to whether he will continue to play ball for the Boston team, but those close say that before the next pay day comes around Bowerman will have severed all connections with the team.

Bowerman said he resigned because the Boston club traded some of his best fielders. He refused to stand for such a trade and his resignation followed.

Waidner and Neely Beat Peters and Hayes for Doubles Championship.

MATCH GOES FIVE SETS.

Carr Earns Place in Final Round of Singles, Which Is Set for Decision Today.

One Illinois championship, and several other matches important as bearing on the finals were decided yesterday at the Aztec Tennis club. The championship in men's doubles after the hardest kind of a match went to L. Harry Waidner and John C. Neely, who defeated Hayes and Peters.

The latter pair earned a place in the finals by taking the final set, 6—4, of the postponed match with Snow and Morley.

In the final round the match developed the most interesting play. In the first set Hayes and Peters started in at a fast pace, and soon amassed a substantial lead. Waidner and Neely, however, caught their opponents at 4 all, but the spurt proved too much, and Hayes and Peters took the next two games and set, 6—4.

In the second set there was a decided reversal of form, and Waidner and Neely fairly took their opponents off their feet, winning 6—0.

Waidner and Neely continued their clever work in the third set, and soon settled it, 6—3.

Following the usual seven minute rest, Hayes and Peters showed a return to form. Both teams won alternately up to 4 all, when Hayes and Peters took two games and the set, 6—4.

Hard Fight for Final.

In the fifth set games alternated to five all. From this point on the gallery was kept constantly on edge through the brilliancy of the play and both teams had the match apparently "cinched" many times. But the set finally went to Waidner and Neely at 9—7, and with it the Illinois doubles championship for 1909.

In singles Fred Carr, the former University of Chicago player, won his way into the final round by defeating William Wilkens of Aztec in straight sets, 6—3, 6—4, 7—5. Carr will now meet the winner of the Hayes-Morley match, both matches being scheduled for today.

In women's singles Miss Miriam Steever won the right to challenge Miss Carrie B. Neely for the state championship by defeating Mrs. G. Edgar Barnes in the final round.

Summary of Matches.

Men's singles, semi-finals—Carr beat Wilkens, 6—3, 6—4, 7—5.

Men's doubles, finals—Waidner and Neely beat Hayes and Peters 4—6, 6—0, 6—3, 4—6, 9—7.

Women's doubles, semi-finals—Misses Steever and Hoyt beat Misses Young and Newell, 6—1, 6—1; Misses Smith and Phillips beat Misses Brunson and Krekel, 6—2, 6—2.

Mixed doubles, first round—Miss Young and Mr. Ricker beat Miss Butler and Mr. Foster, 12—14, 6—0, 8—6. Semi-final round—Mrs. Barnes and Mr. Naylor beat Miss Hinz and Mr. Rehdeffer, 6—2, 6—0.

The program for this afternoon calls for the semi-final and final round in men's singles, the challenge match in women's singles, and the finals in women's doubles.

MAY NOT PLAY IN AUSTRALIA.

Dwight F. Davis Says There Is Doubt as to This Country Sending Tennis Team to the Antipodes.

New York, July 16.—A cable message from George R. Mewburn, secretary of the English Lawn Tennis association, states that a letter has been received there from Dwight F. Davis, which casts doubt upon this country sending a team to Australia. The cable indicated that unless the chosen American team consented to make the voyage to Australia if it won from England, the English and American preliminary ties would be canceled. The Englishmen apparently are as much surprised as the Americans at this turn of affairs. When asked to make some statement as to the prospect [illegible] Robert D. Wrenn of the committee, said [illegible] tainty [illegible] be the decision of the American committee.

Hackett and Little Victors.

New York, July 16.—H. Hackett and R. D. Little won the doubles title at Sea Bright. They defeated Nathaniel W. Niles and Arthur S. Dabney Jr., 6—3, 6—4, 6—4. [illegible] singles [illegible] meet W. J. Clothier, holder of the trophy.

Paul Gardner Is Defeated.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 16.—The feature of the play for the tennis championship of Western Pennsylvania was the work of Percy Street, who defeated Paul Gardner of Chicago in straight sets, 6—2, 6—1, 6—3.

WOOD AND PHELPS IN FINAL BATTLE

Homewood Player to Keep Glen View Cup if He Wins Match Today.

ROBERT HUNTER BEATEN.

BY J. G. DAVIS.

One more formidable bunker in the person of Mason E. Phelps, the western amateur champion, lies between Warren K. Wood and permanent possession of the Glen View trophy, for which these players will battle at thirty-six holes today.

Both men won by comfortable margins in the semi-final rounds yesterday, Phelps defeating his clubmate, Kenneth P. Edwards of Midlothian, 6 and 4, while the Homewood crack disposed of Robert E. Hunter of Midlothian, 5 and 4. Both victories came at the fourteenth or "roost" hole, so that both losers had something akin to game finishes.

Fraser Hale, the smiling Skokie youngster, and E. A. Eulass, the Calumet veteran, won their way into the final for the Director's cup, the former defeating E. B. Bradshaw of Jackson Park, 10 and 8, and the latter winning from D. T. Magill of Jackson Park, 3 and 2.

Bishop Defeats Price.

H. W. Bishop of Edgewater, defeated E. Price of Waukegan, 4 and 3, in the Lear cup semi-finals, and C. C. Davis of Glen View downed H. W. Finney of Exmoor, 10 and 8.

Hunter, who was handicapped in his match with Wood by an attack of hay fever, gave the Homewood champion an interesting battle for twenty-seven holes, but from that point on he made four mistakes which lost him four holes and the match. The turning point came at the twenty-seventh hole of the match, at which Wood drove over the reservoir 250 yards to the green and then holed his mashie approach from fifty-five feet for a two, Hunter being stone dead to the hole on his second. This put Wood two up. Then Wood drove 270 yards for the tenth hole and put his second on the green. Hunter who drove 250 yards sliced his iron second to the rough, and over-approaching lost, 5—4.

The eleventh hole, 182 yards, went to Hunter, 3—4, Wood rimming on his long third, while Hunter sent his third from seven feet decisively into the cup. Hunter topped his tee shot for the twelfth, but might have halved had not Wood holed a twelve foot putt and won, 4—5. On the long thirteenth, 533 yards, both were on the green with prettily pitched thirds, but Hunter foozled a three foot putt and lost, 5—6. Wood drove to the fourteenth green, 167 yards, while Hunter overpitched into the long grass, and could only beat his ball out to the edge of the green. Wood won, 3—5, and the match was over.

Wood Makes "Inhuman" Putt.

Both men played evenly going out in the afternoon, which Wood started with a lead of two from the morning round. Wood nearly jumped a dead stymie on the second hole, but lost, 4—3. Wood took the next hole, 396 yards, Hunter being short on his approach from off the green, and losing, 5—4. Hunter regained a hole at "Old Hickory," Wood sending his third close to a tree, near the boundary line to the right of the green, and losing, 7—6. Hunter missed a four foot putt for a three on the next hole, and got a half. Fours at the next hole were followed by Wood's "inhuman" putt on the ninth green.

Both men played steady golf in the morning, although a seven on the third hole and a six on the ninth marred Hunter's medal play card. The cards:

Morning—
Wood—Out	4	3	5	4	5	6	3	6	3	—39
Hunter—Out	4	3	7	4	4	5	5	6	6	—44

Edwards Easy for Phelps.

Phelps, after winning four of the first five holes from Edwards, never was in danger. He was 4 up at the turn and 3 up at the luncheon interval. In the afternoon he won three of the first four holes and had the game on ice. He came home fast and on his morning figures for the four unplayed holes would have notched a 76. Edwards was woefully off in his putting. The cards:

Morning:
Phelps, out	4	3	4	3	4	6	3	6	4	—37
Edwards, out	5	3	5	5	5	6	3	5	4	—41

Hale in Close Match.

Bradshaw gave Hale a close run for nine holes, turning 1 up with 42 to 43 by the youngster. Hale won five of the incoming holes and Bradshaw one, having 33 to 36 by the Jackson Park player. Hale won six of the first nine holes in the afternoon and the veteran conceded him the match.

Eulass made a good uphill fight against Magill, as the "dominie" had him 3 down in the morning. In the afternoon Eulass took the third, fourth, and fifth holes and squared. Magill won the ninth and turned 1 up. Eulass took the eleventh and thirteenth and by getting the sixteenth 4—5, one under bogey, won the match.

First and second rounds for the Oak Glen cup resulted as follows:

Oak Glen cup—First round—G. Copeland, Skokie, defeated J. J. Badenoch, 6 and 5; H. R. Fuller won from Dr. J. E. Nyman by default; L. J. Hopkins, Skokie, defeated P. M. McCann, Jackson Park, 3 and 1; R. R. Markley, Elmhurst, defeated T. J. Coyle, Jackson Park, 1 up, 19 holes; Dr. G. W. Mosher, Windsor, defeated Dr. W. E. Code, Westward Ho, 1 up; T. McGill, Maywood, defeated Dr. E. A. Schmuck, Jackson Park, 4 and 2; H. R. Schollenberger, Beverly, defeated L. H. Philp, Calumet, 3 and 1; C. Evans Jr., Edgewater, defeated W. C. Salisbury, Glen View, 5 and 4.

Second round—Copeland beat Fuller, 8 and 6; Hopkins beat Markley, 4 and 3; Mosher beat McGill, 1 up, 19 holes; Evans beat Schollenberger, 8 and 4.

Finals for all the cups will be played today, and the annual competition for the North Branch trophy, at thirty-six holes. A mixed foursome is scheduled for the afternoon.

Martin Breaks Record.

Playing in a foursome with M. J. Barker Jr. against George R. West and A. J. Samuelson, Runcie B. Martin yesterday broke both the professional and amateur records for the Jackson park course, notching a 67. The professional record was 71 and the amateur 74, the bogey being 81. Martin's card was as follows:

Out	4	5	4	3	4	3	5	3	4—35
In	3	3	4	2	5	4	4	3	4—32—67

Miss Steele Wins at Homewood.

In the handicap against women's bogey at Homewood yesterday, Miss Ruth Steele was first 7 up, returning a card of 95 medal play. Miss Inez Adams, Miss Charlotte Smith, and Mrs. George B. Grosvenor were tied for second place, even up. In the play-off of the final for the Lindman cup, Mrs. George Haskell won from Mrs. George B. Grosvenor, 1 up, 20 holes. This makes the third time Mrs. Haskell has won the cup, and she therefore becomes the permanent owner.

Events for Today.

The first round for the R. W. Walker cup is scheduled for this afternoon at the Evanston Golf club. E. P. MacPherson will meet F. Arnd and C. L. Angle plays J. A. Childs. G. H. LOCAL BOYS IN SEATTLE MEET

Irons, Chapman, McCartney, and Sauers in Y. M. C. A. Events.

EXPECT TO CUT A FIGURE.

Loop Boys Count on Points in Dashes, Half Mile, and Relay Races.

The Central Y. M. C. A. will be represented by H. Irons, Chapman, McCartney and Sauer in the National Y. M. C. A. championships, which will be held in Seattle July 23 and 24. Besides taking part in the individual events this quartet will compete in the open one mile relay race.

H. Irons, brother of Frank Irons, the C. A. A. crack, and Sauer will take part in the dashes. Both are capable of good performances and have covered 100 yards close to ten seconds. Sauer also will compete in the 440 yard, which is considered his strongest event. Chapman also may run in the quarter if it does not come too close to the half mile. Chapman is a good half miler and has covered the distance close to two minutes, and Coach Pearson is depending upon him to win this event.

McCartney will run in the half mile, but Pearson intends to save him as much as possible for the relay. He is a fair half miler and may win points in this event, as he has been doing grand work in training. If this contest comes too close on the relay Pearson intends to keep him out of this race altogether, as he says he has a mighty good chance to win the relay with this quartet.

The Y. M. C. A. coach said yesterday that he expected to win many points with these athletes if they live up to the work they have done in practice. He said the athletes are all in good shape and fit for keen competition. The quartet and Pearson will leave for Seattle today.

LEGG AND GUINAND IN FINAL.

Minneapolis and Des Moines Golfers to Meet for the Transmississippi Championship Today.

Des Moines, Ia., July 16.—Harry M. Legg of the Minkahda club of Minneapolis and Bernard G. Guinand of the Waveland club of this city will meet in the final round to determine the ninth annual championship of the Transmississippi Golf association over the course of the Des Moines Golf and Country club tomorrow.

In the semi-finals Legg defeated Hyde of the Wichita Country club, 10 up and 8, and in the other match Guinand triumphed over Abbott of the Omaha Country club, after thirty-six holes of sensational golf, by one up.

The Hyperion club of Des Moines won the Brock cup, emblematic of the team championship of the Transmississippi with a score of 23 down against bogey. Four men played on each team and over thirty-six holes. The Omaha Country club was second with 33 down. The Denver Country club was third with 42 down, and Waveland club of Des Moines fourth with 47 down.

In the semi-final round of the championship flight consolations Ralph Rider of Waveland, Des Moines, defeated Dwight Baker, Ottumwa Country club, 1 up, and J. J. Elbert, Des Moines Golf and Country club, beat W. H. Ammons, Hyperion, Des Moines, 4 up and 3.

MATCH TO SMITH AND BARKER.

New York, July 16.—Alex Smith, Wykagyl Country club, and H. H. Barker, Garden City Golf club, proved more than a match for Isaac Mackie, Fox Hills Golf club, and John Hobens, Englewood Golf club, in the big four ball professional match at the Fox Hills links today, winning the thirty-six hole contest by five up and four to play.

In the morning they had a best ball of 64, which was nine strokes under the par of the course. Even the best ball of the losing pair, 69, was four strokes under the par of the course, while Smith had an individual score of 69, Barker 73, Mackie 75, and Hobens 76.

In the afternoon the winners had 33—35—68 and the losers 34—35—69. Barker got a 3 on the 539 yards thirteenth hole, being hole high on his second and running down a thirty yard approach.

COFFROTH HURT IN ACCIDENT.

Coast Fight Promoter Receives Wrenched Leg When Thrown from Auto—Kaufmann In Bad.

San Francisco, Cal., July 16.—[Special.]—Fight Promoter Coffroth had a narrow escape today, when his auto, containing himself, Referee Eddie Smith, and Harry Monahan, a turfman, overturned on the road from Colma to Frisco. Coffroth was thrown into an open sewer that was being constructed and had his left leg badly wrenched. The others were cut about the head and bruised. The escape of all three was miraculous.

Al Kaufmann made a huge mistake in taking Morris Levy as his manager to succeed Billy Delaney, because of Levy's unpopularity here. Levy was one of the original four fight promoters who used to pay Abe Ruef's boodling supervisors a liberal bonus for the privilege of pulling off fights in San Francisco. When Schmitz and Ruef were exposed Levy confessed to Heney all about the payments to Ruef, and on the facts he gave other promoters, Graney, Coffroth, and Willis Britt were indicted.

Now Britt has issued a manifesto that he will not permit Ketchel to fight Kaufmann while Levy is Al's manager, and other managers probably will follow suit.

Wrestling Bout to Callender.

Bloomington, Ill., July 16.—[Special.]—Charles Callender of Chicago, known as the "Mysterious Conductor," threw Bob Faulkner, the Canadian champion, in a wrestling bout tonight, getting the first two falls.

American Polo Team Honored.

LONDON, July 16.—The Meadowbrook polo team that was victorious in the recent contests for the American polo cup and the members of the British team that played against them were entertained at luncheon today at the Savoy hotel by the Pilgrims' society. The greatest good feeling was manifested towards the Americans, who were warmly cheered.

Relay Race at Riverview Park.

Manager Harman of Riverview rink has twelve teams for his fifteen minute relay race for tonight. Four of the teams are so evenly matched that the roller fans cannot pick a winner. The track record of six and one-fourth miles in the allotted time is expected to be broken.

Cricket Games for Today.

The Hyde Park and Wanderers teams, leaders in the local cricket championship series, will meet this afternoon at Fifty-second street and Cottage Grove avenue. The South Park eleven will meet the Chicago club at Ogden park.

Dixon, 4; Galena, 3.

SIC SEMPER GLORIO BASEBALLUS.

Can this possibly be the same Dave Altizer that the south side paranoiacs wanted to garrote a few days ago for "deliberately" tossing away a game which the White Sox otherwise might have won?
Can this be the "skull" and the "bone nut,"
The slob with the petrified bean,
With a brain like a hole in a doughnut
And an aspect unspeakably mean;
Whom the fans had consigned to the minors—
Or, worse, to a job on a truck—
Who made his teammates look like shiners
And shouldered their load of hard luck?
Can this be the bloke they're now lauding
Can this be the cheese they're applauding
That erst had the noodle of stone?

ANTICIPATING LONDON TITBITS.

It so happened that an American millionaire's younger son, whose elder sister had married an English middle name with a bunch of initials fore and aft, was assigned to the job of entertaining brother-in-law, whose presence was necessary in the settlement of an estate which encompassed some De Koven street property.

And what should the younger son up and do but carry brother-in-law off to a baseball game, or two baseball games, one coming right after the other, to speak soothly.

The first game was played and the home club was disposed of, 1 to 0.

There was a movement in the seats and the portion of kippered herring woke up. "I say," he said, "is it all over?"

"No," said the terrible infant, "this is only the tea interval." [Lawfter.]

We don't think he would be interested in your tunnel project, and as for selling him the corner lots in the lake front subdivision, that, of course, is out of the question, as they were bought up last week by a man from Dubuque. We mean to protect our rights in Mr. Hall. We saw him first. Did you see the steeplejack polishing the gold figure on the top of Montgomery Ward's tower yesterday? If you think we are going to cut Mr. Hall in two with anybody you must have chiggers in your "chooting gallery."

JEFF AND JACK HERE TODAY WITH CHANCE TO TALK FIGHT.

O'Leary Says Pugilists Will Meet, but It Is Doubtful—Big Fellows Should Stop Gulling the Public.

James J. Jeffries and Jack Johnson, whose chief claim to public attention is their reiterated willingness to meet each for the heavyweight title, will be in Chicago today and efforts are being made to lead the long suffering public to believe they will talk fight "to" and not "at" each other.

Jeffries and his sparring partner are billed for exhibitions at Luna park, and Promoter Jim O'Leary, through a "trusty," announces he has assurances that Johnson will appear at the park to talk over the situation with Jeffries. By telephone from Cedar Lake, where he is sojourning, last night the big negro asserted he would be in the city and willing to meet Jeff at any newspaper office, but not in any public place. So the dear public may take its choice.

Jeffries and Johnson were in town once before and no effort was made to bring them together. At that time Jeffries was under theatrical contract for a long tour and had at least a semblance of an excuse. The conditions now have changed. If Jeffries really intends to fight the negro, and the advertising possibilities of that proposition are about exhausted unless he makes some definite movement, he has the opportunity right now in Chicago.

O'Leary holds a forfeit of $10,000 in behalf of Johnson—at least it is so announced. Plenty of promoters are ready to stage the bout and offer a suitable purse. If both really want to fight it looks easy to those unaccustomed to the ways of pugilists. And if one or the other of the men does not want or intend to fight it's about time to stop gulling the public.

GIVES SHARKEY POKE IN NOSE.

Boy of 19 Brings Claret from Ex-Prize Fighter for Jostling Mother in Big Crowd.

Providence, R. I., July 16.—[Special.]—An incident not down on the cards was pulled off at Woonsocket racetrack this afternoon when Edward Tingley, a 19 year old boy, drew off and struck Tom Sharkey, the prizefighter, full in the face. Sharkey has several horses at the track, where a five day harness meeting was concluded today. The races were over and the people were crowding and jostling to the cars outside the grounds. Tingley, a son of Stephen L. Tingley of East Providence, was escorting his mother to a car. Sharkey bumped against her nearly knocking her off her feet. This was too much for the boy and he shot out a straight blow from the shoulder, catching the big fighter on the nose, bringing the claret. The pair went to the ground beside the car. Then they were separated.

SAYERS AND GOODMAN MATCHED

Maurice Sayers of Milwaukee and Danny Goodman will battle in the windup of the boxing show to be held under the auspices of the Columbia Athletic club at Hammond, Ind., on the afternoon of July 24. The match was closed by "Kid" Howard, matchmaker of the club, last night, and the boys will weigh in at 130 pounds at 10 o'clock on the morning of the day of the fight.

Morrie Bloom, the local boy who put up such a good fight in the recent show at Hammond, will hook up with some good boy at the next carnival to be given in Memphis. His opponent has not yet been selected.

Galligan and Trendall Draw.

Kansas City, Mo., July 16.—Joe Galligan of Chicago and Harry Trendall of St. Louis fought ten rounds to a draw tonight. In a preliminary bout Ed Ryan of Chicago knocked out Roxey Roath of Sedalia, Mo., in the fourth of a scheduled six round contest.

Keyes Has Better of Marto.

New York, July 16.—Bert Keyes, formerly a Philadelphia lightweight, but now of this city, had no trouble in getting to Johnny Marto in any of the ten rounds they fought tonight at the Fairmount Athletic club. Keyes forced the pace at all stages.

O'Brien and Flynn Matched.

DENVER, Colo., July 16.—"Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien and Jim Flynn of Pueblo will fight ten rounds in the Auditorium in this city on July 20, according to announcement made today.

Ten horses are scheduled to start in the $5,000 Empire City handicap tomorrow. Unless some are withdrawn these horses will face the barrier: Alfred Noble, King's Daughter, Effendi, Fashionplate, Maltbie, Arasee, Fountainblue, Restigouche, Live Wire, and Arcite. The distance is one mile and a furlong. Summaries:

Sixth race, 1 mile—Eschau, 94 [McCahey], 8 to 1, won; Rye, 103 [Dugan], 6 to 1, second; Hans, 111 [Taplin], 3 to 5, third. Time, 1:41 4-5. Gild, Mirzer, Oriental Queen, Nattie Bumppo, Fond Heart, and Killiecrankie ran.

RACE RESULTS AT FORT ERIE.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 16.—Heavy thunder showers swept over the Fort Erie track just after the third race. "Hunch" players so persistently backed Great Heavens in the next event that he closed an equal favorite with Old Honesty. Great Heavens finished in the ruck, the event going to W. A. Leach. Summaries:

First race, 1 1-16 miles—Caper Sauce, 7 to 2, won; Cannie Maid, 1 to 2, second; Billberry, 9 to 1, third. Time, 1:48 3-5.

Second race, steeplechase—Bergeo, 9 to 1, won; John Dillon, 8 to 5, second; Creolin, 5 to 1, third. Time, 3:46 4-5.

Third race, ¾ mile—Mystifier, 6 to 1, won; Tremargo, 6 to 1, second; Light Blue, 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:13 1-5.

GLIDDENITES HIT BIG CITY OF MILLS

WILL REST FOR TWO DAYS

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Minneapolis, Minn., July 16.—[Special.]—Glidden tour cars are parked tonight on the parade not to have their tarpaulin covers removed until Monday morning, when they will start the sixth day's task of the sixth annual A. A. A. reliability tour. All the drivers, observers, and officials practically are to be the guests of the Minneapolis Auto club during Saturday and Sunday, an elaborate program of events having been planned.

The longest run of the tour was today, a distance of 177.8 miles, and it was one of the least eventful, the schedule of eight hours and fifty-seven minutes being easy for all cars that were not too badly wrenched in the Wisconsin battle with hills and water breaks.

As a result of the work of the contest committee on the belated reports from yesterday and the few penalties that were incurred today, seven of the contesting cars that started last Monday from Detroit have been penalized while two machines, the Hupmobile No. 106 and the McIntyre No. 110, were formally withdrawn from the competition.

Poor Roads to La Crosse.

Working on spring clips yesterday and small hills incurred for materials added penalties of the machines that negotiated the poor roads to La Crosse. Today's climbing in the La Crescent hills put the quietus on the Hupmobile's efforts to continue on the tour. The radiator boiled and Driver Steinman was compelled to give up the journey after getting eight miles out of La Crosse. The Jewel runabout had some outside labor done on it and this item alone cost it 3.8 points.

One accident marred the otherwise glorious run through Minnesota's "fields of waving grain." W. L. Conklin, acting as pilot of the auxiliary confetti car in place of Norton Reves, was hurled from his seat alongside A. J. Ray near Wastedo when the E. M. F. struck an unseen obstruction in the road and was sent off the course and into a grain field. Conklin's ankle was slightly sprained. The car was not injured in any way.

Winona and Rochester, of all the cities and towns passed through today, gave the Gliddenites the reception and cheering that was expected. Much of the route was through rich agricultural districts, where the houses were scarce. But if St. Paul was cold—probably because her rival had the honor of entertaining the tourists two days—Minneapolis made up for it with its reception committees, motor parades, etc.

Program for Today.

Tomorrow morning the tourists will visit Minnehaha and Fort Snelling. In the evening there will be the biggest motor car parade the city ever attempted, following the special exhibition harness races at Savage, Minn. On Sunday there will be an automobile parade to Lake Minnetonka. After Sunday dinner the tourists will be the guests of the Automobile Country club.

HIGHLAND WINS IN BIG SHOOT.

Chicago Team Is Tied for Third with New Glarus, Wis., with 1,199 Out of Possible 1,500.

Highland, Ill., July 16.—[Special.]—The Highland team won the prize for the team shoot in the Central Sharpshooters' union over champions and others, as a result of which this city was illuminated tonight and an entertainment was given at Turner hall. The results of the teams' contesting today were:

Highland No. 1, 1,222; St. Louis No. 1, 1,216; New Glarus, Wis., 1,199; Chicago, 1,199; Davenport, Ia., 1,195; Monticello, Ill., 1,162; Highland No. 2, 1,134; Milwaukee, 1,113; St. Louis No. 2, 1,100; Monroe, Wis., 1,099; Swiss Rifle club, St. Louis, 1,058; Swiss Rifle club No. 2, 864.

The highest individual score was by Capt. J. G. Bardil of Highland, the winning team. The shooting was on a 200 yard range offhand, six men to the team, with 1,500 a possible score.

HARNESS RACES AT CLEVELAND.

Cleveland, O., July 16.—[Special.]—Major Mallow, 2:05¼, broke the Rockport track record this afternoon when he won the free-for-all pace in 2:06¼ and 2:09¾. Last year Hedgewood Boy paced this track in 2:08¼. Summaries:

2:09 pace—

Twenty-two Boats Entered in Feature Event of Columbia Yacht Club—First Trip to Milwaukee.

BY JOHN G. DE LONG.

The motor boat enthusiasts will come into their own today when the big relay race to Green Bay is to be started under the auspices of the Columbia Yacht club. It will be the principal event of the season for the jump spark devotees, and that they are taking a keen interest in the affair is evidenced by the fact that twenty-two cabin cruisers have been nominated for the upshore dash. Twenty-three originally were entered, but one owner withdrew his boat and broke the hoodoo. The entries follow:

Class A, 46 feet and over—Arapahoe, Davies syndicate, Col. Y. C.; Nais, Robert Tarrant Jr., Col. Y. C.

Class C, 32 to 38 feet—Sylvia, Rapp & Avery, Col. Y. C.; Uandi, Charles L. Bliss, J. P. Y. C.; H. B. D., Barkhausen & Hurlbut, Green Bay Y. C.; Animal, Maize, Joyce & Kreiter, J. P. Y. C.

Class D, under 32 feet—Quickstep, J. W. McLaughlin, Col. Y. C.; Dose, A. A. Vorum, Col. Y. C.; Treeofus, R. H. Peterson, Col. Y. C.; Twister, George Spinks, J. P. Y. C.; Nayade, S. B. Duryee, Col. Y. C.; Winnetka, Ayres Boal, Chicago Y. C.; Francesca, Searles & Hamm, J. P. Y. C.; Myrtle B., M. J. Bates, Col. Y. C.; Bub, McLeod & Clumpp, Calumet P. B. C.; Wee-Wee, Dr. J. H. Greer, Col. Y. C.

The first boat is scheduled to start at 5:45 a. m., while the scratch boats will leave at 7 o'clock. Leroy Cook and M. J. Bates are to be the starters, while the judges will be R. E. Jones and Ray Winship. The first day's run will be to Milwaukee, where the fleet will tie up until Tuesday morning, when a start is to be made for Two Rivers. The third day's run will be to Sturgeon Bay, while the fourth leg will be to the finish at Green Bay.

E. S. Osborn, chairman of the Columbia club power boat committee, was busily engaged last night in figuring out the time allowances of the boats measured during the day.

C. Fred Weed yesterday issued the entry list for the second annual cruise of the White Lake Yacht club from Chicago to White Lake Saturday, July 31. The entries follow: Nyantic, Thetis, Evanston, Josephine, Chloris, Valkyria, Widsith, Vixen, Iroquois, Jungfrau, Windward, Vandal, La Rita II., Sioux, Wenonah, We're Here.

George R. Peare announced yesterday that his twenty-one footer La Rita II. will compete in the Lipton cup races next month. The boat will fly the colors of the I. A. C. and it will be sailed by Roy Barcal, who already has begun drilling his crew.

Draw in Cricket Match.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 16.—On a rain soaked wicket, the Zingari cricketers of Toronto managed to hold their wickets long enough today to insure a draw with the Pilgrims at the Germantown Cricket club. The Canadians were retired with a total of 193 runs, five less than were scored by the Pilgrims, or All-Philadelphians, in the first inning yesterday. G. H. Southam of Toronto scored 54 runs.

Lacrosse Game at Cubs' Park.

A good game of lacrosse is anticipated at Cubs park tomorrow, when the Chicago team tackles the Shamrocks in the fourth contest of the season in the Comiskey cup series. These two teams were all primed for a meeting on July 5, but rain and wet grounds prevented.

Morganfield, Ky., Buys Pearl.

Mount Vernon, Ill., July 16.—[Special.]—Pitcher Pearl of Holy Cross has been sold to Morganfield, Ky. While pitching for Mount Vernon Merchants he lost only one game this season.

SPECTATORS JEER JUDGES' VERDICT

TROUBLE IN 2:06 PACE.

Two Favorites and One Second Choice Reward Bettors by Winning.

Aurora, Ill., July 16.—[Special.]—Getaway day was a big day for the bettors at Aurora. Favorites scored in the feature race, the 2:06 pace, and in the 2:28 trot, while in the 2:17 trot a well played second choice came home a winner.

Despite the fact they were winning, the talent let out an awful roar in the second heat of the 2:06 pace, when the judges declared Flying Jim the winner over the big bay gelding Spill, the overwhelming favorite. Many had laid 10 to 3 on Spill for the heat. Some 3,000 excited people shouted harsh names at the officials. When J. B. Taylor of Sedalia, Mo., owner and driver of Spill, dashed up the steps of the judges' stand to protest the crowd was stirred into fresh anger.

Flying Jim had taken the first heat. In the second mile Taylor laid low with Spill until the head of the stretch and then began a hard drive. One hundred yards from the wire he collared Flying Jim and as they shot under the wire, Spill apparently won by a neck. Summaries:

FEATURE WON BY SONOMA GIRL.

McMahon Beats Out Geers in Stretch Drive of Race at Terre Haute Track.

Terre Haute, Ind., July 16.—Sonoma Girl won handily in the feature event of the closing day of the Great Western circuit meeting. Although Sterling McKinney set the pace in both heats, McMahon beat out Geers in the stretch. Spanish Queen was a contender. Hedgewood Boy and Lady Maud C. went to beat the world's pacing team record of 2:05¼, and turned the mile half a second slow in 2:06 flat.

POINT TO TRADE INCREASES

Dun's Review Finds Signs of Accumulating Strength.

HIGH PRICES; GREAT CROPS.

Farmers Prosperous as Result; Bank Deposits Are High.

In the weekly review of Chicago trade Dun's Review, published by R. G. Dun & Co., will say in today's issue:

"The usual indexes of trade activity continue to reflect accumulating strength and better disposition towards increasing active capacity in manufactures. Weather conditions favor the growing crops and marketings of farm products are well sustained, those of live stock showing considerable increase.

"The markets for breadstuffs remain quiet, but packing is more extended, and there is good absorption of provisions for both domestic and export consumption. High temperatures stimulated demand for seasonable needs in the leading retail lines, and there is ample reduction of merchandise stocks here and at interior points.

"Wholesale trade in the principal staples promises to show expansion. Buyers come forward in large numbers and the demand is strong in textiles, clothing, footwear, food products, and furniture. Compared with this time last year there is larger forwarding of goods to country stores, while current bookings indicate gain in deliveries to be made of fall and winter lines.

Farmers Are Prosperous.

"High prices and reasonable assurance of great crops make a remarkably prosperous position in agriculture, and this encourages more effort in the distribution of finished products and farm needs.

"Money reflects a firmer tone in rates for commercial paper, offerings of the latter increasing. Currency shipments have also expanded, but bank deposits remain exceptionally high and funds are likely to continue adequate for ordinary operations.

"Heavy investment appears in secured issues of the packing concerns, and plans announced include large outlays for factory improvements and other new building work. Manufacturing is now more fully engaged, additions constantly being made to the machinery and hands employed.

"New demands make a notable aggregate in iron and steel, and heavy contracts are closed for locomotives, cars, and other equipment. Pig iron commands better prices, the production being under further pressure to fill contracts running through this year. Hides and leather are steady in values. Shoe factories have orders for the season, and demands improve for belting, saddlery, and leather novelties.

Movement of Grain.

"The total movements of grain at this port, 5,820,005 bushels, compared with 5,472,010 bushels last week, and 6,624,493 bushels a year ago. Compared with 1908 receipts increased 2 per cent, and shipments decreased 19.3 per cent. Flour receipts were 120,335 barrels, against 86,965 barrels last week and 138,059 barrels a year ago, while the shipments were 125,134 barrels, against 114,227 barrels last week, and 128,455 barrels in 1908.

"Receipts of live stock rose to 276,603 head, against 190,934 head last week, and 268,906 head a year ago. Wool receipts were 8,501,772 pounds, against 6,745,063 pounds last week, and 4,539,017 pounds in 1908. Receipts of hides, 2,812,213 pounds, compared with 1,903,933 pounds last week, and 2,472,075 pounds a year ago. Lumber receipts swelled to 61,523,000 feet, against 41,768,000 feet last week, and 44,203,000 feet last year.

"Compared with the closings a week ago cash prices are lower in wheat, 2 cents a bushel, and higher in oats, 1⅝ cents a bushel; corn, 3¼ cents; flour, 5 cents a barrel; lard, 5 cents a tierce; choice cattle, 10 cents a hundredweight; hogs, 15 cents; ribs, 32½ cents; sheep, 40 cents; and pork, 75 cents a barrel.

Gain in Bank Clearings.

Bank clearings, $269,236,328, exceed those of the corresponding week in 1908 by 14.7 per cent, and compare with $243,483,589 in 1907.

Failures reported in the Chicago district number 29, against 20 last week, 30 in 1908, and 21 in 1907. Those with liabilities over $5,000 number 12, against 3 last week, 10 1908, and 5 in 1907."

Industrial Activity Increases.

New York, July 16.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

"Each succeeding week has now become a record of advancing activity in industry and commerce. The extraordinary expansion in the iron and steel trade continues, and whereas a short time ago the problem was how to find business, now the problem is becoming that of meeting orders with adequate dispatch. The general business situation is improved by the progress made in the work of tariff revision.

"Rising prices in cotton goods and cotton yarns continue as an important feature in the wholesale dry goods market, advances taking place both in bleached goods and staple ginghams. Woolen and worsted fabrics are being opened for spring in men's wear and dress goods, and buyers are active. In underwear and hosiery the buying has been on a larger scale for spring and also for fall. Many knitting mills are being forced to run overtime to catch up with orders that have been held back. Jobbers have been moderately busy in house trade and particularly active on old orders. Prompt deliveries are requested on everything under order."

Business of Good Volume.

Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"Despite irregularities in crop and weather conditions, midsummer influences in trade and industry and conservatism in placing orders ahead, business is of fairly good volume for the season of the year and shows a perceptibly steady advance toward normal proportions. In retail trade clearance sales are universal, but there are numerous reports that reduced purchasing power offsets the stimulus offered by this means of inducing buying. Wholesale trade for immediate delivery and jobbing business in summer goods is of a light volume. Fall trade reports are still relatively the best of any branch. Still there are reports of a quiet in the southwest and Chicago seems to be the most active market in the country, with the northwest coming next as regards favorable reports.

"Business failures in the United States for the week ending with July 15 were 206, against 182 last week, 215 in the like week of 1908, 177 in 1907, 188 in 1906, and 165 in 1905. Canadian failures for the week number 36, as compared with 27 last week, and 28 the corresponding week of 1908."

Bank Clearings of the Week.

Bradstreet's bank clearings report for the week ending July 15 shows an aggregate of $3,002,887,000, as against $2,999,618,000 last week and $2,433,989,000 in the corresponding week last year. The following is a list of the cities:

STEEL LEADS STOCKS AGAIN

INDUSTRIALS HIGHER, TOO.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

NEW YORK, July 16.—[Special.]—Trading on the stock exchange today was dominated again by the strength and activity of the shares of the United States Steel corporation. Under the impetus of transactions above 175,000 shares Steel common rose to 72¾, 1¼ points above the closing price Thursday night, while preferred stock advanced even more vigorously, selling at 128⅝, a gain of 2⅝ points.

Some little selling, presumably in the nature of profit taking, lowered these prices a trifle before the close of the day, but the spectacle of new high records in both issues, as well as concentrated buying, again exerted a favorable influence upon the entire industrial list, which was strong and active, in sharp contrast with the greater part of the railroad section.

Nothing new in the way of explanations for the strength in steel were forthcoming, but belief in a higher dividend persists, and this, together with accumulating evidence of extreme activity in the steel trade itself, suffices to maintain the corporation's securities in speculative favor.

Railroads Move Up Briskly.

Among the railroads Louisville and Nashville and Atlantic Coast line moved up briskly upon a better understanding of the benefits which undoubtedly will accrue to both systems under the new alliance with the Hill lines, but on the other hand reports of a similar traffic arrangement between the St. Paul and Wabash by means of which the first named road secures an outlet to the east and to the gulf was without effect upon the prices of the respective stocks.

Considerable disappointment was expressed over the exceptionally poor foreign trade showing for the month of June, containing the first excess of imports—$7,158,000—reported since 1897. A more cheerful item was that dealing with the advent of rain in many parts of Texas where the long continued dry spell had seriously affected the cotton crop. On the cotton exchange prices of many options fell $1.50 a bale during the day. On the grain markets prices were lower in response to reports from all parts of the crop territory, telling of the prevalence of excellent weather conditions.

Loss of Cash by Banks Indicated.

Preliminary estimates of currency movements of the week indicate a loss of some $8,000,000 cash by local banks as a result of the return of treasury deposits and takings of gold for export, an interesting feature of the movement having been unusually small receipts of funds from the interior. Arrangements were concluded for the shipment of gold to Argentina next week, over $5,000,000 having been engaged for export on one ship. The money market so far as time loans went appeared to reflect something of this drain of cash on smaller offerings of funds and slight advances in quotations.

Money on call easy, 1¾@2 per cent; ruling rate, 1¾; closing bid, 1¾; offered at 2. Time loans stronger; 60 days, 2 per cent; 90 days, 2¼@2½; 6 months, 3¾@3½. Prime mercantile paper, 3¾@4 per cent. Sterling exchange firm with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8590@4.86 for 60 day bills and at 4.8730 for demand. Commercial bills, 4.85¼@4.85⅜. Bar silver, 51c. Mexican dollars, 44c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds irregular.

IN THE BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., July 16.—[Special.]—For some unknown reason many of the Boston coppers were active and strong today and it was apparent that a concerted effort was being made to mark up these stocks. Superior gained three points and Utah Consolidated, Centennial, LaSalle, Boston Consolidated, Isle Royale, Lake and Copper Range advanced. They followed the lead of Amalgamated. American Telephone was firm but not active. Call loans 2¼@3 per cent; time loans, shore dates, 3@3¼ per cent; time loans, six months, 3½@4 per cent; time money, year, 4@4¼ per cent.

IN THE WORLD OF FINANCE

Western Maryland Issues Bond Reorganization Proposal.

STEEL DIVIDEND TO GO UP.

Certain Directors Said to Favor Raising Profit on Common.

Business on the local stock exchange was in moderate volume and prices generally ruled steady. South Side Elevated showed fractional improvement, closing at 56. Diamond Match shares showed some improvement. Booth Fisheries stocks were only fairly active.

Known movements of money for the week indicate that the New York banks gained from the interior $6,209,000, but lost to the subtreasury $12,987,000. Of this latter amount $10,987,000 represented almost entirely the return of government deposits by the New York banks acting for their country correspondents.

The week's withdrawals of gold coin totaled $2,000,000.

Western Maryland Reorganization.

There was issued yesterday the bond reorganization plan of the Western Maryland railroad company. Following are the principal features:

The new company will issue in acquisition of the property of the old company $10,000,000 4 per cent noncumulative preferred stock, preferred as to dividends and in liquidation convertible at the option of the holder in the common stock at par and redeemable at the option of the company at par; and $28,959,560 common stock of an authorized issue of $60,000,000.

The holders of certificates of deposit for general lien and convertible 4 per cent bonds to receive:

A. For principal, 100 per cent in new 4 per cent preferred stock.

B. For unpaid overdue coupons, including the coupon Oct. 1, 1909, with interest thereon 8.36 per cent in new common stock.

The $8,274,160 cash required for payment of matured obligations, improvements, and betterments will be raised by the sale of $20,685,400 common stock to a bankers' syndicate, which will offer the same as follows:

A. To the holders of certificates of deposit for $10,000,000 Western Maryland general lien and convertible bonds, 50 per cent of their holdings; that is, $5,000,000 new stock for 40 per cent of its par value, or $2,000,000.

B. To the holders of $15,685,400 Western Maryland common stock in exchange for their old stock and on payment of 40 per cent of the par value thereof in cash, 100 per cent of their holdings; that is, $15,685,400 new common stock for $6,274,160. Total, $8,274,160.

The following securities will remain undisturbed: Western Maryland first mortgage 4s, $42,518,000; divisional bonds, $6,200,000; leased line bonds, $1,659,300; leased line guaranteed stock outstanding, $574,650; total undisturbed bonds and guaranteed stock, $50,951,950.

Dividend on Steel Common.

It is announced that certain directors of the United States Steel corporation favor increasing the common dividend at the meeting to be held on July 27. The expectation is that the rate will be raised to a 3 or a 4 per cent basis.

United States Steel shares are selling higher than ever before. The wide distribution of the stock leads to the inference that such a sustained market could only come from sources having information indicative of higher prices.

Alton Earning 6 Per Cent.

George H. Ross, vice president of the Chicago and Alton and the Toledo, St. Louis and Western, is quoted as saying:

"Estimating the results of operations in June, I figure that the Alton has earned about 6 per cent, perhaps a fraction more, on its common stock during the year just ended. We are all well satisfied with the showing. Clover Leaf has earned its preferred dividend and more, solely from transportation. Including dividends received on its holdings of Alton stock, it shows about 4 per cent on its common.

"Alton is ahead on its eleven months' gross business, while Clover Leaf has fallen a little behind; but both properties have reduced their operating expenses and show a gain in net. It is true that maintenance has been lowered to, perhaps, as great an extent as the conducting transportation item, but this fact is in no sense a reflection upon the physical condition of the property. Alton and Clover Leaf are in the best condition they have yet attained.

"In the fiscal year just ended both properties have added largely to their equipment inventory. Alton has spent $1,750,000 for new locomotives and passenger cars. The engines were bought on the car trust plan, but the cost of the cars, $400,000, was paid wholly out of earnings.

"The Alton and Clover Leaf interests have no plans in mind at present for extensions. Their idea is to develop existing mileage."

Dividend Declared.

The West Pennsylvania railways company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on its preferred stock, payable Aug. 2 to holders of record July 24.

Hand Book of Securities.

The semi-annual number of the Hand Book of Securities, issued this week by the publishers of the Commercial and Financial Chronicle, contains a monthly range of prices to July of stocks and bonds sold at the stock exchanges in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Chicago, and Pittsburg. There is also a yearly range of prices for bonds and stocks sold on the New York stock exchange for the last six years and a yearly range for three and one-half years of Boston and Philadelphia prices. There is a table of dividend payments for six and one-half years.

Money and Exchange.

Money rates in Chicago are steady at 4@4½ per cent on commercial paper and local collateral loans, and 4½@5 per cent on loans over the counter.

General Financial News.

The Old Colony Street railway company of Boston has petitioned the railroad commission for authority to issue 4,042 shares of preferred stock at $115 a share.

Promoters of the proposed independent coke merger declare that success is assured. Sixty separate companies, holding seventy-five plants, with 10,000 ovens and 40,000 acres of coal, will go into the combination. The aggregate purchase price of the property, it is said, will be around $65,000,000.

Farson, Son & Co. were awarded $125,000 city of Rochester, N. Y., water works improvement notes.

Earnings of the Chicago Telephone company for the six months ended July 30 amounted to $4,021,080. Bad debts were placed at $23,394.

Stockholders of the American Woolen company ratified the sale of $5,000,000 new preferred stock. This will be offered to common and preferred shareholders at par. A meeting of the directors will be held in Boston on Monday, at which terms to shareholders will be fixed.

ITALIAN KIDNAPER IS HANGED.

Leader of "Black Hand" Gang That Beheaded Boy in Swamp Pays Penalty.

Hahnville, La., July 16.—Leonardo Gebbia, an Italian, the first person ever sent to the gallows in Louisiana for a crime committed in the name of the so-called "Black Hand" society, was hanged here this afternoon. He received the last sacraments of his religion from a priest.

Gebbia was convicted of complicity in the kidnaping and murder of Walter Lamana, 12 years old, son of Peter Lamana, an undertaken of New Orleans. The crime was committed in the name of the "Black Hand."

Three weeks after young Lamana had been spirited away his beheaded body was found near here in the swamps of St. Charles parish.

Peter Lamana, father of the murdered boy, appealed to the authorities to permit him to act as Gebbia's executioner, but was refused.

WHEAT IS A FLIGHTY AFFAIR

Armour Whipsaws the Market, Keeping Traders Nervous.

CORN LIQUIDATION HEAVY.

Shorts Were About the Only Buyers, Although the Country Bought Some.

Wheat prices fluctuated erratically and on the whole was a flighty affair all day. The final range of prices was 1½c lower to ¼c higher. By some it was called an Armour market and the trade was "whip sawed" without mercy. Net results were not great, but the general feeling is that higher prices will obtain for the deferred months and lower for July. There was more wheat offered here to arrive, but the samples submitted were of a disappointing quality and a large proportion is expected to miss grade. Most of the offerings here were from Illinois and Missouri. The southwestern markets were easier for cash wheat, declining 2@4c with arrivals aggregating 140,000 bu, against 74,000 bu last week and 346,000 bu a year ago. The July weakness was attributable to the large realizing sales in the last few days by leading longs and a prospect of quite a rush of wheat here next week.

Big Leaders Active.

Armour, Bartlett-Patten, and Peavey were heavy buyers of the cheap wheat, taking all of the distant months that the crowd had to offer, which was said to be considerable, estimated at more than 2,000,000 bu of September. At the same time the sales of other options were said to be heavy. There is getting to be a tremendous short interest in September wheat and a good many traders are now beginning to hold aloof from the short side under existing conditions. There was some fairly important buying on the bulge by sellers of upward indemnities, but that line was later dumped upon the market when prices declined. The weather in the southwest was some better, but the offerings of wheat were absorbed by commission houses on reports of large foreign buying orders and the working of a good line of wheat for export. There is now little doubt but that Europe wants and is buying our wheat.

Foreign Demand Good.

Regarding the demand from foreigners it is impossible at this time to give accurate figures as to the quantity of wheat they will require, as sellers are unwilling to give out much information on the subject. St. Louis reported a big demand for flour, with acceptances from abroad of from 50,000 brls on over night offerings. A leading authority which has investigated the damage reports said that the harvesting of winter wheat had undoubtedly been delayed by the rains, but that to the wheat in shock the loss will not be extensive except in the bottom lands of Missouri and upper Mississippi rivers. The improved weather has started thrashing in many localities. Officials of leading railroads also admitted some damage but looked for heavy marketings in the immediate future.

Liverpool Tone Firm.

The Liverpool market closed ⅛d lower to ⅛d higher and showed a firm undertone. There was some support as a result of the continued unfavorable reports from Argentina and the light shipments from there to the United Kingdom. The spot markets were firm and 1 to 2½d higher under an urgent demand and cargoes were light and in good request. Corn prices ruled steady.

Heavy Corn Trade.

There was a big trade in corn, with a great deal of liquidation by July longs on account of the disappearance of the cash premium, an absence of an eastern call, and delivery by shippers of their corn on July contracts on Thursday. Final prices were unchanged to 1⅝c lower. The decline started the September option, and Logan-Bryan, and Harris, Winthrop & Co. were heavy sellers, disposing of 500,000 bu in one lot. The shorts were about the only buyers, although the country bought September on a fairly large scale on the decline. Argentine shipments were light at 2,072,000 bu, against 3,656,000 bu last week and 1,641,000 bu last year. Local cash sales were only 40,000 bu, although the cash article in the sample market was 1c to 1½c lower, with a poor shipping demand. Peoria reported a weak market there for the cash property.

Oats were quite weak, reflecting the better weather, general harvest in the districts of large production, and a prospect of a considerable run of new oats. Closing quotations were ¼c to 1⅜c lower. Realizing and short selling combined were on a fairly liberal scale and easily worked against values. Cash oats were 1c to 1½c lower in the sample market, and local sales were 110,000 bu. The greatest weakness was in July. Prices for car lots were about 1c lower for good grades, with the poorer grades demoralized.

Barley Wanted at Advance.

Barley was in good request at 1c advance. Malting was quoted 70@73c; mixing, 66@70c, and screenings, 54@69c. Receipts were 31 cars.

Rye was quiet and unchanged. September closed at 79c bid and 80c asked. No. 2 was quoted 81@82c; No. 3, 70@79c, and No. 4, 60@69c. Receipts were 2 cars.

Flaxseed was 1⅜c higher. No. 1 northwestern closed at $1.151¾; No. 1 from the northwest, $1.50¼; and No. 1 southwestern, $1.41¾. Receipts none.

Timothy seed was quiet. September closed at $3.70 bid. Country lots, $2.75@3.80. Cloverseed was firm. July closed at $10.85 and March $11.85. Country lots, $8.00@10.25.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON CHANGE.

The Rock Island railroad crop report for the week ended July 7 follows: "Conditions as a whole during the last week have been favorable except in localities which have been flooded by the heavy rains which have caused damage to wheat and other small grain. This will be more than offset by the benefit accruing to the corn crop. The movement of new wheat is now showing some activity and indications point to the fact that there will be a great improvement during the next week, due to the present high price of wheat and the desire of farmers to get their product to market before prices decline."

Considerable cash wheat was offered here from Illinois and Missouri points, but it is expected that most of it will miss grade. Most of the wheat was offered to arrive next week. Bids were at the July price for No. 2 and 1c under for No. 3 red, but receivers feel that they can get more than this for it. One exporter here worked 17 loads of wheat for direct export. Toledo reported that there was not a notice of consignment of wheat there and not an acceptance on 1,200 bids sent out. Cash corn and oats were each 1@1½c lower.

The Modern Miller said: "The winter wheat harvest has been further delayed by rains. Damage to wheat in the shocks is principally to the quality; some loss, though to no great extent, is reported in the bottom lands of the Missouri and upper Mississippi rivers. Nearly all of the bottom crop south of St. Louis was saved. Improved weather has started thrashing in many localities."

	Wheat.	Corn.	Flax.
Last year	1,640,000	1,641,000	944,000
Since Jan. 1	86,232,000	40,840,000	31,638,000

Australian shipments of wheat for the week were 408,000 bu, compared with 172,000 bu last week and 112,000 bu the corresponding week last year. Indian shipments were 2,664,000 bu, compared with 2,296,000 bu last week and 208,000 bu last year.

Bradstreet's reported the exports of wheat and flour and corn from both coasts for the week, with comparisons, as follows:

	Wheat and Flour.	Corn.
This week	1,468,000	100,160
Last week	1,413,000	47,000
Last year	1,482,000	72,000
Since July 1	2,881,000	148,000
Last year	6,273,000	137,000

Logan and Bryan had the following from John Inglis at Wells, Minn., under date of July 15: "Through southern Minnesota all crops are good. Wheat headed and looking fine. Oats good; barley large acreage, well filled. Corn general average good, but late hay, heavy crop; much of it out. Weather fine, cooler. Small grains clean, not even leaf rust."

One house here reports that bids from abroad are too far away for business and are few at that. Largest export concern here said it had bids for only two loads and that about 3c from market. There are persistent reports, however, that wheat was sold over night to the united kingdom.

Bartlett, Patten & Co.'s Paris, France, correspondent cabled: "Rain continues. Market is oversold; think it is a good time to buy. They quote August delivery at francs 24.75, equal to about $1.30⅝ per bu; French import duty is equal to 36½c per bu."

Finley Barrell's Kansas City correspondents wired: "Railroad officials say they expect receipts of wheat to be unusually heavy next ten days. Millers confirm this and say quality will be exceptionally good."

Bartlett, Kuhn & Co. of Terre Haute, Ind., wired: "Heavy rains south of here in best wheat territory last night; won't be any more thrashing until next week with best of weather."

A leading flour exporter of St. Louis reported that he has sold a little flour, but not enough to amount to anything except that it was to good people and indicated more.

St. Louis reported sales of 50,000 brls flour over night for export and a strong bid for 40,000 brls more turned down.

Total clearances were: Wheat, none; flour, 9,000 brls; corn, 2,000 bu; oats, 3,000 bu; wheat and flour equal 41,000 bu.

Estimated receipts are: Wheat, 4 cars; corn, 244 cars; oats, 109 cars; rye, none; barley, 28 cars; and hogs, 29,000.

CATTLE.

CHICAGO, July 16.—An insignificant run of 1,500 cattle, of which 800 head were Texans direct to packers, sufficed to meet all the requirements of the trade and prices held only steady with Thursday's figures. Offerings in the steer division consisted largely of plain to indifferent offerings which cleared at from $5.00@5.80, while a few lots reached $6.00@6.25, and best beeves offered sold at $6.80, with four yearlings at $6.85. All offerings were disposed of in a comparatively short time and the market closed in good condition, with yearlings and prime handy and lightweight steers 10c higher, and the plain heavy and common light steers 10@20c lower than a week ago.

Butcher stock trade was slow and weak at a decline of 10@35c from last week's prices. Buyers discriminated against grass fed cows and heifers and salesmen found it almost impossible to secure a satisfactory bid on the few lots that were at hand. Bulls sold at a decline of 10c, with the general range of prices 25c lower than on Wednesday. Calves made steady values, with top vealers at $8.75. Quotations:

Yearling steers, good to prime	6.75@7.50
Exporters	5.00@6.70
Beef cows, good to choice	4.10@5.40
Beef cows, plain to good	3.25@4.00
Fat heifers, good to choice	4.50@6.75
Canners and cutters	2.00@3.15
Calves, common to choice heavy	3.00@5.25
Good to prime vealers	8.00@8.85
Feeding steers	4.00@5.05
Stock steers	3.25@4.40
Bulls	2.50@5.25

Cattle at six western markets, 11,900, against 11,000 a week ago, 6,600 a year ago, and 13,500 two years ago. Total for 1909 to date, 3,733,000, against 3,845,000 for the same period in 1908.

HOGS.

Prices advanced to the highest level of the year on a moderate supply of 11,000 head, and then receded to 5@10c lower than at the opening on indifferent buying by packers. Shippers and speculators came in the trade at an early hour and paid largely 10c higher than on Thursday for all desirable offerings, topping the market at $8.45, against $8.35 on the preceding session and the previous high day of the year. This gain was maintained until the bulk of the offerings had been disposed of, and the average price for the day, at $8.05, showed a net gain of 5c over Thursday's average.

Late in the session packers decided that prices were too high, and they refrained from filling orders until concessions of 5@10c from the early level had been offered them. Quality was only fair, and the large percentage of mediocre mixed hogs included in the receipts was partly responsible for the weak finish of th market. Packers made up their droves of mixed hogs at from $7.70@8.00, getting the bulk of the good grades at from $7.90@7.97½. Shippers paid $8.15@8.45 for their butcher hogs, and packers secured good to choice heavy packing grades at from $8.10@8.40. Quotations:

Selected shippers, 230@260 lbs	8.20@8.40
Prime heavy shippers	8.25@8.45
Good to choice light	8.10@8.30

Heavy packing	8.10@8.40
Heavyweight pigs	7.30@7.60
Stags	8.00@8.40
Light pigs	6.65@7.00

Average price of hogs at Chicago, $8.05, against $8.00 Thursday, $7.88 a week ago, $6.74 a year ago, and $5.87 two years ago.

Eleven markets received 46,300 hogs, against 58,000 a week ago, 59,400 a year ago, and 76,800 two years ago. Total for 1909 to date, 13,835,000, against 16,292,000 for the same period in 1908.

SHEEP.

Sheep and yearlings met with a ready demand at steady values, while the downward course of lamb values was checked for the day, and supplies were disposed of without the necessity of making further recessions. The receipts were estimated at 8,000 head, of which packers had about 3,500 head in direct from Louisville, and the trade had a fairly active tone throughout.

Native lambs again topped at $8.00, while rangers reached $8.25, and the bulk of the offerings in the native division found an outlet at from $7.50@7.85. Sheep were wanted by all classes of buyers, and choice Idaho wethers sold at $5.30, with a few odd head at $5.50, and culls at $3.50. Ewes sold at $4.75, while yearlings reached $6.00, with heavy offerings at $5.50. Native ewes sold at from $2.00@4.90, with bulk at $4.50 and higher. Native wethers in odd lots made $5.00@5.25, and yearlings reached $6.00. The trade had a fairly active tone, and a clearance of the offerings was effected at an early hour. Quotations:

Native wethers	$4.65@5.15
Native yearlings	5.00@6.00
Native ewes	3.50@4.50
Range wethers	4.50@5.25

Receipts for July 17 were estimated at 400 cattle, 10,000 hogs, and 3,000 sheep, against actual arrivals of 50 cattle, 15,193 hogs, and 2,570 sheep for Saturday, July 18, 1908.

ON THE BOARD OF TRADE.

Provisions ruled a little lower on considerable realizing by longs among local speculators. The range at the close was at from 2c to 7c lower. The demand for cash meats was not so good, and did not follow the last bulge of ½c in ribs. The market for fresh meats was also much lower. Good support was lacking until a fair decline was established when the packing interests absorbed most of the offerings of ribs and pork. This buying caused a partial recovery. Western receipts were 41,800, against 53,300 head a year ago.

Chicago Horse Market.

Demand continued of good volume and all receipts were readily taken at fully steady prices. Eastern buyers gave the market sterling support and competed against local traders with sufficient spirit to give the market a buoyant tone at the prices. Sales of drafters were made at from $175.00@250.00, with the bulk of the prime lots clearing within a range of from $225.00@250.00. Drivers sold at from $150.00@300.00, with exporters taking fancy offerings at from $250.00@350.00 for shipment to England. Receipts for five days were increased to 1,196 head, against 496 for the same days a week ago.

IN THE PRODUCE MARKETS.

EGGS.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Sellers had the upper hand in the market for fancy fresh eggs, but found it difficult to dispose of the cheaper grades without making concessions. Receipts were 11,824 cases.

Prime firsts	21c	Do firsts	20c

NEW YORK, July 16.—EGGS—Irregular; receipts, 10,104 cases; state, Pennsylvania, and nearby, brown and mixed fancy, 27c; western seconds, 19@21c. BUTTER.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Speculators and city retailers afforded an outlet for all the fancy grades of creamery butter received. The trade was active and the market had a good healthy tone. Quotations:

Dairies, extra	23½c	Do firsts	23¼c
Creamery, extras	26c	Do seconds	22½c
Extra firsts	25c	Packing	19c

NEW YORK, July 16.—BUTTER—Steady; receipts, 9,245 tubs; creamery, third to first, 23@26c; western factory, first, 21c. Butter in Philadelphia firm; extra western creamery, 28½c; do nearby prints, 30c.

CHEESE.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Offerings were taken at full prices, and the market was free of accumulations. Quotations:

Western twins	13¾@14c	Longhorns	14½@14¾c
Daisies	14½c	Swiss	18@19c
Young America	14¼@15c	Limburger	12¾@13c

POULTRY.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Moderate receipts sufficed to fill the requirements of the trade at steady prices. Retailers and dressers were only fair buyers, and the action of the market was quiet. Quotations:

Live chickens	13½c	Dressed chickens	13@13½c
Spring	18@19c	Do turkeys	16c
Do roosters	9c	Do ducks	10@13c
Do turkeys	14c	Do geese	7@8c

Peppers, per box	50@75c	Sweet corn, brls	$1.00@3.00

FRUITS.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Berries were in active request and they sold without difficulty at firm prices. Peaches were in more liberal supply and fair demand at lower prices. Gem melons met with better favor. Quotations:

STRAW.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Rye, $9.50@10.50; oat, $7.50@8.50; and wheat, $6.50@7.50.

Groceries.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Attendance of buyers was more liberal, and business in all branches of the staple grocery trade made a better showing than on the preceding day. Buying of canned corn, peas, and tomatoes for immediate consumption was of generous proportions, and holdings of last year's crop goods were decreasing rapidly. Firmness prevailed in all departments of the market for cereals, but business was confined to narrow limits, few of the buyers being anxious to take on large lines at prevailing prices.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Offerings were taken at unchanged values. Following were the ruling prices in wholesale circles, quotations being on 100 lb lots: Standard granulated, beet and cane, $5.14@5.24; cut loaf, H. & E., $6.17; standard powdered, $5.55; extra C, $4.75; canary, $4.55; chemically pure milk sugar, 19c per lb in brl lots.

NEW YORK, July 16.—SUGAR—Raw, steady; fair refining, 3.42c; centrifugal 96 test, 3.92c; molasses sugar, 3.17c. Refined, quiet; crushed, 5.55c; powdered, 4.95c; granulated, 4.85c.

COFFEE.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Demand was of generous volume and prices were closely adhered to. Receipts at Rio for two days were 7,000 bags and at Santos 58,000 bags.

NEW YORK, July 16.—COFFEE—Spot, quiet; Rio No. 7, 7⅝@7¾c; Santos No. 4, 9c. Mild, quiet; Cordova, 9½@12½c. Futures opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 5 points on steady European cables and scattered covering in the absence of important offerings. Business was only moderately active and the market held around the initial figures, the close being steady, net unchanged to 5 points higher. Sales were reported of 24,750 bags, including July, at 7.05c, September at 5.75@5.80c, December at 5.40@5.45c, March at 5.45c, and May at 5.50c.

Dry Goods.

CHICAGO, July 16.—Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., in their weekly review of the wholesale dry goods market, said:

"Preparations for a great attendance of market buyers were completed, and most extensive assortments were displayed in all departments. Capital bookings were made for fall delivery on silk and cotton petticoats. Scarfings of printed silk mulls and crepe de chene, shown in large variety of three, four, and five colorings, were distinctly in vogue. Judging from the numerous orders received, bear skin coats, with headwear to match, for children promise to retain their popularity the coming winter. On these articles of wear advance in prices may be expected. Unusual activity was noted in printed drapery fabrics, especially in figured scrims, both in reversible and single faced goods. The demand for chamois lisle gloves was strong, shipments being absorbed upon arrival. Merchandise of cotton manufacture made a strong showing. Substantial advances may be looked for before the close of the market season."

NEW YORK, July 16.—Trading in cotton goods and cotton yarns is still of a conservative character, although prices are being marked up to a basis of 12c for cotton. Jobbers are doing a moderate trade. Retailers have been in the market, but are not plunging in any quarter. Wool in this market is being sold at top prices.

Cotton.

NEW YORK, July 16.—COTTON—Spot closed quiet, 45 points lower. Middling uplands, 12.50c; middling gulf, 12.75c; sales, 700 bales. The market opened weak at a decline of 2 points on July, but generally 15@24 points lower under a renewal of the heavy liquidation. December contracts sold at 12.25c on the call, 72 points below the high level of the week, but buying by old bulls, who had taken profits freely above 12¾c, checked the decline, and during the late forenoon the market became steadier. Then a decline carried all the new crop positions below 12c once more, with December selling at 11.92c, 47 points under the close of yesterday, and 96 points below the high figures of last Tuesday. The close was up from the lowest on covering, but sentiment was evidently nervous and unsettled. Futures opened steady and closed steady. Quotations:

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 16.—COTTON—Spots quiet and lower; middling, 12⅜c. Sales were 100 bales on the spot and 100 to arrive. Futures opened easy, 20@26 points below the close yesterday. Bullish activity and large buying orders brought about some gains, but the relief was only temporary. Hot, dry weather in Texas, which has served so long and so uninterruptedly as the big bullish factor of the market, was eliminated and a marked tendency to seek lower levels was the principal characteristic of the market. At the close, which was steady, the close was 33@44 points below the close of yesterday. Futures closed steady.

SCOT PRAISES CHICAGO POLICE.

Edinburgh Inspector Hears Much of Beauty Squad and Admires Courage in Stopping Autos.

David Scott, an inspector of the Edinburgh police force for forty years, has come to America to inspect the police methods and will remain in Chicago and vicinity for two months.

"I have heard much of Chicago's famous beauty squad," said the visitor from Scotland yesterday. "I have investigated the methods of the Oak Park police and am greatly interested in their manner of stopping speeding automobiles. During the week I have seen six motorists halt at the signal from the policeman, who stations himself in the path of the approaching machine. It takes nerve to do that."

Next week the inspector will devote his attention to the Chicago force.

HUSBAND NO. 3 MAY START SUIT?

Asks Predecessors, It Is Said, to Testify Against Mrs. Pearl Kruger-Boud-Bernard.

Mrs. Pearl Kruger-Boud-Bernard, who some months ago brought suit before Judge Carpenter for annulment of her marriage to Frank L. Boud, again is to figure in a court action, according to word received in Chicago from Des Moines, Ia., yesterday. Mrs. Kruger-Boud-Bernard was married a few months ago to Albert E. Bernard, formerly superintendent of the Corporations Auxiliary company, a private detective agency. Husband No. 3 is said to have written letters to Mr. Boud and Richard O. Kruger, the first husband, asking them to go to Des Moines to testify that the courts did not pass the woman's petition to annul her marriage with Boud.

TAILORS TO PLAY BALL TODAY.

Prizes Will Be Awarded Winners of Athletic Events at Picnic in Ravinia Park.

Silver and gold cups and purses of money will be awarded for winners in baseball games and athletic contests at the twelfth annual picnic to be given at Ravinia park today by the merchant tailoring trades of Chicago. The baseball game between the merchant tailors, led by Frank A. Roberts, captain, and the woolen and trimming merchants, with J. D. Willis as captain, will be the first of the athletic events, a gold lined silver loving cup, fifteen inches high, being the prize.

START TEST OF CEMETERY LAW.

Concordia Official Arrested and Validity of Forest Park Ordinance Will Be Determined.

The validity of the ordinance recently passed by the village board of Forest Park imposing a tax of $1 for the burial of persons who lived outside the corporate limits will be tested in a suit begun yesterday.

H. J. W. Moeller, president of the Concordia Cemetery association, was arrested charged with a violation of the ordinance, and was found guilty by Justice Schumacher, a fine of $5 and costs being imposed.

Notice of appeal to the Circuit court was given.

Fined for Accepting Bet on Race.

FOR SALE—CHICAGO LAWN HOUSES AND lots on easy payments.
You won't consider RENTING the overcoat you wear half the year. Where is the wisdom of renting the house you live in all the time?
You can buy a very good house in Chicago Lawn for a dollar a day, including interest.
THIRTY [$30] DOLLARS WILL START YOU.
Nobody can raise your rent; you have an equity from the start, and if you stick you will own the place, free and clear.
Chicago Lawn is not as fully developed as the older settled part of the city, but it's American; has 5 cent fare downtown, steam or trolley; has stores, schools, churches, lodges, social clubs, and societies, city water, gas, electric light, and telephone service.
Kedzie-av. sewer now building, costs $12 per lot. Land is high and well shaded; trees are 20 to 30 years old. Marquette Park one mile long forms our entire south boundary; it is paid for.
Nearly 5,000 people; no saloons, no factories. Our office is open every day. We invite and urge you to visit "the Lawn."
We would like to have you buy and join in building up a residence district. $5 will start you on a lot. There is no follow up system.

BANKERS TO THE PEOPLE. YOU CAN borrow money of us in small sums as well as large. Men and women Employed—Business men, too—we will give you the fairest terms in Chicago. LADIES of reputable family may EASILY BORROW on their name and promise. We will give any new patron the same consideration we have given a host of honorable borrowers of quick and emergency money in our eleven years of the people's banking business. Money for those in smaller Business lines; to Ladies of allowance or income; to Property Owners, to beneficiaries of income, legacies, etc. We are close to State-st. stores—heart of business district. Our interest is 6 per cent per year. All our charges included are within the very minimum WHICH YOUR PERSONALITY FIXES, consistent with the sum and risk involved and with justice. Straightforward and courteously we offer money to any MAN or WOMAN of honorable intention of repayment with or without security. Tel. Central 7054, or call, private offices [also ladies' room] connected with banking room, Seventh floor, 122 Monroe-st., corner Clark. WEST & COMPANY.

SALARY LOANS. SALARY LOANS.

Money to loan to better class of salaried employes and to the honest workingman, no matter what his position, on your plain note.

NO INDORSEMENT IS NECESSARY.

We will give you the fairest rates you can get in Chicago. You can pay us back in either weekly or monthly payments to suit yourself.

Our dealings are confidential and we give a written guarantee not enforce payment through your firm.

We also loan on your life insurance policies at low rates; same also bought.

LONG ESTABLISHED AND RELIABLE. Come and see us when you want a loan. MASON FINANCIAL CO., 134 Monroe-st., Room 502. Southeast corner Clark. Telephone 3516 Central.

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands, or incomes from other sources] who want large or small sums, confidentially, with or without security. My location [30 min. from loop district], and my being the President of a large manufacturing wholesale vehicle establishment [Bradstreet's and other agencies show its standing], and not a professional money lender, assures a privacy not possible to those who deal with brokers in downtown office buildings, where money lenders congregate. Professional lenders demand high rates, usually asking so much that the average straightforward citizen realizes that exorbitant charges, for any time, are burdensome. My average price, all charges positively included, is never more than 1, 2, or 3 per cent monthly, depending on risk and amount loaned. Individual waiting rooms. Ask for WILLCOXE, care The Englewood Co., 538-540 E. 63d-st., cor. Greenwood-av. Tel. Hyde Park 4333.

ALICE M. BILLINGS & CO., SUITE 811 THE TEMPLE, PHONE MAIN 467. 184 LA SALLE-ST.

Money loaned to SALARIED people on plain note, no indorser or security of any kind required.

If you learn the rates at other places and compare them with ours you will see that we SAVE YOU MONEY.

If you can pay us $20 a month we loan you $100.
If you can pay us $15 a month we loan you $75.
If you can pay us $10 a month we loan you $50.
If you can pay us $5 a month we loan you $25.
Other amounts in the same way.

DEALING STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL. NO EMBARRASSING INQUIRIES.

FIRST STATE LOAN ASSN., 134 MONROE-ST., ROOM 412. PERSONS EMPLOYED, either men or women, who are in need of money temporarily can secure a loan from us. REMEMBER, any dealings you may have with us are absolutely confidential, and a glance at the following should convince you that we are offering you money at a LOWER RATE:

You borrow $ 50, pay back $1.50 wk., $ 6.00 mo.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS.
TO THE SHAREHOLDERS OF THE COMMERCIAL NATIONAL BANK OF CHICAGO:

Please take notice that a meeting of the shareholders of the Commercial National Bank of Chicago will be held at the banking office in Chicago on Friday the 20th day of August, 1909, between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clock p. m., with power to adjourn from day to day or days, and for any number of adjournments for the purpose of submitting to such shareholders of said bank at such meeting, or any adjourned meeting thereof, the following:

[1] A proposition to increase the number of shareholders which shall constitute the Board of Directors for the current year from fourteen [14] to twenty-five [25] members, and in pursuance thereof the following resolution will be presented at such meeting, or at any adjournment thereof, viz.:

"In accordance with Article 5 of Articles of Association of this bank, as amended, which provides that the Board of Directors of this Association shall consist of not less than five nor more than twenty-five shareholders:

"RESOLVED, That the Board of Directors of the Commercial National Bank of Chicago, for the year commencing January 12, 1909, shall consist of twenty-five shareholders instead of fourteen, as heretofore provided for by a resolution adopted by the shareholders at the regular meeting held January 12, 1909."

[2] The election at such meeting, or any adjournment thereof of eleven [11] Directors to fill the Board of Directors as increased by such vote.

[3] A proposition to increase the capital stock of said bank from Three Million [$3,000,000] Dollars to Seven Million [$7,000,000] Dollars, [illegible] will be presented to said meeting, or any adjournment thereof, and the said shareholders will be asked to vote upon its adoption—viz.:

RESOLVED, That under the provisions of the act of May 1, 1886, the capital stock of the Association be increased in the sum of Four Million [$4,000,000] Dollars, making the capital stock of said Association Seven Million [$7,000,000] Dollars.

[4] A proposition for the purchase of all of the assets and the good will of the Bankers' National Bank of Chicago, [illegible] and said shareholders will be asked at such meeting, or any adjournment thereof, to authorize, ratify, confirm, and adopt the contract for such purchase, [illegible] of such purchase.

The shareholders of the Commercial National Bank of Chicago are, therefore, notified to be present at said meeting.

FOX LAKE ILL.
CHICAGO'S PLAYGROUND

A ride of less than fifty miles from Chicago, with a minimum railroad fare, lands you at Fox Lake, which connects with a number of smaller lakes extending a distance of thirty miles and surrounded by beautiful natural woods, interspersed here and there with a rugged promontory or a gentle grassy slope which makes the visitor wonder and marvel that such a magnificent array of nature should be within such ready reach of a great, hot, dusty, teeming city.

Fox Lake is the greatest resort in the middle West for the husband to leave his family while he carries on his business in the city and runs up to spend the week-end with them.

For a great many years Fox Lake has enjoyed the reputation of offering to the summer visitor the very finest of hotel accommodations. The leading hotels are as follows:

PLANNING and thinking out where and how to spend your vacation is almost as much fun as the actual vacation itself. ¶Everybody who reads The Tribune knows just where to look when they want to know all about summer resorts, trips, hotels, the best means of transportation—and what things are going to cost. ¶All these advertisements are compactly grouped together on one page of The Tribune so that they can be quickly found and easily compared. ¶All the advertisements aren't printed every day, so it is best to read the resort ads over often. ¶Not only is practically everything in the way of resorts, hotels and traveling facilities advertised in The Tribune, but if you need any further information on the subject, you can get it by merely calling at The Tribune Resort Information Bureau, Room 528 Tribune Bldg., writing or telephoning CENTRAL 100. ¶R. R. Folders, Resort Booklets, Hotel Tariffs—everything in the way of printed and verbal information will be given you for the asking.
